BATTLE POLICE IN ARGENTINE PENSION STRIKE

1 Killed in Rioting in Buenos Aires.

BUENOS AIRES, May 5.—One man is dying tonight and several others are in the hospital as the outcome of the government's efforts to enforce the new law requiring all laborers and employés to pay 5 per cent of their wages monthly toward the old age pension fund.

While 20,000 employés were making the greatest demonstration of passive resistance in Argentine history before the government house, the striking workmen began violent resistance, clashing with mounted gendarmes in several parts of the city and suburbs when troops attempted to disperse the anti-pension manifestations. Strikers fired on gendarmes in the Avenida de Mayo, within a few blocks of the congressional palace, and also in two suburbs.

There were several acts of violence early this morning in connection with the efforts of strike agitators to make it a general strike. Three street cars were burned and one train shot at. Minor shootings were reported from several outlying districts. Heavy police and marine guards are protecting the nonunion workers in the port.

Fear Food Riots.

There is considerable fear that the strikes, which were peaceful until this morning, may develop into food riots unless a settlement is reached immediately, as the shortages of bread and meat already are serious.

Buenos Aires tonight seems to be on the verge of a social and economic crisis as a result of President de Alvear's refusal to suspend the operation of the law.

With the exception of the banks, the city's business men, representing millions of dollars of capital and every branch of production, manufacture, and commerce, packed the streets and plazas surrounding the government house for an hour this afternoon, during which ten spokesmen had a meeting with Señor de Alvear, asking him to suspend the law.

The multitude was assembled to lend moral support to the committee of ten spokesmen.

Explain to President.

This committee explained to Señor de Alvear the impossibility of continuing business in view of the strikes declared by the laborers and employés. The committee later appeared before the massmeeting in the stock exchange, while thousands jammed the streets outside, unable to get in. The committee reported that Señor de Alvear stated he could not permit himself to be swayed by such a demonstration into suspending the application of a law passed by congress. The committeemen stated, however, that the president had promised that everything would be adjusted and that the cabinet already had prepared a message to congress suggesting a change in the law.

Unable to Reopen.

The chairman of the committee then recommended that in view of the president's promise every one agree to reopen their business tomorrow and await the results of the president's efforts to revise the law. The recommendation was greeted by a storm of hoots, hissing, and cat-calls.

Meanwhile the reopening of several branches of business was made impossible by widespread strikes on the part of the people who are supposed to benefit by the law.

FAMOUS STAR IN 'TWO ORPHANS' DIES SUDDENLY

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Kate Claxton, sometimes called "The Sarah Bernhardt of America," best known for her rôles in "The Two Orphans," "Camille," and "East Lynn," died suddenly this morning in her home here. The famous actress of a generation ago who was the heroine of the great Brooklyn theater fire on Dec. 5, 1876, in which 239 lives were lost, died as she would have wished, peacefully and without any illness.

Miss Claxton, or, as she was known in private life, Mrs. Charles A. Stevenson, was found dead in bed today by her sister, Miss Josephine Cone.

Miss Claxton, who was born in Somerville, N. J., in 1850, the daughter of Spencer Wallace and Josephine Martinez Cone, made a fortune playing for a decade in "The Two Orphans" and lived comfortably since her retirement in 1911 in her Manhattan apartment in the winter and in her home in Larchmont Manor during the summer.

FAT MAN BEATS SKINNY BROTHER IN HOT WEATHER

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Fat men stand the heat better than lean ones, the bureau of mines has established through experiments in a specially constructed chamber at Pittsburgh.

The fat men, the bureau found, lost more weight when subjected to uncomfortably hot temperatures, but they were less exhausted when they were relieved. In a state of rest and in still air, the experiments disclosed, the human body cannot endure indefinitely a temperature higher than 90 degrees Fahrenheit with 100 per cent relative humidity.

Pulse rate, rather than rise in bodily temperature, it was discovered, apparently determines the extent of discomfort in high temperatures. Subjects became very uncomfortable when the pulse reached 135 pulsations a minute, and unbearable symptoms appeared at 160. The highest pulse rate recorded was 184.

The American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers coöperated in the experiments which were designed to afford a study of conditions as they might affect miners.

NURSE COMMITS SUICIDE LOCKED IN HOTEL ROOM

Miss Lillian Johnson, a nurse, was found dead yesterday when the manager of the Argyle hotel forced the door of the room which she had engaged Saturday night. The woman, who was 27 years old, had registered as Mrs. Homer Roberts.

The police believe Miss Johnson committed suicide early Sunday by swallowing veronal. A chambermaid had knocked on the door shortly before noon, but received no response.

"I am through with this life," read a note which was found addressed to an interne at the Presbyterian hospital. "I am in bad health and have awful pains in my side."

TOUCH O' SUMMER SENDS MERCURY AVIATING TO 84

A touch of midsummer was suddenly blown into Chicago yesterday afternoon by a balmy southwest breeze. The maximum temperature was recorded at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the mercury touched 84 degrees, a record for May 5 since 1909, when a temperature of 86 was officially reported. Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning the thermometer began to drop rapidly and within a few minutes fell from 68 to 50.

Today will be much cooler, the weather man promises, and he advises umbrellas and raincoats. Thunder-showers are on the program.

PARKING PLUM TO ANDY CRAIG

Hudspeth Ousted When City Issues Permit.

The city of Chicago has turned over a stretch of public street for private purposes to "Andy" Craig, one time South State street levee king, and for more than twenty years a political lieutenant of Ald. John J. Coughlin (1st) and former Ald. Michael Kenna.

A permit for the use of the lower level of the Michigan avenue link as a parking space has been issued to Craig by James B. Bowler, commissioner of compensation, notwithstanding Corporation Counsel F. X. Busch's opinion that the scheme is illegal, it was learned yesterday.

For the concession which Harry Hudspeth valued at from $6,000 to $10,000 a year before he was routed by the police a few days ago, Craig will pay the city $75 a month under the terms of his permit. Already his employés have begun the collection of a minimum of 25 cents each from motorists desiring to park their cars between South Water street and Lake street.

Arrested 100 Times.

Hudspeth, backed by powerful influences, maintained his hold upon the "privilege" despite more than 100 arrests for disorderly conduct, ordered by Capt. Patrick Hogan of the police traffic bureau after dozens of automobile owners complained that he forced his services upon them. Some asserted they had been ordered away from the spaces at the point of Hudspeth's gun. Others reported damaged cars as a result of their refusal of pay the "volunteer" guard.

Municipal judges, called as character witnesses, declared that Hudspeth was a necessary public servant. Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman named him a deputy sheriff with permission to carry a heavy revolver. Arrested for the one hundred and fifth time, it is said, Hudspeth a few days ago promised Judge Francis Borelli to stay away from the space until his rights could be determined.

Ruling by Busch.

Meantime, the council local industries, streets and alleys committee suggested that a solution of the problem would be found in a lease of the privilege to some responsible person and recommended such a course to the council compensation committee.

It was then that Corporation Counsel Busch, in answer to the latter committee's request for guidance, ruled that public thoroughfares might not be leased to individuals for gainful purposes, that in the absence of ordinances prohibiting parking, free use of the space was the privilege of all who would avail themselves of it and through the use of police only could the city regulate the parkers.

"The ordinances creating the department of compensation are sufficiently broad, I believe, to justify issuance of this permit to Craig," Commissioner Bowler said last night. "It is true that the city law department ruled that no lease might be entered into with an individual for private use of the street."

"I never heard of such an arrangement and you may be sure that I will look into the details with considerable interest," Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague asserted.

NATIONALISTS SEEK TO UPSET GERMAN RULE

Claim Victory at the Polls; Reds Gain.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, May 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Official returns received up to a late hour tonight, which, however, are incomplete, give the provisional state of the parties as follows: Social Democrats, 99; Communists, 61; Democrats, 24; Centre party, 62; Bavarian People's party, 15; German People's party, 45; German National party, 99; People's Freedom party (extreme Nationalists), 32; Hanoverians, 3; Bourgeoise and Bavarian Agrarian league, 10; Land Union, 9; German Social, 4. Total, 465.

BY GEORGE SELDES.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, May 5.—The Nationalist party, foes of the Dawes' reparations plan, today began an attack upon the government of Chancellor Marx, declaring the cabinet must resign. The Nationalists claim 105 seats in the reichstag, making them the largest party. They claim six seats accredited to the Baden Farmers' league, which they say is a subsidiary branch of their party. Parliamentary parlance requires that the president offer the chancellorship to the largest party, and the Nationalists claim they will therefore form a new government.

Bolshevism also becomes one of the biggest issues in Germany. The Communist party, to the surprise of even the most sanguine leaders, will enter the reichstag with sixty members and play a big part in future politics.

The government today is cloaking its chagrin over its losses with a statement that Chancellor Marx's and Foreign Minister Stresemann's policies are safe, meaning that the Dawes reparations report will most likely be accepted, although the government may go bankrupt on the railroad issue. The Social Democrat party claims the complete return will show it to have nosed out the Nationalists by six members.

Communists Poll 4,000,000 Votes.

Altogether the Communists polled almost 4,000,000 votes, denoting that the bolshevik population of Germany is between 8,000,000 and 10,000,000. The occupied Ruhr district went almost entirely Communist except where the Catholic party polled its total vote. In Dusseldorf the Communists, with almost 250,000, beat the six opposition parties combined. Stuttgart became a Communist town. The Stinnes party was smashed under the Communistic red banner, on which was inscribed the workers' protest against a ten hour day.

The Communists did not expect the victory they gained. Tonight secret orders were sent out for a big celebration tomorrow, when the Communists will also protest against the German government's action against the soviet commercial mission raid.

But that is not all. Already the threat of a Red revolution is heard. The Communists never dreamed they were so strong, and are now openly boasting that at the first misstep of the right wing monarchist parties to make any new repressions of Communism they will retaliate by starting a revolt.

Marx Claims a Majority of Ten.

The foreign office's provisional list of the makeup of the next reichstag, which will be called probably May 19 or 20, follows:

Socialists	91	People's party	44
Nationalists	93	Fascisti	25
Catholics	61	Democrats	28
Communists	59

"The structure of the old reichstag remains," a spokesman for the foreign office said. "A large majority of the coalition remains in majority, although it will be more difficult to govern. The coalition, if we include the Socialists, will be able to poll 229 votes, where all the other parties combined will total 219. The Communists, Nationalists, and Fascisti, who are certain always to be in opposition, number 180.

Expects Cabinet to Remain.

"The government's foreign policies can, therefore, remain. When the reichstag is called, the leading party which remains Socialist, will as a matter of form be offered the chancellorship, but it is expected that the present cabinet will remain. The broad outlines of internal and external policies, therefore, will not be changed. We note that the German people did not throw themselves into the hands of the Volkschische party (Ludendorff-Hitler Fascisti), but only into the other way, namely Communistic, which we learn with regret.

"The German people, in despair, swung to the left. In the occupied

Russia Asks Apology for Berlin Raid

MOSCOW, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Russian government has instructed M. Krestinsky, its ambassador to Berlin, that unless the German government accords full satisfaction for the recent raid on the offices of the Russian commercial delegation in Berlin, the ambassador shall come immediately to Moscow to discuss with the government the question of what steps should be taken to deal with the situation.

[The raiding of the Russian commercial headquarters in Berlin by the police and the arrest of a large number of Reds took place last week. Many of the records of the delegation were seized, which Berlin reports stated clearly established the work of the soviet propagandists throughout Germany. The Russian ambassador threatened to leave at once, but decided to await instructions from Moscow after the communists arrested in the raid had been freed. The tremendous showing made by the communists in the German elections Sunday also adds interest to the situation developed as a result of the raid.]

PARLEY IS MENACED.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 5.—The foreign office and the Russian delegation today both issued emphatic denials of reports circulated during the week-end to the effect that the Anglo-Russian conference had broken down. It is asserted that progress is being made slowly and the whole job now is chiefly in the expert stage, to which, naturally, Prime Minister MacDonald is not giving personal attention.

On the principal question at issue, however, no denials are made, and the fact appears to be that the subcommission on claims and counter claims is near a deadlock.

The Russian tactics appear almost comic to laymen, but official circles are inclined to believe they are meant in all seriousness. They have prepared a big list of counter claims to present to England as a balance for Russia's acknowledged debts.

What the Russians Claim.

The Russian claims are said to be as follows:

1. Losses by Great Britain's support of Admiral Kolchak and other warlike adventures of the Whites, 12,213,000,000 gold rubles ($6,106,500,000).

2. The question of transport during the blockade and the expenses of the Russian civil war (alleged to have been encouraged by London), 11,271,000,000 gold rubles ($5,635,500,000).

3. Losses by reductions in industry and agriculture, $15,560,000,000.

May Make Conference Useless.

This amazing total would leave England heavily in debt to Russia, even after Russia's enormous debt was wiped off the books. The flimsy nature of most of these claims is apparent, yet it is believed that Moscow intends to insist on a large part of them.

If it does so insist the work of the whole conference is useless.

TOM MARSHALL JUST WOULDN'T BE PRESIDENT

Youngstown, O., May 5.—A declaration that he "would not be a President if they handed it to me" was made by Thomas R. Marshall, former Vice President of the United States, in an address at the annual banquet of the Youngstown Young Men's Christian association tonight.

"I never knew a President who was happy after he got into the White House," Mr. Marshall said. "The President today, in addition to the duties of office, is expected to be a leader and keep together a great political party. It cannot be done."

Mr. Marshall assailed the preferential primary, saying it was never intended by the founders of our government, and sooner or later "the people will wake up and get rid of it."

SENATE ADOPTS DEMOCRATIC BILL; HITS G. O. P.

Coalition Defeats Mellon Rates.

25% Cut This Year

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—The Simmons bill, which passed the senate in committee of the whole today, contains a provision for a 25 per cent flat reduction in 1923 taxes, payable in 1924. So did the Longworth compromise bill, which passed the house. The retention of this 25 per cent flat cut, applicable to taxes being paid this year, is assured whether the Simmons plan is adopted in conference as it stands or whether it and the Longworth measure are amalgamated with modifications as between the two.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—A combination of Democrats and radical Republicans slaughtered the Mellon tax rates in the senate today and put through the normal and surtax rates on incomes proposed by the Democrats.

The Mellon tax reduction program, in the form proposed by the secretary of the treasury and advocated by President Coolidge, is now definitely dead. In its place congress will pass a tax reduction bill carrying lower taxes on small incomes and higher taxes on large incomes than Mr. Mellon proposed. It is not doubted that President Coolidge will sign the bill.

The Simmons, or Democratic surtaxes with a maximum of 40 per cent were adopted by a vote of 43 to 40. The normal tax rates of two, four and six per cent won by a vote of 44 to 37.

Will Ask Another Vote.

Senator Smoot [Rep., Utah], chairman of the finance committee, served notice that he would call for another vote on both propositions when the bill advances beyond the committee of the whole to the senate proper. The Democrats are confident that their states will not be upset in the senate and the bill will be passed by the end of the week in this form.

The Simmons rates so nearly approximate the Longworth rates of the house bill that there is not likely to be much difficulty in reconciling the differences in conference. The Simmons rates are somewhat below the Longworth rates on incomes below $60,000 and slightly higher above that point.

While the Simmons maximum is 40 per cent as compared with a maximum of 37½ per cent in the Longworth plan the 40 per cent rate does not apply except above $500,000. In the case of incomes just above $200,000, at which point the Longworth rates reach their maximum, a rate of 38 per cent applies under the Simmons schedule as against 37½ per cent under the Longworth plan.

The Simmons surtax rates are much more moderate than the Garner rates of the house Democrats but are considerably higher than the Mellon rates which were reported to the senate in a finance committee amendment to the house bill.

Roll Called Twice.

There were two roll calls on surtax rates. The first was on a motion by Senator Simmons [Dem., N. C.] ranking minority member of the finance committee, to substitute the Democratic surtax rates for the committee rates. In effect this was a test of strength between the Simmons and Mellon rates.

The next roll call was on the committee amendment as amended which raised an issue between Simmons and Longworth rates. The vote was identical on both surtax roll calls, 43 to 40. Thirty-five Democrats, seven Republicans and one Farmer-Labor member voted in the affirmative and 38 Republicans, and two Democrats in the negative. The Republicans voting for the Simmons surtaxes were Senator Brookhart [Rep. Iowa], Frazier [Rep. N. D.], Ladd [Rep. N. D.], Howell, [Rep. Neb.], Norris [Rep. Neb.], Norbeck [Rep. S. D.], and Johnson [Rep. Cal.]. Senator Johnson [Farmer-Labor, Minn.] also voted in the affirmative. His colleague, Senator Shipstead [Farmer-Labor, Minn.] was absent. The Democrats voting in the negative were Senator Bruce of Maryland and Edwards of New Jersey.

It was announced during the roll calls that Senator La Follette [Rep., Wis.] would have voted for the Simmons rates if he had been present.

Seven Republicans Switch.

There was one roll call on normal tax rates, the vote coming on the motion of Senator Simmons to substitute the Democratic rates for the finance committee or Mellon rates. On this vote there were seven Republicans and two Farmer-Labor members and thirty-five Democrats who voted in the affirmative. There were thirty-seven Republicans and two Democrats in the negative.

The Republicans voting for the Simmons normal tax rates were the same as for the surtaxes except that Senator Capper [Rep., Kas.] was added to the group and Senator Howell was absent. Senator Shipstead was present and voted for the Democratic rates. Senators Bruce and Edwards were again the two Democrats voting in the negative.

During the normal tax vote Senator Jones of Washington, Republican, announced that he would not vote because he was directly interested in the result.

The final roll call, which was on the normal rate, follows:

Fourteen senators were absent. Ten were paired as follows:

Underwood for with Elkins against; La Follette for with Bayard against; Trammell for with Lenroot against; Ralston for with Greene against; Glass for with Cameron against. Senators Owen and McCormick were paired, but it was not announced as to their positions. Senators Howell and Couzens were not paired.

Senator Smoot, in speaking against the Simmons normal tax rates, said that they would mean a loss in revenue of $38,000,000. The Democrats replied to this by declaring that while this was true the Simmons surtaxes would bring in $41,000,000 more revenue than the Mellon rates, resulting in a net gain of $3,000,000.

The Simmons normal tax rates as adopted are 2 per cent on net income up to $4,000, 4 per cent between $4,000 and $8,000, and 6 per cent above $8,000. The Mellon rates were 3 per cent up to $4,000 and 6 per cent above that point, as against 4 and 8 per cent under the present law. The Longworth normal rates were 2, 5, and 6 per cent.

Surtax Starts at $10,000.

Under the Simmons surtax schedule a rate of 1 per cent applies on income between $10,000 and $14,000, instead of 1 per cent between $10,000 and $12,000, as in the Mellon plan, and 1 per cent between $6,000 and $10,000, as in the present law. The rates then advance by 1 per cent in intervals of $2,000 and $4,000 until 36 per cent is reached on income in excess of $96,000 and not in excess of $100,000. A rate of 37 per cent applies between $100,000 and $200,000, 38 per cent between $200,000 and $300,000, 39 per cent between $300,000 and $500,000, and 40 per cent on that portion of income in excess of $500,000.

Today's actions disposed of the most controversial features of the bill. The senate will act next on the Democratic substitute for the corporation tax and then on estate and gift taxes. Individual amendments then will be taken up. It is believed the bill can be passed this week without difficulty.

Senator Smoot gave notice that, beginning tomorrow night, the senate will be held in session at night.

YOUR INCOME TAXES WILL FOLLOW YOU WHEREVER YOU ROAM

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Americans residing abroad were held by the Supreme court today to be subject to federal income taxes upon incomes entirely derived from sources within another country.

The question reached court in a case brought from Maryland by George W. Cook, an American who for many years has resided in Mexico. He contended that this government could not compel him to pay taxes on income from property located outside the United States, but the federal District court for Maryland took a contrary view.

HUNT TROPHIES OF PAUL RAINEY GIVEN MEMPHIS

Memphis, Tenn., May 5.—All of the hunting trophies of the late Paul Rainey, noted big game hunter, including hundreds of specimens from many countries, have been presented to the city of Memphis by Mrs. Grace Rainey Rogers, sister of Mr. Rainey and heiress to his fortune. Mrs. Rogers also announced that a 11,000 acre estate at Tippah Lodge, Miss., Mr. Rainey's hunting preserve, has been set aside for an association of fox hunters in memory of her brother.

A number of museums had sought the Rainey trophies, which are said to form one of the most comprehensive collections in the country. The gift includes Mr. Rainey's motion pictures and photographic negatives. The collection will be housed in a permanent museum here.

FILIBUSTER ON RAILWAY BILL TIES UP HOUSE

Dems. and Rebels Try to Kill Board.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—A bitter fight which developed today over the Howell-Barkley bill to abolish the U. S. railroad labor board kept the house in session until nearly midnight. In the end Democrats and Republican insurgents, routing the Republican organization, succeeded in having debate on the measure limited to three hours.

During the session, which lasted nearly twelve hours without a break, Republican leaders, resorting to filibuster tactics, vainly attempted to stave off house consideration of the measure. Much of the time was taken up with eighteen roll calls, each consuming half an hour.

Both Sides Up in Air.

Adjournment left the leaders on both sides somewhat in the air as to future procedure. Representative Barkley [Dem., Ky.], author of the bill, said he might attempt to have the house resume consideration of the measure tomorrow, while its opponents announced they would resist any move to bring it up within the next two weeks.

Taking advantage of new rules, the house at the outset of today's session voted, 194 to 181, to discharge the commerce committee from jurisdiction over the bill. Later it decided to begin consideration of the measure, but opponents waged a determined fight against Mr. Barkley's motion for a three hour limit on debate.

Longworth Opens Battle.

Representative Longworth [O.], the Republican leader, directing the fight against the bill, proposed a ten hour limit, while Blanton [Dem., Tex.] suggested twenty-four hours' discussion. The motion to limit debate to three hours was carried by a vote of 165 to 136.

Friends of the bill from the start kept their ranks intact and succeeded in gaining their points. Mr. Barkley when he offered the motion to adjourn emphasized this point.

Previously Mr. Longworth and other Republican leaders made five unsuccessful attempts to bring about adjournment and toward the end of the session Speaker Gillett declined to entertain a motion to adjourn, declaring it was dilatory.

The house leaders were divided as to whether Mr. Barkley under the rules could bring up his bill again before two weeks from today. He declared he might seek tomorrow to obtain a ruling from the speaker on the point and in the event it was adverse might attempt to overrule the chair's decision.

Foes of the bill contended that under the rules of the house it could only be considered on the first and third Mondays of the month.

SENATE GEORGES ENLIST TO HONOR GOOD OLD NAME

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—One of the most popular organizations in Washington of a nonpolitical nature is the "Society for the Prevention of Calling Pullman Car Porters 'George.'" It has its inception in Chicago—George Ade being a prime mover—but now has 100 members in Washington, among them being Georges in the senate—Senators Pepper, Moses, Norris, and McLean—as well as Senator Walter F. George of Georgia.

The patron of the society, whose name appears on the back of the membership card, is George Washington. Honorary members are Georges Clemenceau, George V. of England, and George M. Cohan.

The aim of the society is to get 100,000 members whose first or last name is George. Each must pledge himself to discourage the practice of giving the name George to sleeping car and parlor car porters.

McCORMICK WILL SUPPORT DENEEN IN SENATE RACE

Senator Accepts Figures of Primary Canvass.

United States Senator Medill McCormick, who was defeated by former Gov. Charles S. Deneen for the Republican senatorial nomination in the Illinois primaries, last night announced that he would support Mr. Deneen at the November election.

The senator's announcement, issued through his counsel, Alfred S. Austrian, disposed of reports current since a day or two after the primaries that because of the close race Mr. McCormick would institute an action for a judicial recount. The official report of the state canvassing board showed the former governor was winner by a plurality of 5,944.

Statement by Senator.

"The state canvassing board having proclaimed Mr. Deneen the nominee of the Republican party for senator as a result of the primary in which I contested with him for the nomination, I shall, of course, support Mr. Deneen as the party's nominee," said the senator's statement.

Concerning the report that Mr. McCormick would file a contest, Mr. Austrian said:

"I have nothing to add to Senator McCormick's statement—it precludes the possibility of any contest of the primary election of April 8."

The Official Canvass.

The official canvass announced in Springfield last week showed a vote of 357,545 for Deneen and 351,601 for McCormick.

Senator McCormick is completing his first term as senator from Illinois. While he was in Washington much of the time during the primary campaign, his wife, a daughter of the late Mark Hanna, was generalissimo and gave all her attention to her husband's interests. Mr. McCormick served two terms in the Illinois legislature and then served in the Sixty-fifth congress as congressman at large.

Former Gov. Deneen also served two terms in the Illinois house of representatives, was state's attorney of Cook (Chicago) county eight years and was governor of Illinois for two terms, having not held public office since he left the governorship in 1913.

MAKE OUR NAVY "DOMINATE" ALL, WILBUR INSISTS

Urges Development Not Limited by Treaty.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Declaration that he stood for an American navy not only equal to any other, but a "dominating" one "along lines not restricted by mutual agreement" was made in an address here today by Secretary Wilbur before the Republican women of the District of Columbia.

"I stand absolutely for a 100 per cent navy, the equal, at least, in every respect of any power on land or sea," Secretary Wilbur declared. "That is my personal reaction, and I believe it should be the attitude of the government and the mission of the department.

"Although I say at least 100 per cent equality, I see no reason why we should not undertake also to advance our navy along lines not restricted by mutual agreement so that we will again be in a dominating situation and can again secure mutual limitations on all activities along lines at present unrestricted by any treaty."

Agrees with Coontz Report.

The secretary's declaration of his personal position with respect to the question of the strength that should be maintained for the navy in cruisers and other auxiliary craft on which there exists no treaty limitation was viewed as particularly significant since the report of Admiral Coontz, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet on its winter maneuvers, laid stress on the weakness of the fleet organization in these particulars.

Navy officials have argued that the large number of destroyers built during the war did not fill the fleet need for light cruisers, as the destroyers were unable to maintain speed in rough weather. This was brought out in a practical way during the maneuvers, according to Admiral Coontz' report.

Looking to New Treaties?

Secretary Wilbur's suggestion that the United States might embark on an auxiliary ship building program with the view in mind that the Washington government would be in a good position then to seek agreement among naval powers for extension of limiting treaties to other craft than battleships, battle cruisers, and airplane carriers also attracted attention in view of the recent statement by President Coolidge in New York making a preliminary proposal for new discussions of limitation of armament.

There was nothing to indicate that Mr. Wilbur had any definite prospect of the kind in mind, but it was recalled that the reason generally assigned for calling of the Washington conference by President Harding was the tremendous capital ship building program on which the United States was then engaged.

King Asks Investigation.

Investigation of the present condition of the naval establishment by a joint committee of congress would be authorized under a resolution introduced by Senator King [Dem., Utah].

The committee would be instructed particularly to report whether the "so called capital ship ratio of 5-5-3 adopted by the Washington conference" has been maintained by the United States and whether it has been exceeded by any other signatory power.

TEN OF TWELVE CALLED FOR LAKE JURY ARE WET

Attempted selection of the federal grand jury to try Frankie Lake, alleged millionaire beer runner, and three of his associates in the Illinois Beverage company yesterday resulted in the following expressions of attitude toward the Volstead act:

Nine wet and have been for years.

One was dry before prohibition—wet now.

Two dry.

The case is expected to attract wide attention because it was in the Illinois Beverage brewery that Lake was alleged to have given voice [in the beer running era] to the classic bit of philosophy that "Smith & Wesson make all men equal" as he placed the open end of a six shooter against Prohibition Agent Brice Armstrong's belt buckle.

AUTOS CLAIM 2 VICTIMS IN DAY; YEAR'S TOTAL 184

Boy, 5, and Ft. Wayne Man Killed.

Darting suddenly into the street in front of his home, Robert H. Blade, 5, 1127 Newport avenue, was almost instantly killed yesterday when he was struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Anna Baumann, 1246 Newport avenue. Passersby carried the boy into his home, where he died. Mrs. Baumann was released.

The boy's death and that of Jack Hayes of Fort Wayne, Ind., raised the county's motor death toll since Jan. 1 to 184. Hayes was killed by a Checker taxicab at Washington boulevard and Union avenue, driven by Morris Bass, 2151 Cortez street. Bass was held.

Hold Man to Jury.

James H. Powers, 1230 North Wells street, yesterday was held to the grand jury on a charge of automobile manslaughter by a coroner's jury investigating the death early Sunday of George Stevenson, 45, 2542 North Spaulding avenue. Powers' automobile crashed into the one carrying Stevenson, his wife, and two friends.

Coroner Oscar Wolff pointed yesterday to the 13.6 per cent reduction in motor fatalities so far this year, as compared to the first four months of last year. At the close of April, 1924, the death toll stood at 172, a decrease of twenty-seven from the 1923 total, 199.

Old and Young Suffer.

A summary of the victims prepared by Coroner Wolff shows that one-half of the automobile victims are children and persons past 60 years of age.

Up to May 1, this year, forty-three children under 16 years old and thirty-seven persons over 60 were killed. That the educational campaign conducted in the schools is having effect is shown, Coroner Wolff pointed out, in that this year's total of child fatalities, forty-three, is seventeen less than the same four month period of 1923, sixty.

Bride, 24, Sick and Lonely, Ends Life by Asphyxiation

Mrs. Jeanette Jonka, 24 years old and recently married, committed suicide yesterday in her home at 1140 West 17th street because, she explained in a note to her husband, she was sick and lonely. A neighbor found the bride lying on the kitchen floor. Gas was flowing from all the burners of the range.

Fred Edington, 52 years old, 7014 Merrill avenue, dropped dead, supposedly from heart disease, last night while on his way to his garage at the rear of his home.

ELEVATOR FALLS SEVEN FLOORS; FIFTEEN HURT

City building officials yesterday started an investigation into the crashing of an elevator in which fifteen persons were injured in the Ashland block, 155 North Clark street. The cage fell seven stories.

All the passengers, among them four women, were injured, several of them seriously. Edward W. Hodgkins, 58 years old, a dealer in railway supplies, was among the more seriously injured. His left leg was broken.

The breaking of a defective bolt was given as the cause of the fall. Building department officials said the records showed the Ashland block elevators recently were inspected.

Coolidge Distances "Doe" in Maryland Primary

Baltimore, Md., May 5.—Calvin Coolidge, Republican candidate for President, carried Maryland easily in the primary today over his shadow opponent, "an uninstructed delegation," according to early returns. His total vote in this city was 4,313, against 530 for an uninstructed delegation to the Cleveland convention.

In the Sixth congressional district Frederick N. Zihlman, Republican, led his nearest opponent by more than 800 votes and Mayor Thomas W. Koon of Cumberland led the quartet of Democratic aspirants.

LA FOLLETTE TO ATLANTIC CITY; SILENCE PUZZLES

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, left today for Atlantic City, where he hopes to rid himself of the illness which has prevented him from taking full activities either in the senate or in politics.

Leaders of both big parties are puzzled by the Wisconsin radical's silence on his political plans this year. Friends say he will make no announcement of his presidential intentions until after the big parties have named their candidates. The "progressive" group will meet in Cleveland on July 4, and the insurgent leader may relieve the painful curiosity of the old line politicians by making some statement then.

It is conceded that if La Follette decides to head a third party it is quite likely that the final selection of a President may be thrown into the house of representatives, through the failure of Mr. Coolidge or the Democratic nominee to obtain the requisite electoral college majority.

ELSIE FERGUSON WED IN N. Y. TO AN ENGLISH ACTOR

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—Elsie Ferguson, the actress, and Frederick Worlock, a member of her company in "The Moon Flower," which closed recently, were married today at Miss Ferguson's residence, Great Neck, L. I., by Justice of the Peace Lecluz.

Miss Ferguson was formerly the wife of Thomas B. Clarke Jr., vice president of the Harriman National bank. She was granted a divorce in Paris last summer after being married seven years.

The ceremony was performed quietly at high noon, and only Miss Natalie Rector, Mr. and Mrs. Claude King, and H. Randolph Guggenheimer were present. Miss Ferguson wore an afternoon frock of black and white silk, with Miss Rector her only attendant, while Mr. King acted as best man.

Mr. Worlock, an English actor who is the same age as Miss Ferguson, 38, first toured with her in the Marc Klaw production of "The Wheel of Life" in 1922. Reports of their engagement were first heard last summer.

FRANK M'ERLANE IS SOUGHT AS LAWYER'S SLAYER

Frank McErlane, Chicago gunman and beer runner, arrested many times in connection with booze killings and hi-jacking activities, was being sought again last night as a member of a gang of thugs who shot up and robbed the South Half-Way house, a roadhouse midway between Crown Point and Cedar Lake, Ind., early yesterday.

Two members of the gang and a woman accomplice were captured shortly after the shooting when their automobile was wrecked. Thad S. Fancher, a Crown Point attorney, died last night in Mercy hospital at Gary from bullet wounds inflicted by the raiders.

Frank Cochran, another Crown Point citizen, was shot in the ankle and beaten over the head. Several other men and women in the roadhouse were beaten.

Those held are John O'Malley, 5518 Lafayette street; Aleck McCabe, 6807 South Carpenter street, and Mrs. Anna Fulke, wife of Frank Fulke, 4448 Artesian avenue. Tom Hoban, Eddie Fitzgerald, and McErlane, all identified with Joseph Stenson-Terry Druggan beer running activities in the past.

POLITICAL SPLIT SEEN IN GROMMES & ULLRICH CASE

Senators Ask Williams and Lyons About It.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Politics and prohibition as practiced in Chicago came under the suspicious scrutiny of the Brookhart investigating committee today.

Digging again under the sur[illegible] of the Grommes & Ullrich case, Attorney Charles A. Williams, who was tried and acquitted in this famous conspiracy case, and Eddie Lyons, a prohibition agent formerly in charge of the federal warehouse in Chicago, were called to the stand.

Mr. Williams implied that he was indicted because he had deserted the "Brundage faction" in the Thirty-second ward.

The committee wanted to know why all of the 130 stockholders who shared in the disposition of the 5,000 cases of liquor were not indicted. Particular questions were aimed at the part that relatives of Federal Judge George A. Carpenter had played, and as to why he had refused to sit in this case. Dr. George Isham, said to be a brother-in-law of the judge, was again named as a participant in the deliveries, and a man named Birmingham, said to be another brother-in-law, was mentioned as a new bit of information.

Allege Wilson Precedent.

Attorney Paul Howland, counsel for Harry M. Daugherty, wanted to know why the committee was so solicitous about Judge Carpenter, and Senator B. K. Wheeler [Dem., Mont.], said this would be shown later.

The Bicardi Rum corporation was named in the inquiry today as having set a precedent for the Grommes & Ullrich sales, and James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, and Bainbridge Colby, former secretary of state, were mentioned as men who figured prominently in that case. They were both Wilson administration men.

Eddie Lyons member of the prohibition office "beer squad," gave it as his opinion that of the fifteen breweries now in Chicago there are a few that are "cheating." He said he could not catch them at it. Both he and C. J. Aronson, former agent at the federal warehouse, were questioned about reported disappearances of large truckloads of whisky on the way from the warehouse to the federal building.

Mr. Williams furnished a complete list of "new stockholders" of the Grommes-Ullrich company to the committee.

Williams' Examination.

His examination was in part as follows:

SENATOR WHEELER—A part of the whisky went to a man by the name of Dr. Isham, did it not?

MR. WILLIAMS—I am so advised; yes, sir. He was a stockholder. I saw a permit issued to him.

SENATOR WHEELER—What relation, if any, was he to Judge Carpenter, the federal judge there, a son-in-law or a brother-in-law?

MR. WILLIAMS—I think a brother-in-law, but I am not certain.

SENATOR WHEELER — And Mr. Birmingham—some whisky went to him, did it not?

MR. WILLIAMS—I do not know that it did.

SENATOR WHEELER—Let me ask you: Who is Mr. Birmingham, where does he reside?

MR. WILLIAMS—On the north side of Chicago somewhere, but just where I do not know.

SENATOR WHEELER—Did the delivery sheets of the prohibition officer show that Birmingham received the following assortment of whisky: Two cases of whisky, six gallons; two jugs of whisky, six gallons; 4 cases of brandy, twelve gallons; four jugs of brandy, twelve gallons; two cases of gin, 4.8 gallons; three jugs of rum, nine gallons; one case of cordial, one gallon; total, 52.8 gallons of whisky and cordials. All went to a man by the name of Birmingham, did it not?

MR. WILLIAMS—I do not know, senator.

SENATOR WHEELER—Now, Mr. Williams, the liquor that was shipped care of Birmingham was on a permit secured in the name of John H. Chapman. You know that he held a permit, do you not?

Refer to Delivery Sheets.

MR. WILLIAMS—Yes, I know Mr. Chapman. He is a prominent La Salle street broker in our town. But I do not know, I am sure, that it is a fact that Chapman bought any liquor for Birmingham, or bought any stocks for Birmingham.

SENATOR WHEELER—The delivery sheet, you know, did show that it went to Birmingham's house?

Mr. Williams—I do not know what the delivery sheets show.

SENATOR WHEELER — Which ward was it that you were in?

MR. WILLIAMS—I live in the Thirty-second ward.

SENATOR WHEELER — You control, do you not, the politics of that ward?

MR. WILLIAMS—No. There are 117,000 people living in that ward, and the most that I could positively say is that I had a few friends who were active in politics in that ward.

SENATOR WHEELER—You, as a matter of fact, were the boss of that ward, were you not? Or let me put it this way, you were the political leader in that ward?

Politics in Thirty-second Ward.

MR. WILLIAMS—I was active in Republican politics in that ward.

SENATOR WHEELER—You were connected with the Brundage wing of the organization?

MR. WILLIAMS—I was affiliated with the Brundage wing of the organization at that time.

SENATOR WHEELER — And you afterwards had some falling out with the Brundage wing?

MR. WILLIAMS—I did not vote for either Brundage or his candidates at the last election. Neither did my ward, apparently.

SENATOR WHEELER—After you had some political differences with the Brundage faction there in Chicago you were indicted upon this charge, were you not?

MR. WILLIAMS—Shortly after I changed my allegiance or alliance I was indicted.

SENATOR WHEELER — Two of these many stockholders were also indicted?

MR. WILLIAMS—Yes.

"Brundage Foes Indicted."

SENATOR WHEELER — And the 128 others were not indicted at all?

MR. WILLIAMS—No.

SENATOR WHEELER—And among those that were not indicted were Dr. Isham, Judge Carpenter's brother-in-law or son-in-law, whichever it is, brother-in-law, I believe, and this man Bermingham.

MR. WILLIAMS—They were not indicted.

SENATOR WHEELER—So that what they did was to pick out those who had changed their allegiance from the Brundage organization and indict those, and the rest of the prominent people, who were equally guilty if anybody was guilty, were let out?

MR. WILLIAMS—They were not indicted.

SENATOR WHEELER—All of the judges who were in Chicago when this case came up disqualified themselves, did they not?

MR. WILLIAMS—I was informed that they all considered themselves disqualified to try this case.

Williams said that Judge Carpenter, while practicing law, had represented the Grommes & Ullrich corporation many years before.

SENATOR WHEELER—But is it not a fact that the real reason why he disqualified himself was that his brother-in-law, or his son-in-law, had gotten this whisky, or were a part of the conspiracy, if anybody was, who was to get this whisky?

MR. WILLIAMS—I cannot say as to that. I do not think that I knew at that time of any relationship that Judge Carpenter sustained to any of the stockholders.

Naming Colby and Gerard.

The part that Elisha Hanson of Washington played in advising the stockholders was brought out fully. Williams said Hanson received a fee of $1,000.

The witness told of the precedent set two years before by the Bicardi rum corporation.

THE CHAIRMAN—Is Bacardi a part of the Brundage machine?

MR. WILLIAMS—No, Bainbridge Colby and Ambassador Gerard were two significant characters in that situation.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN—What is that?

MR. WILLIAMS—Two of the stockholders who participated in that distribution were Bainbridge Colby and Ambassador Gerard.

MR. HOWLAND—We don't want those names spread on the record, senator.

THE CHAIRMAN—You are perfectly welcome.

Eddie Lyons Interrogated.

Lyons has been a federal prohibition officer in Chicago since 1920. Before that he was manager of the Checker Taxicab company. His present appointment, he said, came through County Clerk Sweitzer.

SENATOR WHEELER—Have any breweries been run in the city of Chicago?

MR. LYONS—Well, they are left in the city of Chicago at the present time, and our opinion is that they are.

SENATOR WHEELER—And your opinion is that they are making beer in violation of the law, is it not?

MR. LYONS—Yes, sir.

SENATOR WHEELER—And why is it that you have not closed them up or prosecuted them?

MR. LYONS—Well, I cannot catch them.

He said he and two other men had been trying to catch the breweries since last December. In the warehouse, he said, there may be 100,000 gallons of whisky, but he was positive none of this was ever moved except by order of the director.

Testimony of Dan Smith, Negro butler in the green house on K street where Howard Mannington and his friends lived in the early part of the Harding administration, was substantiated today by the production of a receipt showing deliveries of liquor.

The receipt was from the American Railway Express delivery; destination, F. Casky, 1625 K street; amount collected, $17.82; date, Oct. 21, 1921. The items were ten cases of whisky, five cases of gin, and five cases of vermouth. It was marked as obtained prior to the Volstead act and transported as a gift from one Joseph Schoenthal.

This will be followed, it was stated, with other documentary evidence.

Conrad W. Crooker, Boston attorney, counsel for the minority stockholders of the Boston and Maine railroad, gave the history of the relations of that road with the New York, New Haven and Hartford and told how Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general had come to the aid of the men who were trying to break the court decree which ordered the dissolution of these roads.

These two roads, he said, were in competition in New England until 1909, when the New Haven got stock control and kept it until 1914. The effect on the credit of the Boston and Maine, he said, was such that the situation was investigated by the interstate commerce commission.

He read from the report showing that the consolidation had been declared in violation of the Sherman law.

He said the New Haven people had been hopeless of getting the decree set aside under the Wilson administration, but in the autumn of 1921 approached the "department of justice by the back stairs" and got Daugherty interested. He held two meetings and reversed the policy of the government. A Pennsylvania official traveled with the Daugherty party on this tour of inspection, the reports of that day show.

Mr. Crooker said this railroad was the largest stockholder of the New Haven. Public hearings in the case were something of a joke, the witness said, and told of a meeting between interested parties in the chambers of Federal Judge Julius M. Mayer of New York the night before a public meeting was held. He did not characterize this as wrong but as a fact. R. G. Hutchins, former Columbus (O.) man, figured in the negotiations as Mr. Daugherty's "financial adviser." The decree was not only modified in accordance with the wishes of the New Haven people but the indictments against directors were dismissed on Daugherty's order, the witness said.

G. O. P. CHIEF CHARGES EVIDENCE 'COVERED UP' AT WHEELER INQUIRY

Washington, D. C., May 5.—George B. Lockwood, secretary of the Republican national committee, declared in a statement tonight that "most of the evidence" against Senator Wheeler of Montana had not been examined by the special senate committee appointed to investigate the senator's indictment.

The statements resulted from the speech made in the senate Saturday by Senator Walsh of Montana, charging an attempt to "intimidate" senate investigators and suggesting that contempt proceedings be instituted against those responsible for the inquiries made in Montana by Blair Coan.

"So far as the Wheeler case is concerned, the only 'frameup' in that connection is the effort which has been made to discredit and break down a thoroughly grounded case pronounced good by every officer of the department of justice who has examined the evidence. Most of the evidence has never even been looked at by the senate committee investigating the case."

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

An elaborate railway ordinance, by ich the Santa Fé will pay the city t $300,000 in cash, will spend an imated $992,000 more at once on improvements demanded by public offi als and will spend in the future a ntingent $548,000 additional, has whipped into shape, except for a ision on one feature.

The proposal, for a single railroad, is bably the largest since the North tern railroad ordinance was adopt . The contemplated expenditures presented to give an impression of magnitude of the proposition. But re important, in the opinion of pub officials, will be the improvements h will be obtained outright, the ilitating of the building of others, the saving of expense in construct still others. It is claimed by a esentative of the public that this osed ordinance agreement will about $2,000,000 in the construc cost of one major street improve of the west side.

Long Discussion Held.

ting in on a two hour discussion the subject yesterday afternoon in offices of the Chicago Plan com ion were: Charles H. Wacker, rman of the plan commission; E. Bennett, its city planner; W. E. ns, its architect; H. E. Young, its neer; E. S. Taylor, its director; missioner of Public Works A. A. gue, City Bridge Engineer Thomas feldt, William Hunter of the city au of compensation, T. A. Evans the board of local improvements, White, engineer of the south commission; R. A. Carpenter, neer of the west park system; uel Morrell and J. E. Moody, engi s of the sanitary district; Charles Haft, attorney, and Frank J. Koza, neer of the surface lines, and E. Rice, engineer, and Homer W. , attorney for the Santa Fé rail .

Boulevard Traffic a Problem.

e point on which there is a hitch e plan of segregating at Western e and about 31st street the boule traffic from the street car, truck, eavy vehicular traffic. Three dif t plans were presented, but the commission, west and south park, the sanitary district engineers tically agreed upon one plan. The face lines presented a large sketch another method. To a committee of gineers was referred the task of monizing the sundry ideas and the commendation of one scheme.

The proposed ordinance covers the ght of way of the Santa Fe from the tern city limits to 16th street. By the Santa Fe will get its own yard er, double the capacity of its ap h tracks between Kedzie and worth avenues and be ready to plainly and decisively about new ger terminal facilities. It now the Dearborn station. By the ordinance it will be in a position continue there, switch over easily the Illinois Central or shoot in to proposed terminal of the New York and Rock Island roads.

Road Gives Street.

The present draft of the ordinance these contingencies and the ta Fe agrees to a street 120 feet , running the entire length of its erty between Purple street and worth avenue. The railroad goes . It agrees that this street may ted either to the right or left to an exact extension of the proposed e street projected from the down n business section southward. The ta Fe fits in its plans with the pro widening to 120 feet of 22d street ween Calumet and Archer avenues. e Santa Fe arranges its area to per the Illinois Central to build a cut west at 18th street, as stipulated in lake front settlement ordinance. exchange the railroad will get its s confirmed in sundry streets it been using for years in the area ded by 16th, Wentworth avenue, street, and Grove street.

Wants Four Tracks.

The Santa Fé is said to have asserted it would like four tracks in cer stretches of right of way, where it now has two, to care for its increasing business.

It added that it would go more than half way to aid the city in public improvements, and the Santa Fé officials hold the view that they are proposing to spend $992,000 for improvements whose chief benefit will be to the city and private enterprises of the municipality. To illustrate, the Santa Fé contemplates one improvement of which the estimated cost is $220,000, but in order to aid the public the Santa Fé has agreed to a scheme of the Chicago plan commission which will cost $352,000.

Improvements Promised.

It has been the dream of Chicago's city planners for years to open 39th street up to the west as far as Riverside. This thoroughfare is now called Pershing road and the last legislature blocked its extension west through Packingtown and it is now problematical when the improvement will be made. This thoroughfare near Cicero avenue runs into the tracks of the Santa Fe and the cost of getting across on a straight line would be very large. The plan commssion and the Santa Fe have worked out a scheme by which the Santa Fe dedicates a street more than half a mile long, 108 feet wide, by a slight bend in the roadway, another place for crossing the tracks has been selected where the company agrees to build a subway at its own expense, although half of the structure will be outside of the city limits of Chicago.

Oak Park Youth Hurries to Meet Girl; Hit by "L"

Crawling under the Oak Park avenue crossing gates after they had been lowered, Albert L. McIntyre, a high school student living at 503 North Oak Park avenue, was struck by a train yesterday, dragged twenty yards under the first car, but not seriously hurt. Later he said he had tried to catch the train to keep an appointment with a girl in Chicago.

100 DEPOSITORS IN 16TH STREET BANK REPAID

Nearly a hundred men, women, and children depositors in the Sixteenth Street State bank, which crashed to the wall two years ago, were paid their losses last night at the institution's headquarters, which now operates as the Superior State bank.

The officers of the new organization are B. Horwich, president; B. Calitz, vice president; David Weinberg, first vice president; B. Jadwin, cashier. They have plans underway by which they hope to pay off the entire deficit of the old bank, it was said.

The payments last night began at 7:30 o'clock and continued for two hours. It was stated that many persons who a few months ago saw their savings swept away wept with delight when they recovered them.

TORIES ABANDON FIGHT ON CUT IN ENGLISH DUTIES

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, May 5.—The much advertised attack of the Tories on the government for the abolition of the so-called McKenna duties on motor cars, moving picture films, and other products failed to materialize today.

Former Prime Minister Baldwin, as the leader of the opposition, was cheduled to ask the government to appoint a day for the discussion of a vote of censure of the Laborites for their action in abolishing these duties. Instead of so doing, however, he asked the government to name a day for the discussion of the duties. When the leader of the house asked if a vote of censure was not meant, Mr. Baldwin answered, "No."

As a result the government is sure that they have clear sailing for the passage of the budget, and the general opinion in parliament is that Mr. MacDonald's administration has taken a new lease of life through his popular finance proposals.

MAYOR MUM ON SUCCESSOR FOR DR. ROBERTSON

Mayor Dever expects to receive the resignation of Dr. John Dill Robertson from the board of education this morning, it was reported last night. Dr. Robertson was elected to the presidency of the West Park board almost immediately after his appointment to the school board a few days ago by Gov. Small.

Who will be named to succeed Dr. Robertson as a school board trustee Mayor Dever would not disclose. Nor would he discuss his selection to fill the vacancy which will be created in a few days by the expiration of Trustee Hart Hanson's term. Both W. K. Fellows and Julius F. Smietanka will be reappointed, the mayor has indicated.

Dr. Robertson asserted last night that he had accepted appointment to the West Park board for the same reason he had accepted a school board post a year ago last July—"I felt it my public duty."

FRENCH AIRMAN AT CALCUTTA FAR AHEAD OF RIVALS

Maj. Martin Reported Seen West of Chignik.

BY A. ELLINGS.

[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

CALCUTTA, India, May 5.—Lieut. Pelletier Doisy, French air ace making a sensational flight to the far east from Paris, arrived here today from Agra, a distance of 750 miles. Lieut. Doisy's flying time since leaving Paris is fifty-two hours, and his machine is in perfect condition, except for minor damage to a wing caused by the heat. The lieutenant may stay here a day or two to repair the wing.

The French flyer says that he is not engaged in the competitive world flight and that his destination is Hanoi, French Indo-China, to which he intends to fly via Akyab and Bangkok. Later he may proceed to Tokio. as the Japanese are interested in the type of machine he is flying.

Lieut. Doisy says that he encountered a snow storm while flying from Paris to Bucharest. Of the eleven hours he was in the air during that hop, he spent three hours battling the storm. The Frenchman told of the suffocating heat he endured while flying over the Persian gulf. He said that conditions were good over India. He maintained an average altitude of 6,000 feet.

(The French flyer has covered about 6,200 miles and the British 5,350, while the Americans have gone about 4,875 miles and the Portuguese 4,500 miles.)

New Hope for Martin.

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 5.—[By Associated Press.]—A new face was today given the hunt for Maj. Frederick L. Martin, whose United States army air squadron has gone on without him in a flight around the earth. The change was effected by a report that two men "felt certain" they had seen a plane yesterday near Port Moller, on the Bering sea coast of the Alaska peninsula.

The squadron, minus Maj. Martin's plane, was at Atka island, in the Aleutians, preparing to depart tomorrow for Attu island, 530 miles from Atka and the last stop scheduled in American territory.

The report from Port Moller was received at False Pass, and caused plans to extend the search of the Bering sea side of the peninsula, began soon after it became known that Maj. Martin had departed Wednesday from Chignik, Alaska, 730 miles east of Atka island, but had not appeared at Dutch Harbor, where the other three planes were waiting for him.

Saw Something in Sky.

The report said that two men at Port Moller, which is on the opposite side of the peninsula from Chignik and 100 miles west of Chignik, had noticed something circling in the sky above some hills in the Aleutian range yesterday evening. The men thought that they saw "between the wings" of an airplane, although they estimated it to be ten or fifteen miles away.

Investigation of the south side of the peninsula had been considered complete until the Port Moller story opened a possibility that Maj. Martin had reached the vicinity of the eastern end of the Aleutian islands, 220 miles from Chignik.

Every cove from Chignak to the Shumagin islands, 150 miles southwestward from Chignik, had been entered, it was reported, without finding a sign of Maj. Martin or his companion, Staff Sergeant Alva L. Harvey.

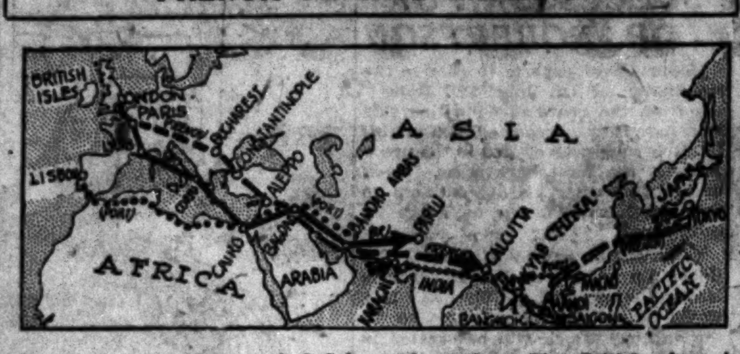
Natives Seeking Martin.

A party of two natives is seeking the missing aviators north from Chignik to the Bering sea. The cause of this expedition was the statement of a trapper that he had seen a plane over Lake Chignik, twenty miles from Chignik, an hour after Maj. Martin departed for Dutch Harbor.

Only meager reports had come today concerning the weather between Atka and Attu, but those few indicated that storms which beset the aviators have been succeeded by pleasant weather. Ideal weather for this time of year was reported at False Pass, at the eastern end of the Aleutian islands chain, and at Dutch Harbor late yesterday.

The coast guard cutter Haida, according to the latest reports received, was speeding to Atka to see the flyers there hop off and the United States fisheries patrol boat Elder was due at Attu tomorrow.

FRENCH FLYER'S EXPLOIT



The French flyer has reached Calcutta on his way to Hanoi, Saigon, and Tokio, and, although he says not, the British fear that he will fly on around the globe. His plane is little damaged so far. The British plane is stalled at Pailu, and cannot fly until it gets a new engine. The Portuguese plane is at Karachi. He's going to Macao, in China.

DRIVERS OF MILK WAGONS TO GET WAGE INCREASE

Chicago's daily milk deliveries are now assured for at least another year through the signing of a new wage agreement between the milk wagon drivers' union and the large milk distributors which gives the wagon drivers a boost of $4 a week.

Union officials were reluctant to discuss the new agreement and even asserted negotiations were still in progress, but it was admitted by the milk distributors that a new contract with the drivers' union had been signed last week.

The new wage increase raises the drivers' weekly basic pay from $41 to $45. They also receive a commission on all sales which boosts their wages to on an average between $60 and $70 a week. Some drivers with extra large routes are paid more than $90 a week.

BAKERY SAFE ROBBED OF $2,000.

St. Paul, Minn., May 5.—Bandits opened the safe in the Purity Baking company offices here early yesterday and escaped with $2,000, police disclosed today.

BUTCHER SHOOTS WIFE 3 TIMES; ENDS OWN LIFE

ALLEGED GAMBLER FINED.

Frank Kriston, 37 West 22d street, was fined $50 yesterday in the South Clark street court. He was charged with being the keeper of a gambling house at 2212 South Dearborn street.

THE SEABOARD TELLS THE MIDLANDS.

It is revealed by a publication of notes that Great Britain has been protesting to the department of state against allowing Chicago to take sufficient water out of Lake Michigan to protect its health by carrying and diluting its sewage. The assertion against this necessity to Chicago is that navigation in Canada is impaired and that relief offered by the sanitary district's proposal to build controlling works would help American lake navigation but not Canadian seaways.

The best information available is that navigation has not been hurt, and that, even if injury were threatened, the things the Chicago sanitary district is willing to do would remove the threat. We have never known an instance in which any welcome was given a Chicago compensating policy. That leads to the conviction that the protest does not arise from the reasons advanced, but from reasons obscured.

People work in peculiar ways for their own advantage and the disadvantage of their neighbors. Probably they persuade themselves that the reasons they advance are the reasons they have.

In these obscured reasons, which, we believe, are the governing reasons, Canada and the eastern seaboard of the United States have a common basis. There is no international line in this. The American Atlantic seaboard seeks to keep the midwestern manufacturing and grain country from finding an easy access to salt water. So does Canada. Transshipment is the thing desired from the west in the east.

It is desired by Canada that midwest United States should not have free access to the Gulf of Mexico. If the watershed of the lakes was into the Mississippi instead of into the St. Lawrence, the Mississippi might carry ships to the sea. This slight shed at Chicago has been cut by the drainage canal, and the waters of the lakes are flowing to the gulf, but they are not carrying anything. Some day they will be. The American people never have been kept from opening a door, although they have been long delayed in some instances.

This is one denial, but there is the other—that ships from Chicago shall not go into the other watershed which runs down the St. Lawrence. We shall have it neither way, neither to the gulf nor to the sea. We shall remain inland and depend on rails.

Such obstruction stands a while. Then it disappears. Various forces make it disappear. Midwest America is not yet ready to die on the vine. Just before the revolutionary war Benjamin Franklin was in England asking for permission for the colonists to take up the region west of the mountains. It was denied by the lords of the plantations and trades because the colonists, if they were allowed to get over the mountains and away from the seaboard, might be out of range of English trade, and they might also interfere with the Indians who were dealing with English fur merchants.

The constraint of the inland by the seaboard is a tradition, but always there is a limit to it.

FOREIGN AEROPLANES OVER THE CANAL.

A dispatch from Panama conveys the interesting information that President Porras has signed a decree permitting foreign states to establish aircraft landing fields and fueling stations in the territory of the republic after obtaining the government's permission and on condition that Panama may use the fields for the landing of official planes.

This action is entirely within Panama's rights as a sovereign state, and we do not know any provision in our treaty with Panama which it offends. But it is equally clear that if there is no such treaty there ought to be. In fact, we believe our relations with the Panamanian republic ought to be given an overhauling. We cannot afford to tolerate conditions which are dangerous to our control of the canal, and we need to reconsider these conditions in the light of new methods and agencies of warfare and of new international alignments, responsibilities, and policies.

It is clear that if Panama permits the maintenance of landing fields and fueling stations to other nations than ourselves and one or more of these nations become unfriendly a new danger to the canal comes into being. The strip along the canal is a narrow one. The canal itself can easily be put out of order, and what in most cases would be a minor raid might if directed at the canal docks and works do a damage which would be of major consequence. But what is also to be considered is the advantage such aviation facilities would give to a perpetual surveillance of the canal by any power which may be looking forward to hostilities.

In peace time these landing stations would seem innocent enough, but in time of strain they would be a cause of anxiety, disadvantage, and danger.

The situation at Panama is not satisfactory, and it should be made so without procrastination. The Panamanian republic cannot defend its neutrality in case of war or the serious threat of war between the United States and another great power. Its government should recognize the inexorable fact that we shall take all necessary measures to defend the canal in serious emergency, even at the expense of Panama's sovereignty. Why blink this either at Washington or Panama? The law of self-preservation would and should dictate our course, not any academic theory of neutrality or independence, and since this is true, both nations would do well to give it a legal basis of operation by entering into a comprehensive treaty which should make it possible for us to develop fully the defense of the canal and to obviate any encroachments upon it. This would save Panamanian national amour propre and provide for proper compensation. We have no disposition to offend the one or avoid the other.

There should be granted a right of veto on acts of government which imperil the canal or embarrass its defense. The islands and other points commanding the immediate approaches of the canal should be put in our complete control either by lease or purchase in fee, and we think also that negotiations should be begun or reopened with Ecuador for the Galapagos islands.

THE AMERICAN'S HOME IS HIS ARSENAL.

A Chicago father who had a disappointing son shot him Sunday. The son had a police record for what we regard as minor derelictions in Chicago, much of it indicating violence. He married in spite of his father's protests. Eugenically the father may have been right. When the boy tried to bring his bride home to a reconciliation party the father, asserting self-defense, shot him. The little old one hand gun was just near by when it was needed in the family argument.

Another citizen of Chicago who ran a butcher shop had a disagreement with his wife over the discipline of an unruly boy. The wife threw two breakfast eggs at the husband, who replied by shooting her and himself. The man is dead, the woman is dying. Again the one hand gun was just where it was needed.

It's a great country and a great life, but frequently a person with a bullet in him weakens. The men have learned gun shooting from the women, and the children are learning it from their parents. For $1.18 or some such sum a mail order house will send you the little entertainer, and life will be cheerier thereafter. When bored take a shot at some one. It brightens the home. It brings in the police and the neighbors and makes a party.

Alongside the tooth brush rack in the bathroom the American household has the gun rack, and fastidiousness is indicated by the silver labels, "Papa," "Mamma," "Gertrude," "Myrtle," "Billy," "Jim," "Baby."

And Baby, who has his own nice little pearl handled .22 which grandma gave him on his second birthday, is taught that never, never may he try to bump any one off with Papa's .45. Then Mamma spank.

A LESSON FROM A BERLIN RAID.

The raiding of the Russian trade commission's quarters in Berlin by the police and the arrest of 700 listed as employés discloses some significant facts worth American consideration. On this list of alleged trade missionaries were found many German communists who have been fomenting Red disturbances. In the mission's quarters were found arms and propagandist literature of the Red International.

Thus we have a very neat demonstration of the hypocrisy of the Moscow government's absurd claim that it is not responsible for the international revolutionary operations of the communist International.

The denial was absurd, a palpable quibble; but our pinks and our advocates of recognition for trade have affected to believe it. The Berlin raid shows the soviet government acting as an agent for the International, which it in fact controls morally and financially.

Americans who think our refusal to recognize the soviet régime is pedantic, illogical, or impractical are invited to ponder the disclosures of the Berlin raid. There are no advantages from recognition in the way of business with a busted and demoralized country which would offset the nuisance which certainly would result from allowing Moscow to plant agencies of bolshevik mischief throughout the country under the disguise of diplomatic and consular forms and under the protection of diplomatic immunities.

WHAT THE LAKES-GULF WATERWAY WOULD DO.

In today's TRIBUNE is reproduced a map showing the tonnage carried and the savings in freight accomplished by the federal barge service of the Mississippi and Warrior line.

These barges transported 710,000 tons of freight in 1923, 655,789 in 1922, and 105,000 in 1919, indicating a gradual increase in the use of this agency. The Mississippi Valley association says the freight saving totaled $2,123,770 in thirty months, and it estimates the average saving per ton as compared to rail transportation at $1.40. Over half of the tonnage was handled in connection with hauls by railroads.

This is a good showing. What would it be if the lake to gulf waterway were realized? At present the barge line is shut off from the greatest distributing center of the country. The great waterway ends in the air.

The results accomplished by the barge line ought to hurry the waterway to its completion. It will mean millions annually in freight savings to the middle west.

Editorial of the Day

WHICH SHALL BE STOPPED?

[Decatur Herald.]

The country pictures the entire senate of the United States split up into committees, each of which is investigating something or somebody.

As a matter of fact, the Wheeler committee investigating the department of justice has only five members, while the Walsh committee, which is following up the oil lease trail, has thirteen, of whom only six or seven usually attend the sessions. These are the important investigating committees now sitting. Three senators only are investigating the indictment of Senator Wheeler.

To say that these investigations interfere with the "legitimate legislative functions of the senate" is ridiculous. There remain at least ninety senators who could bend themselves to a legislative program if they so desired.

In response to the cry now being raised that the investigations are hurting business, which shall be stopped?

The one that actually is hurting business beyond all doubt is that conducted by Senator Moses. About it the public has heard little. It resulted from the distress of 656 farmers who bought desert land in Texas on the representation that they were getting irrigated farms. A Texas judge enjoined them from even presenting to the postoffice department a petition reciting that they were defrauded. There is enough skulduggery in the Hidalgo land fraud cases to keep Senator Moses busy for some time.

But unquestionably the investigation has been unfortunate for the promoters. It has hurt the Hidalgo land business. To call it off, however, would be to demolish the faith of 656 men in democratic government and to convince a good many thousands that official crookedness can escape detection if the crooks have pull enough.

In Chicago this is known as "Baby Week."

The purpose of the designation and the activities connected therewith is to interest the public generally in infant welfare. The Chicago Infant Welfare society takes advantage of this celebration to collect the fairly large sum of money needed to maintain its infant welfare stations—more than twenty-five in number.

In coöperation with the health department, it is working to make the health of Chicago babies better.

For a number of years the Chicago death rate has been falling steadily. In 1921, 1922, and 1923, in spite of the very hot weather, there was no summer increase in total baby sickness.

The work must go on with increasing effectiveness. Boost for the babies.

LILLIPUTIAN RULES FOR CHILDREN.

"AND if it be found that these nurses ever presume to entertain the girls with frightful or foolish stories or the common follies practiced by chambermaids among us, they are publicly whipped thrice about the city, imprisoned for a year, and banished for life to the most desolate part of the country. Thus the young ladies there are as much ashamed of being cowards and fools as the men are."

In substance, this meant that any one who told a child a ghost story, "hant" story, or in any other way used fright and fear as a means of punishment, or even entertainment, was severely punished. This is not an extract from an up to the minute essay on mental habits of children or child training. It was written 200 years ago by Jonathan Swift.

The children know the book from which it was taken as "Gulliver's Travels."

"Gulliver's Travels" records four adventures in discovery by one Dr. Gulliver, a ship's surgeon. While the stories make a perfect appeal to the children, their real objectives were the minds of adults. The voyage to Lilliput is intended as a warning to the people of England and France of the folly of fighting each other. It was not long before 1914 that they learned the lesson—a wait of nearly 200 years—if it has been learned yet.

The quoted lesson that children should not be told ghost stories, or bogey stories, or frightened about the dark, or otherwise made afraid we have been just as slow about learning. It is a good lesson for us and our children, just as Gulliver found it to be for the Lilliputian children.

I assume that the Lilliputians never frightened their boys, although Dr. Gulliver does not say so. What he says was that the girls were as brave and sensible as the boys were, presumably because ghost stories and bogey stories were not used in the training of either.

Dr. Gulliver tells us of many other good methods employed by the Lilliputians in the training of their children. They were fed simple foods and dressed in plain clothes. They were kept constantly employed in some business. Among the businesses in which they were employed was play. In the business with which children are occupied none is more productive of good and of greater educational value than the right kind of play. Rewards were as important as punishments in the Lilliputian plan of child training. Fraud was regarded as equal in importance to theft as a vice.

One part of Jonathan Swift's plan which does not meet the approval of present day authorities in child training is the institution idea. The Russians have been trying that since 1917. It is not working. Children need mother love. They need home care. The home will have to go to pieces far worse than it is now, or that any one will foresee, before it reaches the level of an institution. The home is the place for the baby.

To almost an equal degree it is the place for a child between babyhood and 7 years of age.

BABY WON'T DRINK MILK.

Mrs. C. O. M. writes: My baby girl, 11 months old, refuses to drink milk. What must I do about it? I realize she should take milk, but after two or three spoonfuls she turns her head and cries and "cuts up" as if she cannot swallow any more.

I nurse her at 6 a. m. and 10 p. m., but feed her at the other three meals. I give cream of wheat, egg, orange juice, crackers (but she spits the most of them out), and occasionally broth. I want to wean her by the time she is a year old, and it worries me that she will not take milk.

REPLY.

Get her weaned and well trained before the warm weather comes.

If you nurse her twice a day she gets all the milk she wants. When you stop nursing her, she may take milk. If not, give her as much milk as you conveniently can with her cereal, in cooked foods, such as puddings and let it go at that.

Vegetables and fruits such as orange supply lots of growth principle.

Give her a good deal of butter on her bread and cereal and on her vegetables.

I am sure you can keep her growing normally with these foods and such milk as you can get her to take.

DIVIDING THE PROPERTY.

Chicago, May 1.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Please advise whether or not half brothers and sisters are entitled to share a bachelor brother's estate. He died without having made a will. Or can his full sister give a clear title to the property left to her and him without the other half brothers and sisters signing the deed? All the children had the same mother. She is now dead. M. C.

Illinois statute provides that half blood shall share equally with the full blood.

WORTHLESS STOCK.

Chicago, May 1.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Two years ago I purchased from an investment house two shares of common stock on the partial payment plan. The stock certificates were not delivered after the final payment, various excuses being given. Then the firm went out of business. A year later I wrote to the former president insisting on the return of my money on account of nondelivery of the stock. After nine months of correspondence he sent me the certificates. Have I the right to demand my money in lieu of the certificates, as the stock is worthless? H. E. K.

Apparently you are entitled to insist upon the return of your money, if you have not waived such right by acceptance of certificate or otherwise. We advise you to go over all the facts with an attorney.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

CITIZENSHIP THROUGH NATURALIZATION.

Chicago, May 4.—[Friend of the People.]—A young woman who came to this country at the age of 2 years wants to know if she is a citizen. Her father received his final citizenship papers when she was 17 years old, four years ago. Did that automatically make her a citizen? R. J.

Since her father was fully naturalized before she became of age, she automatically became a United States citizen through her father's naturalization.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 6, 1864.

WASHINGTON.—Gen. Lee is retreating toward Richmond with all possible speed. The Army of the Potomac has advanced toward the rebel capital. Gen. Grant crossed the Rapidan at Jacob, Culpeper, Germania, and other fords without serious opposition. Every hour may bring news of a big battle. Some expect Lee will make his stand at Chancellorsville.

FORTRESS MONROE.—The rebels have evacuated Plymouth and all of eastern North Carolina to swell the ranks of Lee's army.

CLEVELAND.—There was a heavy snowfall along the lake shore and for some distance inland.

NEW YORK.—Advices from Mexico are that the French were defeated in Oaxaca. It is also claimed Alvarez has openly declared for Juarez and is fortifying himself in Acapulco, which is blockaded by French ships.

SPRINGFIELD.—Reports from all over the state are that recruiting of the "hundred day" troops is going on rapidly, with enthusiastic war meetings being held in many cities.

CHICAGO.—The Illinois State Medical association, holding its convention here, inspected the various hospitals and medical schools.

NEW YORK.—Andrew Carnegie, the greatest manufacturer in the world, has sold out to the new steel trust. This removes the last obstacle to a consolidation of practically all steel producing companies in the United States. The trust will have a capital of $800,000,000 and Henry Clay Frick will be its president.

CAPE TOWN.—President Kruger has rejected the demands of Great Britain that he cancel the dynamite concession. He insists the Transvaal is entitled to its opinion of what is for its best interests.

CHICAGO.—Gen. Russell A. Alger, secretary of war, inspected the drainage canal and afterward declared he will favor a permit for the sanitary district to withdraw 300,000 cubic feet of water a minute from Lake Michigan. The inspection party was in charge of President Boldenweck and Trustees Frank Wenter and A. J. Jones of the district.

DULUTH.—Street car strikers and sympathizers used dynamite to derail and wreck cars which the company undertook to run.

CHICAGO.—Charles T. Yerkes left for New York, and it is understood that the deal for the sale of his Chicago street car properties to an eastern syndicate is near consummation.

CHICAGO.—Evanston police issued an order against riding bicycles on the sidewalks, and thereupon students, staid professors and others gave the police an unhappy day by "forgetting" the order and laughing at the "bluecoats."

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

MAY 6, 1914.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of State Bryan announced that the three South American mediators in the dispute between the United States and Mexico will meet at Niagara Falls on May 18 to begin the hearings.

WASHINGTON.—President Wilson sent to the senate the nomination of Julius F. Smietanka to be collector of internal revenue at Chicago.

WASHINGTON.—The house judiciary committee reported without recommendation resolutions for constitutional amendments to prohibit the sale of liquor and to enfranchise women.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

AND LO! yesterday we walked out of doors and looked around and it was summer! But a few weeks—it seems almost days—it was winter, yes winter, with drifting snow and piercing winds. And then, just as it used to happen in a melodrama over in the Bijou theater in Halsted street, after the third act had shown us the poor little heroine turned out into the storm, "Yes, get you out into the night, you and your brat, you are no longer daughter of mine," and the curtain comes down with little Nell being covered by the drifting snow—

SUDDENLY the curtain goes up again. It is summer time now down on the dear old farm and the flowers are in bloom and the hero is saying: "Back again to the dear old homestead. Ah, 'tis twenty years since I last saw the old place and it seems but yesterday."

THE CHANGE, winter to summer, in Chicago this year has been just as sudden as that. And we like it because contrasts are what makes life worth living. We liked winter in contrast to the hot, sultry days of August. And we love spring because of its contrast to the bleakness and cold of winter. Now, in a tropical or near tropical climate like—well, say the Philippines—we enjoy the genial climate for awhile and then we get bored to tears. Because there's no contrasts. It's Browning who says:

Rejoice that man is hurled
From change to change unceasingly,
His soul's wings never furled.

CORRECT!

RHL: As you and Snowshoe won't enlighten Ruth and other anxious inquirers, let me assure them that what the farmer said the first time he saw a giraffe was: "There's one born every minute." MISS VAN.

Oh, Tell Us About the Snake Dance, Cactus.

R. H. L.: Listen, little Gumdrop; you come to the Snake Dance this summer and fetch along that hombre Snowshoe Al for guest de resistance; Bitterroot Bill for romance; P. D. Gog for erudition; Helen Henna for wit—she couldn't be beautiful as well?—life ain't like that; perhaps Pat for flapper charm, or Apples, she sounded like a nice kid. But put the gypsy's curse on that there Mel-O'D. C'mon out, Oldtimer. Gorgeous ceremonial, and great gobs of Arizona Night. You ain't seen nothin' yet. CACTUS KATE.

Quit, Dearie, You Are Breaking Our Heart.

R. H. L.: I can't make the Line, I didn't hear you sing, I don't know what the farmer said when he saw the camel, and no one looks at my shoes. Do you know where I could find a little sassafras? E. V. A.

OH, STOP! STOP! YOU'VE OVERLOOKED VOX POP.

R. H. L.: What to do? I have a Big Ben, in the usual good working order, for which I have no use. I should be glad to give it to some worthy person. (Please refer to Sally Joy Brown.)

I live in a suburb amid big trees and birds—swallows, robins, sparrows, and woodpeckers. A bright, new eaves trough of tin borders the roof of the house. Daily, at 5 a. m., daylight saving time (4 a. m. standard), three or four woodpeckers start a tattoo on the tin that sounds like a drunken drum corps. How I long for an apartment in crowded Chicago! (Please refer to your Want Ad Man.) How can I get rid of these tinpeckers? (Please refer to Bob Becker.) Is there a law against shooting them? (Please refer to the Friend of the People.)

I am losing a lot o' sleep. Is this injurious to my health? I am 5 feet 10 inches and snore. (Please refer to docevans.) What to do? B. B.

Pardon Us, Chicago Is the Fifth Largest.

R. H. L.: If old bronze Christopher Columbus can't come back and run away with Germania, standing in front of the Theodore Thomas memorial, why not ship her to Milwaukee? R. C.

BUT DID THEY?

R. H. L.: Just lamped Steamer's poem about the Soldiers of the Sea. Nice, catchy poem, but is he sure that there were only two of them? You know the old song?—

Ten thousand gobs
Laid down their swabs
To lick one U. S. marine.

That goes for doughboys, too.
"95TH OF THE 6TH."

But, How Did They Ring Up Their Sales?

Oh, R. H. L.: Who dares to condemn the "Y" for anything it did during the war? I was an Overseas Secretary and I know that we worked for days and days to train dogs that would carry tobacco and cigarettes out to the buddies. Why, we even had dogs trained to follow with cash registers strapped to their backs. STAN—K.

WE RADIOED "Oh Pardon Me," and Len Small was renominated; we radioed our bonus poem, "And No One Put a Veto on That," and yesterday the Trib said that Cal's veto of the Bursum pension bill might be a forecast of his action on the bonus-insurance bill. Somehow we're beginning to think that the influence of the radio has been terribly overestimated. Cal, were you listening when we recited our bonus poem over the radio? Maybe what you heard was the Drake jazz band. If you weren't listening in, we'll do it again, or we'll mail you a galley proof.

RIDE 'IM, COWBOY!

Tipperary Harry: Pardner when you mentioned Wyoming you closed the subject. Before being able to walk I was riding the fences on the C — Y ranch and chasing the beef roundup over the Sweetwater country. Many is the time on the road from Casper to Lost Cabin I've passed the tree where Cattle Kate was hung before Owen Wister painted that same country in his "Virginian." I've chased long-horns up from Texas, chased the rainbow of gold on the desert of Sonora, battled with the toughest in the oil boom at Tampico, and followed the lure of the open trail through Nevada and Arizona, but nowhere did the starry firmament look so glorious as it does in October in Wyoming. Brother, when you speak of the Little Big Horn, The Sweetwater, Jackson Hole, and the Bad Lands of Powder River you are speaking of the very, very best. Powder River, a mile wide and an inch deep, and she runs uphill, is the sweetest music in all this great wide world. SLIM LEE.

MY TROUBADOUR.

(SUNNY, A PERSIAN CAT.)

O you should see my troubadour!
His coat is golden fluff.
He always wears a golden plume
And sports a gorgeous ruff.

His fiery eyes are big and black,
His whiskers fierce and long,
And you should see him ply his harp
And hear him purr his song.

He purrs of love and love and love,
This troubadour of mine,
And he would sing the same love-song,
If I were eighty-nine.

BETTY.

FRANK LOWDEN and many others have convinced us that we had better speak now or it may be too late. So we wish to say that we are not a candidate for the Vice Presidency, we will never be a candidate for the Vice Presidency, and we would not accept the nomination if it were offered to us. R. H. L.

LET THE BATTLESHIPS DO THE SCRAPPING.

Chicago, May 2.—Allow the writer to congratulate your editorial editor upon his article in reference to Mr. Wilbur's statement to the Young Women's Christian association in New York in reference to the joy that he experienced in witnessing the scrapping of our battleships.

It is annoying enough to have among our citizenry a crowd of narrow minded idealists who think that the only way to have peace is to abolish the national defenses of our country without encouraging this crowd by having the secretary of our navy join in their belief.

The writer still believes that a majority of Americans are patriotic enough to believe in strengthening their national defenses, but he feels that these patriotic Americans should begin to voice their opinions in order to check this dangerous wave of so-called pacifism which will, if left alone, undermine the foundation of our constitution.
JOS. TRINER.

AGAINST THE GENTLEMAN'S AGREEMENT.

Pesotum, Ill., May 1.—Why should President Coolidge postpone the effective date of the Japanese exclusion bill? It is no use in waiting. The longer you wait the more trouble will crop out. Mr. Coolidge's postponement is based upon his idea, "Bar them, but not peeve them." Meanwhile he will endeavor to make the Japanese work out their own exclusion act, under the terms of which Japan will refuse to issue passports to the Japanese immigrants who desire to come to the United States.

But this is the same old idea Theodore Roosevelt had in his mind. The gentlemen's agreement was framed with this idea, but it was nothing more than a miserable fizzle. In the first year of the gentlemen's agreement there were about 2,500 Japanese in California. But now the number reaches 90,000. In other words, under the gentlemen's agreement the Japanese were colonizing the western coast of this country. It will be wise for Mr. Coolidge not to repeat the same old mistake. N. Y. PARK.

NOW TELL US WHAT THE PUBLIC DOES WANT.

Chicago, April 25.—Why is it that radio broadcasting should so quickly sink to the level of the tawdry and cheap? When one sits down of an evening to hear some good music, song or pleasant humor his ears are rewarded and much time taken up with free offers of loud speakers, phusiformers, chances on automobiles, lots and whatnot, and always that inveterate request for telegrams, more telegrams. One would suspect the radio broadcasters were in league with the telegraph companies. Then each telegram must be read to the whole country with a personal quip by the announcer to set it off.

They all have something to give away and are telegram crazy. If all this is a deep laid plot to sell radio goods or advertise some newspaper or other business, I do not see it.

MAKE THE NAVY EFFICIENT.

Chicago, May 1.—In our office we are strongly hoping that THE TRIBUNE will use its facilities to determine and give its readers the proofs as to the truth or falsity of the recurring claim that the nation's great arm of defense, its navy, has been permitted to decline to the status of that of a fifth rate power, lacking in nearly all the important essentials, unfit and helpless if required to cope with either of the three other principal powers.

To the astounding charges and revelations of Expert Shearer, Senators Swanson and King of the naval affairs committee answer, "O, no, not at all so—we ought to have a few more cruisers, aside from that we have the world's best navy." But then deposes the fleet's commander, Admiral Coontz, that in the recent maneuvers the fleet as a unit could not show speed of even ten knots, that the performance of the submarines was a complete failure, that we require the rebuilding and providing anew of practically everything in modern sea warfare, from 10,000 ton swift cruisers and airplanes to gun deck covers, taking years of time, and that even with such herculean undertaking performed, if we are to credit experts and others, we would yet have no right naval stations, and no naval bases anywhere, while our rivals have them by the score.

To the layman it seems utterly unaccountable that such conditions can be possible, yet the weight of evidence being given out seems to prove the truth of the charges.

How, then, can we tolerate or even imagine what can explain how such shameful situation has been permitted? Where does the responsibility belong? Has our congress no eyes or thought or concern for the honor and the safety of this nation? Have the cabinet officials none? Has the highest official of the land, even the commander-in-chief? Will THE TRIBUNE continue and exhaust the inquiry as to this stupendously important matter, and let its readers know what are the actual facts, for by comparison with this question, Teapot Dome and Muscle Shoals dwindle to insignificance.

Write a quit claim to the Philippines, but let us try to take prompt steps to provide for the defense of New York and our other coast cities, east and west, to find all weak places and safeguard them. G. F. B.

WHAT THE LANDLORD THINKS.

Chicago, April 25.—Why does the press of Chicago print statements such as credited to J. R. Patterson of the Tenants' league when such statements are not the facts and have an inclination to cause discontent among the public?

Mr. Patterson says, "The tax rates are virtually the same as last year." My taxes this year were $209, as against $152 last year. My near neighbors received a proportionate advance. Can the landlords absorb this, or must they pass it on? Ask any business man. There may be some hogs among the landlords, but in justice to those who are charging a nominal rental for flats I do not think such statements as Mr. Patterson's should be given space in the newspapers.

Let the rent payers know there has been an advance in taxes and do not play politics. R. W. STYLES.

Elmer Woos New Tube and Gets On Well

Only Wishes Announcers Would Announce.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Not so bad!
'Twas not so bad!

Used a new UV 200 detector tube, with a decided orange color; I'm now strong for orange.

First turn brought in KDKA, Pittsburgh, broadcasting a concert by the Chamber of Commerce chorus at Carnegie Music hall. Couldn't ask for anything any better.

Landed in a nearby city without a name—waited don't know how long to find out it was WGR, Buffalo. The artists did their part better than the announcer. Don't forget, announcer, that it's nice to hear the conductor ring out, "This is WGR, Buffalo, N. Y."

Enjoyed the "Dragon Dance" by the KDKA Little Symphony orchestra; also the piano and violin arrangement of John Alden Carpenter's "Concerto in D Major." That's patronizing American composers. Mr. Carpenter is of Chicago and Chicago is in America.

Appreciated the announcer at WLW, Cincinnati—"Cincinnati with its beautiful parks and especially the Ohio valley with its famous zöological garden, hills, and wonderful scenecy."

At 9:45 a lady at WCBD, Zion, was giving a musical reading of "The Tramp Musician," by Brooks. Following this at the request of some people at a wedding anniversary in Chicago, the Zion mixed quartet sang "Home, Sweet Home," by Bishop. Imagined there must have been many moist eyes in that home.

Tee, tee, tee—you know, a tick every second—the next dash will be at 10 o'clock—"WOO, Philadelphia, transmitting Arlington time signals. This was the first time I had heard this retransmission from Arlington. Havana Casino followed with their ripity-rip dance selections."

The buzzer fiend who came in on WTAS, Elgin, at a moment when a man in the studio was handing the announcer a $5 bill for the Chicago fireman's relief fund—well, one word from us ought to cure him forever.

While Harry Snodgrass at WOS, Jefferson City, was playing a piano selection a co-listener with me said: "Can't you take that noise away?" Static was meaningless to him; happy or unhappy boy!

11:15, a dance in Cleveland.
Well, there's no static in youth.

ASSEMBLYMAN J. W. M'CARTHY DIES AT LEMONT

State Representative John W. McCarthy, who was completing his fourth consecutive term as assemblyman from the Seventh district, died in his home at Lemont last night shortly after collapsing during a political conference in his office.

McCarthy came to Lemont with his parents when 1 year old, and it had been his home for the last sixty-three years. He served the community as a school teacher, town supervisor, mayor of Lemont, and president of the school board. In the recent primaries he was renominated as Democratic candidate for assemblyman. A widow and one son survive.

"I Think I Can! I Think I Can!"

And the Little Engine did. He puffed and chugged and tugged and pulled the little train of cars over the mountain so that the children might have their Christmas toys. But first he thought he could.

Every child who owns My BOOK HOUSE knows and loves the story of "The Little Engine that Could". He loves the generosity, courage and perseverance of the Little Engine. He sees the value of these qualities and most important of all he applies them to his problems.

Think what it means to the child to meet any obstacle with the confidence and persistence learned from this story. Think what it means for him to be able to say with the Little Engine, "I thought I could!"

My BOOK HOUSE is different from other children's books. It presents reading of a high literary standard which children will enjoy and which will strengthen and build character. It gives children the very best stories and poems obtainable, selected from a wide range of sources by one who is "a writer, an educator, and herself a mother." Six volumes, 2560 pages. Its 537 titles represent 197 authors and 36 countries. The illustrations are "unforgetable." Selected, edited, graded and indexed by Olive Beaupré Miller.

DRY AMENDMENT NO BAR TO BEER, COMMITTEE VIEW

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—The house judiciary committee is satisfied that congress con legalize the sale of 2.75 per cent beer without nullifying or effecting the eighteenth amendment, Representative L. C. Dyer [Rep., Mo.], a member of the committee, said in a statement tonight. Mr. Dyer's statement follows:

"The witnesses presented by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and other organizations interested in the modification of the Volstead act to permit the sale of 2.75 beer, I believe, have convinced the members of the judiciary committee that the sale of 2.75 per cent beverages may be permitted without violation of the eighteenth amendment.

"The so-called 'wet' forces placed their case before the committee in a clear manner and I have hopes that our committee will make some kind of a report to the house so that we may obtain a record vote on the question before the close of this session of congress.

"Hearings will be resumed before our committee Thursday when the 'dry' forces will present their argument against 2.75 per cent beverages. They will, no doubt, maintain that this percentage of alcohol is intoxicating, and therefore the eighteenth amendment will have to be amended before it is possible to permit the sale of such beverages."

EVERY ONE TALKS BUT BRIDES AT HEARING ON WRIT

When the habeas corpus suit of two young husbands who seek to win release of their wives, who are sisters, from detention supposedly imposed by their mother, was called yesterday before Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch, everybody talked except the two girls.

The husbands, Frank Jummati and his nephew, Joseph Palmisano, said the mother, Mrs. Peter Lannas, 719 North Homan avenue, was imprisoning her daughters, Mrs. Marie Palmisano, 14, and Mrs. Rose Jummati, 16. The mother assailed the husbands, insisting the girls had come home to her voluntarily, and wanted to stay.

The young wives stood mute. Their attorney, William Mannion, wanted the judge to hear them. He will today.

IRELAND TO SEND PROF. SMIDDY AS MINISTER TO U. S.

Britain Gives Consent to Appointment.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, May 5.—Within a few days an announcement will be made of the appointment of Prof. Timothy A. Smiddy as minister plenipotentiary of the Irish Free State to Washington. Great Britain has given its consent and has notified all the other dominions of the pending appointment, and all that is required now is formal notification from Washington that Prof. Smiddy is persona grata.

Prof. Smiddy's status and powers will be similar to those suggested for the Canadian envoy when this appointment was discussed a couple of years ago. Prof. Smiddy will concern himself only with Irish affairs and will have no connection with the British ambassador. Canada also has abandoned the plan of having an assistant to the British ambassador, which was the idea of Sir Robert Borden.

Mackenzie King, the present Canadian premier, is said to favor the Irish idea of independent representation. The reason for this is his belief that the other dominions might object to being represented by a man whose first duty is to look after the interests of his own dominion.

May Disarm Irish Propaganda.

Prof. Smiddy, who is now in Washington, was a professor at the National university of Cork, and has already unofficially represented the free state in America. His specialty is economics, and it is expected that most of his work will be connected with trade and economic questions.

It is hoped that this appointment will disarm much Irish republican propaganda in America, which now makes great play of the fact that Ireland is represented by the British ambassador. The American appointment is regarded by the free state as most important, although the expense to the young government is great.

Asks Ulster Boundary Commission.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, May 5.—J. H. Thomas, colonial secretary, announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the government has requested Ulster to appoint a member to the Irish boundary commission.

The Irish conference ten days ago collapsed after Sir James Craig's refusal to appoint a delegate, but the proceedings then were only in the preliminary stage. If in response to the formal request announced by Mr. Thomas today Ulster still refuses, the situation will be grave, according to the view held here.

Mr. Thomas said the free state already had named its commissioner in accordance with Article 12 of the treaty.

YOUNG FELLER OF 98 "GITS AN IDEE HE'S GITTIN' OLD"

Samuel Hale—who won't cut his finger nails because, he tell you, "I'm afeared I might lose my strength, the way Samson did in the Bible"—celebrated his ninety-eighth birthday yesterday by finally conceding that he is getting old.

Heretofore Samuel, who has no home of his own, has spent his time boarding 'round with the good folks who cared to take him in. For the last two decades he's always brought his troubles to Mrs. Lillian Hindman, social worker at the South Chicago station, and it was to her he confided that he was beginning to feel a bit elderly.

"Today's my ninety-eighth birthday," he said. "I wonder if I'm about old enough to live at the Oak Forest infirmary? I'd certainly like to."

So that's Samuel's address now.

SIX THEFTS IN TWO WEEKS.

Arthur Chapp of 935 North Mozart street and Fred Mintz of 1635 North Ashland avenue, both 18, were held to the grand jury in bonds of $1,500 each yesterday after they admitted commiting six robberies in two weeks.

THOMPSON AIMS NEW BROADSIDE TO SINK LUNDIN

Petition Signed by 500,000 to Gov. Small.

BY PARKE BROWN.

There will be room for at least 500,000 signatures on the petition being prepared by William Hale Thompson as a popular demonstration in support of his demand that Gov. Len Small oust Fred Lundin as his Cook county vice regent.

The former mayor has called a meeting of his ward leaders in his office this afternoon and there he will distribute the first batch of the petition forms. The first order to the printer was for 10,000 of these sheets and it is reported that the second order already has gone in for an additional 10,000. Each sheet carries ruled lines for twenty-five signatures. Twenty-five times 20,000 is 500,000. And there may be other orders later.

It is understood that even before the official day for the distribution several hundred of the forms have been given to ardent workers who have reported back that the demand for the chance to sign up against Lundin is overwhelming. This is said to have been the reason for the second order to the printer.

West Park Inquiry.

But in the face of this popular uprising the Lundin west park board, which began operations last Saturday by carrying out Gov. Small's instructions to elect Dr. John Dill Robertson as president, took its second step in a direction reminiscent of Robertson methods when he was named to save the day at the school board.

It was upon the former health commissioner's initiative that the board unanimously adopted a resolution authorising Dr. Robertson to employ efficiency experts to go over the park system, audit the books and make recommendations for an "increase in administrative efficiency."

In a letter proposing the resolution President Robertson called attention to reports of mismanagement and misconduct by two of the trustees ousted by Gov. Small. He asked a "thorough investigation in a strictly impartial manner."

Statement by Kruse.

But almost simultaneously John C. Kruse, who held the presidency of the board for about six hours before he was declared ousted, was issuing a formal statement asserting that he is still president and charging that "forces of corruption have been in the saddle in the west park district."

"My sole purpose in continuing the fight for control of the west park board," he said, "is because I am anxious to protect the taxpayers of the west park district from further raids on the west park treasury through shady contracts and inflated pay rolls.

"In the few days I had the authority to investigate affairs of the west parks I found conditions were such that it required drastic action to clean up things in order to protect the purses of the people and the district."

Second Fall in Week May Be Fatal to Boy

Phillip Linick, 5 years old, 1446 North Leavitt street, yesterday for the second time in a week fell from a window in the building in which he lives. Last Tuesday he tumbled from the first floor and suffered a deep cut on his nose. Yesterday he fell from the second floor. He was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where physicians say that his skull is probably fractured.

GIRL ADMITS 2 "FIBS" AND HER SUITOR IS FREED

Miss Marie Jesse, 6516 South California avenue, admitted in the Grand Crossing court yesterday that she told two "fibs" in obtaining a warrant for the arrest of her former fiancé, Charles Clark, 6154 South Washtenaw avenue. She confessed the ring he had given her contained "a beautiful diamond," and not a piece of glass, as she had charged. She also had claimed Clark left her at the altar last Wednesday.

"As a matter of fact I had no date to be married to Miss Jesse on Wednesday," said Clark. "I'll admit I did leave her at the altar on three former occasions and once got as far as taking out a license last September, but changed my mind."

Clark agreed not to bother her again by making wedding dates and he was discharged.

D'Annunzio Manuscripts to Be Sold for Duse Memorial

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, May 5.—Marquis Bottini arrived in London today with all the original manuscripts of Gabriel d'Annunzio's plays and novels, which he intends to offer for auction. With the money thus obtained the warrier poet intends to build a great monument to Eleonora Duse. The manuscripts at one time brought an offer of $200,000 together, or $6,000 each, from an American collector, but D'Annunzio did not need the money then.

WHO ever heard Paderewski, De Pachmann, and Lhevinne at the same concert? To hear one of them is an event to be long remembered. Yet a light touch of the hand brings all of them—and many others—in one evening into your own home.

It is little short of miraculous how—

Confer with Hylan.

In New York Mgr. Kelly will confer with Mayor Hylan, and complete details of the welcome which will be accorded the new cardinal as he is taken off the Berengaria by a special tender with the reception committee on board.

A delegation of 130 laymen headed by D. F. Kelly, K. S. G., chairman of the Chicago laymen's committee, will leave Chicago tomorrow, meeting the clergymen in New York, where a dinner will be held at the Hotel Vanderbilt the evening before Cardinal Mundelein's arrival.

Cardinal Mundelein, accompanied by members of both delegations, will leave New York Saturday morning at 10:50 o'clock on a special train over the Baltimore and Ohio. He will arrive at Leavitt and 55th streets, Chicago, on Sunday at noon, daylight saving time. The trip thence will be between lines formed by 140,000 parochial school children.

EXPECTED FRIDAY

New York, May 5.—George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, who recently was invested with the red hat, in company with Patrick Cardinal Hayes of New York, will be a banquet guest of honor of the United States Steel corporation next Friday night upon his arrival from Rome.

James A. Farrell, president of the corporation, today announced that his emissaries abroad had conveyed the invitation to Cardinal Mundelein and that it had been accepted. So far as is known, the banquet is the only function in the nature of a homecoming welcome to be scheduled in this city in honor of the Chicago prelate, as the cardinal is known to have declined several invitations to participate in public ceremonies.

According to the present schedule, Cardinal Mundelein will arrive here at noon Friday. He will attend the steel corporation banquet that evening, and will be the overnight guest of Cardinal Hayes at the archepiscopal residence.

Mr. Farrell explained that the Friday night banquet would be an expression of gratitude to Cardinal Mundelein for his work among Mexican employes of the steel corporation in Chicago.

Plan Big Celebration.

Delegations of 100 clergymen and 150 laymen will arrive Wednesday morning from Chicago to meet the cardinal.

The delegation will pay its respects to Cardinal Hayes, who returned ahead of Cardinal Mundelein Thursday afternoon, marching from the Vanderbilt hotel to the cardinal's palace, where he will hold a reception in its honor.

The trip to the Battery Friday morning will be made in seventy-five automobiles. Two steamers will carry the Chicagoans and a number of New York and Brooklyn men down the bay.

Aside from Rodman Wanamaker, chairman of the mayor's reception committee, Mayor Hylan, who is an old personal friend of Cardinal Mundelein, Police Commissioner Enright and Commissioner Grover A. Whalen, are expected to be aboard the steamers which are to meet the Berengaria. Bishop Malloy of Brooklyn, where the cardinal was formerly an auxiliary bishop; Bishop Ledvina of Corpus Christi, Texas; James A. Farrell of the United States Steel corporation, John Hughes and Nicholas Brady, also are to be in the party.

Music by Bands.

The police band and police glee club will greet the cardinal at the pier, whence the procession will move to the Vanderbilt, where the cardinal will stop.

Cardinal Mundelein probably will remain at the hotel until he departs for Chicago Saturday morning.

PROVES PHYSICIANS CORRECT.

H. W. Scroggin, 45, of Memphis, Tenn., dropped dead yesterday in a crowded street car at Wabash avenue and Adams street. A grip contained a note, which said: "Physicians have informed me I have leakage of the heart," and gave his address "if anything should happen."

DUCHESS GOES BEGGING; G. O. P. WANTS 'EM LIVE

A pedestal or a rendering plant; a grand niche in some museum or a parcel of malodorous soap grease—these are alternatives which this morning confront the body of the Duchess, Lincoln park's 90 year old elephant, as she lay cold in death in the animal house.

When both the Chicago Historical society and the Field museum refused the pachyderm's body yesterday, Fred W. Upham, member of the Republican national committee, was appealed to in the hope that the Duchess being a symbol of the G. O. P., he might be induced to bear the $1,500 expense of having her stuffed.

But, no: "We want live elephants, not dead ones" Mr. Upham said.

Speculators Fall By the Wayside While Investors March on to Happiness and Financial Independence

Buying property upon which increased valuations are predicted upon the possibility of good transportation reaching it at some future time is speculation—not investment. It is likely that the time spent in waiting for a profit will create a cost in carrying charges that will wipe out the later profit—if it ever comes. The wise buyer of property is the man who buys close to existing, operating transportation—property that is sold with all improvements in and paid for, including sewer, water, sidewalks, gas, electricity and paving. More important than any of these, however, is adequate and sensible zoning and building restrictions and the fact that we do support the property with buildings, eliminating all guesswork as to the development.

Two-Apartments on Restricted Property

You will find no subdivisions in Chicago to duplicate those developed by Zelosky. Mr. Zelosky was restricting his properties and zoning them for residences, apartments and business buildings long before the zoning laws were passed in Chicago. To drive through a Zelosky property is a lesson in orderliness—a picture of sensible zoning, with definite areas restricted to certain types of building. The startling increases in valuations on these properties are directly traceable to the zoning restrictions that have kept them beautiful. Yet it really costs less to build the Zelosky Way than to buy a vacant lot from one source and hire an independent builder to improve it. It will pay any man who wants the best that his money can buy to investigate Zelosky properties before buying. A small down payment buys a lot—and we will build when 25% of the cost of the lot and building has been paid. You pay for a home whether you own it or not, so why not own it? Stop being a renter NOW.

The Two-Apartment Building
by William Zelosky

For the average family the detached brick two-apartment home is economically 100% perfect. The rent from one apartment helps to pay the fixed charges such as interest and taxes and the home owner occupying the other apartment can easily take care of the property. This saving and additional income enables him to meet his payments promptly and surely and eventually the tenant will pay for the building.

Von Bernstorff Elected.

The notables elected were Count von Bernstorff, Dr. Dernburg, and Prof. Schuecking, Democrats; Herr Mirth, Herr Fehrenbach, Chancellor Marx, Catholics; Herr Stresemann, People's party; Herr Hilferding and Herr Scheideman, Socialists; Admiral von Tirpitz, Prince Otto Bismarck, Dr. Dryander, the former kaiser's chaplain, Nationalists; Gen. von Ludendorff and Herr Eifferich, his associate in the Bavarian beer hall revolution, Fascisti; Clara Zetkin, Ruth Fisher, and M. Heckert, representative of the Third Internationale, Communists. Ruth Fischer headed the Communist list and becomes the speaker of the Communists in the reichstag.

Eight women parliamentarians were chosen. This may be increased, but it is certain that only a fraction of the former women's strength of thirty-four will be attained.

French Fear for Dawes Plan.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, May 5.—French official circles are relieved to find that the ultra Nationalists failed to switch the German elections. Some apprehension is felt over the added strength of the Communists.

It is pointed out here, however, that if the Nationalists, Fascisti, and the Communists vote together against the new laws required to make the reparations experts' report operative, it will be impossible for the German government to put through the measures, especially those modifying the constitution of Weimar.

"The laws demanded by the experts will suffer either attacks from Admiral von Tirpitz or Moscow," points out the Temps, declaring the center party must seek an alliance with either the extreme reactionaries or the Communists.

British Fear Delay.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, May 5.—The returns from the German elections as received today have caused grave concern in British official circles. With some ninety seats in the hands of Nationalistic deputies in the reichstag, indications are that whatever sort of coalition government is formed it will be unable to govern. Under the present conditions, with London, Paris, and Rome making every effort to get together on the Dawes reparations plan, this is considered particularly unfortunate, as it seems likely that everything now will be held up. The new elections are visualized here as probably resulting in a further delay in the application of the experts' report.

Bavarian Cabinet Resigns.

BERLIN, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The Bavarian landtag has been dissolved, says a message from Munich today. The cabinet headed by Dr. von Knilling has resigned.

FLIES A MILE IN HELICOPTER, POINT TO POINT

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, May 5.—That France is smashing all aero records was proven today when for the first time in history the famous French aero inventor, Ettenne Oehmichen, made a sensational flight of nearly a mile in a helicopter, starting at a given point and returning to it. Over the triangle course the machine kept at an average height of three feet, and sometimes as much as nine feet, accomplishing the circuit in seven minutes and forty seconds.

The machine carries a 180 horse power engine and a five foot gyroscope for stabilization, has no wheels, and lands on eight spring legs, similar to pogo sticks

This flight gives the inventor a prize of 90,000 francs (about $15,000) awarded by the French aviation service.

HOTEL ROOM BANDIT CLAIMS NEW VICTIM

The latest victim of hotel room banditry—a form of robbery that has recently come into popular vogue among Chicago's crooks—announced himself at the detective bureau last night as E. W. Aufderheide of Pekin, Ill.

While sitting with his back towards the door of his room in the Hotel Morrison, reading a newspaper, Aufderheide was surprised by a man with a gun. The stranger threatened to shoot and then bound Aufderheide to his chair.

He left with $300, a gold watch, and a diamond ring.

FACTIONS HURT FIRE FIGHTERS, WITNESS SAYS

Organizations of officers and men within the fire department have brought disruption and discord into the service and ruined its morale, First Assistant Fire Marshal John C. McDonnell, admitted to the council's special inquiry committee yesterday.

The committee named by Mayor Dever and headed by Ald. Guy Guernsey [6th], is attempting to trace Fire Commissioner John F. Cullerton's responsibility for alleged factionalism, waste, graft, and mismanagement in the department.

"Chicago's fire department is rotten with organizations of one kind or another," declared Marshal McDonnell. "There is the Mutual Aid association and the Benevolent association, both worthy groups. Then there is a captains' association, a lieutenant's association, an engineers' association, an assistant engineers' association, and a firemen's association."

"Over Organized," He Says.

"I take it from what you say," interposed Ald. Charles S. Eaton [5th], the committee's examiner, "that the department is over organized by agitators."

"Yes," answered McDonnell. "These associations are the cause of more of the dissension, discord and fighting in the department than anything I can mention. When you have groups of men within a service, organized in their own ranks, you have a clashing of interests that is certain death to morale."

Cullerton's attempt to shelve several hundred aged or physically incapacitated firemen was not contemplated to increase the department's efficiency, but rather, McDonnell charged, to "create a market for jobs." The men slated to go, he asserted, were "handpicked by Joseph P. Geary, and Harry E. Wallace, Thompson civil service commission member and secretary respectively, and Cullerton.

"If 400 or 500 incapacitated men were retired suddenly, it would bankrupt the pension funds" explained McDonnell when he admitted that the unfit firemen were still carried on the department rolls as active fire-fighters.

Alderman Challenges Him.

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough [13th] questioned McDonnell when the latter asserted that Cullerton had violated regulations in promoting hostlers to firemen's status when motorization of the department abolished horse-drawn equipment.

"You're all wrong, Marshal," declared Ald. McDonough, a member of the investigating committee. "I was chairman of the schools, fire and civil service committee which recommended to the council that these men who had given the best years of their life to the city be retained when we did away with the horses."

"The department's morale has improved greatly since Chief Buckley took hold," continued McDonnell. "Buckley has a mind of his own and he is no man's tool.

"The morale is slowly getting back to the old days of twenty years ago when the marshal was the marshal and was not hampered by parasites, politicians, fake civil service boards and the like."

COUNTY BOARD OFFERS REPLY TO CONTEMPT CASE

Members of the county board yesterday filed an answer before Circuit Judge Kickham Scanlan to charges of contempt of court brought when the board failed to provide funds for thirty deputies in Sheriff Hoffman's office, whose employment was authorized by the judges of the Circuit court.

The commissioners have two defenses, one for the seven Republican members, another for the eight Democrats. The Democrats, led by President Anton J. Cermak, asserted the court was without power to force the board to appropriate salaries for employés, and therefore without power to punish the board members for failure to appropriate.

G. O. P. Members' Defense.

The Republicans, pointing out their vain effort to carry the measure over President Cermak's veto, denied they were in contempt of the order, and "had done all in their power to comply with it."

After he had received the answer presented by Attorneys William F. Struckmann, Henry A. Berger, and Hayden N. Bell, Judge Scanlan announced he would begin the court hearings on May 16.

Cite Case of 1920.

The answer points out what is claimed to be an identical case in 1920. At that time Judge Jesse Baldwin appointed Attorney James M. Sheean, then president of the Chicago Bar association, to investigate. Mr. Sheean filed an opinion in which he held the court had no power to enforce orders fixing the number of county office employés.

An opposite stand was taken by Angus Roy Shannon, who was named friend of the court by Judge Scanlan. Mr. Shannon, who successfully prosecuted and jailed members of the school board for contempt in the Chadsey-Loeb controversy, filed a petition asking the court to adjudge the county commissioners in contempt of court.

An automobile answering the description of the car used by the slayers of William Sedlacek, who was shot and killed Sunday night while backing his automobile into a garage at 1647 South Throop street, was found by police yesterday in a garage at South Morgan and Taylor streets. The machine was taken into the garage by an attendant after three men had abandoned it early Monday morning. Police say the murder was the work of a gang of drunken roisterers.

FATHER HELD TO GRAND JURY FOR KILLING HIS SON

F. J. Knight Finds His Wife Chief Accuser.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Mrs. Francis J. Knight, she indicated yesterday to a coroner's jury, loathed her husband, two chairs away, just as much as she adored her son, dead in the next room.

When Deputy Coroner Adolph Herrmann asked the woman what relation she was to "the deceased," James Francis Knight, whose ten years' police record was closed Sunday by two bullets from his father's gun, Mrs. Knight murmured, "He's my son." Then she began to cry softly.

Turns on Her Husband.

When they asked her what relation she was to "the accused," Francis J. Knight, held a few moments later to the grand jury charged with the murder of "Fat" Knight, she shouted, "He's my husband."

She jumped up, beat her fists upon the table, and screamed out her appraisal of the man she had married thirty-two years ago.

"He did it! I didn't see him, but I know he did it"—a whirligig of wild gestures in the direction of the man held in custody of Capt. Joseph Mullen of Warren avenue station.

"He," and there was infinite scorn as she designated her husband, "he always hated that poor boy and hounded him.

"He threatened the boy many times. O, he did it."

As Assistant State's Attorney Louis H. Dembo led her back to the witness stand in James S. Bradley's morgue, 1820 West Harrison street, she mumbled in a frenzy of despair:

"O, you don't think they'll exonerate him, do you?"

The tired woman had returned to her husband Sept. 15, last year, after nine years' separation.

Knight Tells His Story.

On the stand a few moments later Knight sketched in the details, as he remembers them, of the Sunday noon visit of his son to the Knight home, 1816 West Jackson boulevard.

Francis, 28, and 17 year old Eleanor, whom he married two years ago, called Sunday morning when Mrs. Knight was out, and Knight slammed the door. Shortly after 1 the young man returned alone.

"He bolted into the house," Knight exclaimed, "and called me a vile name.

"When I told him to get out," Knight said, "for he'd caused enough trouble, he yelled, 'You can go to hell, I'll blow your head off.'"

Then, according to Knight, the boy put his hand, menacingly, on his hip pocket. The father backed to the dresser drawer, grabbed his gun, and fired two shots in self defense, he testified, at the young man coming toward him.

Youth Shot in Back.

The evidence of coroner's physician, Dr. Joseph Springer read to the jury said, however, young Knight had been shot in the back.

Knight admitted firing at the youth "just to scare" him several months ago.

The dead man's young bride slipped into the adjourning room to view her husband's body. She collapsed, screamed out incoherent threats to take poison and kill herself, and finally was carried away in a faint.

MARSHAL LEVY MAKES FORMAL REPLY TO FOES

Acted as Parker's Friend in Settling Estate.

Robert R. Levy, United States marshal, issued a formal statement last night following the publication of charges by inuendo in connection with the estate of William R. Parker, clerk of the Criminal court, when he died on July 5, 1922.

Marshal Levy was Clerk Parker's confidential aid, and when Parker died suddenly Levy took charge of all his records and assets and helped settle the estate. There was some confusion of Parker's personal funds with those of the clerk's office, and the implied charges were that some mystery still attached to the disposition of some of the assets.

Origin of Charges.

Newspaper accounts hinted these charges came from Mrs. Parker, and a son, Gilman Parker.

"For a great many years," said Marshal Levy's statement, "Mr. Parker was separated from his family. I was his close friend and confidant. Any connection I had with his affairs after his death was in the best of faith, honest and sincere.

Approved by Friends.

"If this attack upon me were in good faith it would be made in the Probate court and not in the newspapers, his death having occurred two years ago."

A number of Parker's close friends knew of Levy's part in the winding up of the estate and approved of it.

Honduras Factions Sign Peace on U. S. Cruiser

SAN SALVADOR, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—A treaty of peace was signed today at Amapala by the three discordant political factions in Honduras and representatives of the Central American nations. The document was signed in the presence of Sumner Welles, who was sent to Honduras by President Coolidge to mediate in the situation and to try to bring about a cessation of the revolution. The signatures were affixed to the treaty on board the United States cruiser Milwaukee.

Gray Hair Quickly Goes
Before the Touch of this Clean, Colorless Liquid

The Original Color Perfectly Restored

It seems almost unbelievable that a liquid colorless itself can give gray hair its exact original color.

But in Kolor-Bak, Science has given us just such a liquid and through its remarkable power, hundreds of thousands of people have quickly taken years from their appearance. Many report amazing results in a week.

No matter what the former color was, Kolor-Bak will restore it, and it will give the hair a beautiful natural gloss, renewed "life" and lustre, and make it soft, beautiful, "young" again.

It gives a cool, refreshing sensation to the scalp—makes it clean and makes it feel clean. It is not sticky, greasy, mussy or unpleasant to use. It is just a clean, colorless liquid which is a proved substitute for the natural pigmentation. It is as easy to use as water.

Kolor-Bak is actually a scalp and hair tonic because of its cleansing, stimulating qualities which promote health and strength—thus aiding Nature to bring about a normal condition of the hair.

No need to furnish samples of your hair. The one clean, colorless liquid is for all hair. Several people whose hair was originally of different colors could use the same bottle of Kolor-Bak with equally satisfactory results.

No need to do any further experimenting or to suffer disappointment from ordinary preparations which give your hair a false color. Use Kolor-Bak and see it return to its true original shade.

Youthful Looks Win Attention—Always

Gray—Too old for the job!

My Hair Was Quite Gray
"My hair was gray. It was falling out. My scalp itched and dandruff appeared. "A few applications of Kolor-Bak stopped the itching and dandruff. My hair soon stopped coming out and now is again its original color. I look 10 years younger."

1924 vs. 1913

IN THE advertising columns of this paper, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has stated repeatedly that the price of gasoline is low, and particularly so by comparison with the price of other products.

To confirm the truth of these statements, your critical attention is directed to the table below compiled from statistics of the United States Bureau of Labor and Department of Commerce, showing the price level of various commodities in January, 1924, as compared with that of 1913—taking the latter year as 100:

Gasoline	97.0
Flour	135.2
Potatoes	140.2
Farm Products	144.0
Milk	155.5
Butter	168.7
House Furnishing Goods	176.0
Building Material	181.0
Sugar	196.3
Cloth and Clothing	200.0

Average for all commodities 151

The average man has come to accept the fluctuation in the prices of milk, butter, sugar, potatoes, and like products, as natural. This acceptance is so well-established and time-honored as to be a prosaic incident.

The buying of gasoline is relatively a new experience.

The economical production of gasoline requires large investments—which are possible only with big institutions of vast capitalization. Because of this, the petroleum industry has come in for criticism that does not fall to the lot of other industries.

The above bulletin proves conclusively that the price of gasoline is low and that the dollar in 1924 will buy more gasoline than it could in 1913. This demonstrates the efficiency of the petroleum industry, in which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of its position as a leader.

This Company has earned its leadership by the every-day practice of fairness, equity and justice to all—consumer, employe and competitor—in such a manner as to have gained the confidence, respect and esteem of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

Moths don't eat wool—moth larvae do

Don't waste your time trying to kill the little flying moth—she doesn't eat your clothes. She's only looking for a nice secluded place to lay her eggs; a place where there will be plenty for her babies to eat when they begin to hatch out. And she picks your best woolens for this purpose. These babies are tiny little worms called larvae—and how they do eat, leaving row after row of holes in your best clothes. When you spray your woolens with Larvex the larvae simply will not eat the cloth. Larvex makes wool inedible to them. They won't touch it! They die if they do!

Larvex is sprayed right from the bottle directly onto the fabrics.

NOT only the size but the distinction of White Star passenger lists tells the story of this line's prestige among transatlantic travelers.

Those who can command and appreciate the best in service, cuisine and luxurious surroundings naturally arrange their crossings aboard our great express liners.

Regular Saturday sailings are scheduled for The Magnificent Trio from New York to Cherbourg (France) and Southampton (England). The famous Big Four—Adriatic, Baltic, Celtic and Cedric—offer sailings on Saturdays to Ireland and to Liverpool, gateway to the tourist's England.

A regular weekly service to London, noteworthy for its convenience and for the attractiveness of its new ships is offered during the spring and early summer by the Red Star Line in cooperation with the Atlantic Transport Line. The palatial, new, Red Star liner Belgenland and the distinguished Lapland call at Plymouth and Cherbourg en route to London, while the new Atlantic Transport liners—Minnewaska and Minnetonka—which carry first class passengers exclusively call at Cherbourg, thence to London

In all, 244 sailings have been scheduled for the present year—an unprecedented program to provide for an unusually brilliant European season.

May is the month for travel. Let us help you plan your trip.

MOSLEMS PUSH REVOLT AGAINST RUSSIAN SOVIET

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, May 5.—The Musselman rebellion against the soviets in Turkestan continues. Advices reaching here through northern India report that the rebels have captured Tashkent, capital of the province. The bolshevik troops still hold a small portion of the city and the wireless station.

The Mohammedans started the revolution on April 10, when they captured a quantity of rifles and machine guns. The railroad line between Tashkent, Samarkand, and Bokhara was captured and remains in their hands. The Musselmen, after driving the Russians from Tashkent, established a tribal form of government. One regiment of bolshevik troops joined the rebels.

Soviet airplanes are daily carrying food and munitions in the garrison surrounded in the northern part of Tashkent.

Agrarian Revolts Continue.

In White Russia agrarian revolts continue. The peasants are making an effort to unify a score of small uprisings. Hettman Munich of the Munsk district has been chosen as the leader. Their activities so far have included a big series of murders of communist political commissars.

Leon Trotzky's orders replacing the Moscow garrison with an infantry division from Ural province is explained as being due to a mutiny of the Moscow garrison. M. Trotzy's first act upon returning to Moscow was to fire the political commissars and officers elevated during his absence through the intrigue of M. Zinoviev, who is opposing M. Trotzky. The mutinies followed.

The leaders were sent to exile in the Caucasus, and through exchanging the infantry division with those stationed in distant parts of Russia M. Trotzky hopes to restore discipline.

Arrest 130 Officers.

On May 1, 130 Red army officers and 45 Communist members of the "opposition" were arrested. Militia raids on Communist youth military training schools continue.

M. Stalin announces that the eighth congress of the Russian Communist party, scheduled for this month, has been postponed on account of the disturbances.

Risk Firms in Tokio Pay 10% of Earthquake Losses

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

TOKIO, May 5.—Twenty-six insurance companies have commenced the payment of 10 per cent of the policies of losers in the earthquake and fire of last September. Great crowds are milling about each office. The distribution involves 80,000,000 yen ($40,000,000), which the companies borrowed from the government. Most of this money will be reinvested immediately in permanent buildings, for which permits are issued as of June 1.

Business Fails, Auction Rooms Prosper; Nab 2 Men

Simon Brown, Joseph Baron and John Gordon, partners in the Globe Mercantile company, 700 West Roosevelt road, were arrested yesterday by Walter Wood, of the federal bureau of investigation, on charges of swindling creditors out of $100,000. It is alleged the trio maintained an auction company on the same premises and that while the mercantile company was going on the rocks for $172,000 the auction company was thriving.

EX-GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY MAY HEAD RAIL BOARD

Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board, is expected to arrive in Chicago today or tomorrow from a visit to his home in Tennessee. The rail board then will elect a new chairman for the ensuing year. Mr. Hooper stated a month ago he would not be a candidate for reelection.

It is believed that former Gov. Edwin Morrow of Kentucky will be named to succeed the present chairman. Both Mr. Hooper, who is a former governor of Tennessee, and Mr. Morrow are public members of the board.

Yesterday the board assumed jurisdiction over a dispute between the railroad telegraphers and the St. Louis Railroad Terminal association. E. J. Manion, president of the union, promised the board to withhold strike orders until a hearing could be held.

FOX RIVER HOME OWNERS PROTEST POLLUTING WATER

Members of the Fox River Valley Improvement association and property owners along the Fox river met in the Hotel La Salle last night to protest against the town of McHenry discharging its sewage into the Fox river, polluting the stream, killing the fish, and making it unfit for swimming. The majority of those who attended the meeting have summer homes along the river.

At the same time speakers stressed a program for a sanitary district and drainage system for the valley which would extend from Pistakee bay, near Fox lake, to Ottawa, a distance of about 250 miles. They also ask that the stream be made navigable.

'LITTLE RED' ONE WINS IN VILLAGE SCHOOL FIGHT

The 200 voters of Roselle, a village eight miles northeast of Wheaton, decided to erect a new schoolhouse last night and settled a factional fight which has disturbed the quiet of the community for months.

At an election two weeks ago the anti-school faction was victorious by a vote of 99 to 94. Roselle is a German community and most of the residents send their children to a Lutheran parochial school. They were opposed to paying public school taxes and being assessed for the maintenance of a parochial school, too.

The citizens came to the meeting in the little red brick schoolhouse—a relic of fifty years ago—prepared for battle last night, but Royal T. Morgan, superintendent of schools of Du Page county, announced the antis had yielded and a bond issue of $15,000 would be voted upon as soon as possible.

DR. McCORMICK HELD INSANE AT COURT HEARING

'Four Greatest Humbugs' Trip Him Up.

Dr. Charles McCormick, head of the medical college bearing his name, at 3736 South Michigan avenue, yesterday was adjudged insane by a commission in County Judge I. L. Weaver's court. The chief witness against the physician was his wife, Mrs. Ida W. McCormick.

Four Biggest Humbugs.

During examination of Dr. McCormick, he was asked to name the four greatest humbugs in the world. His reply was:

"Religion is the first. It is entirely artificial. Second would be medicine, for it is an outgrowth of religion. Third would be commercial speculation. The fourth is politics."

He passed off as jokes the things his wife charged against him in her testimony, that he intended to become President of the United States, and that she was 666 years old. He counted her years, he said, "as they did in Methuselah's day, when every new moon was a new year."

Rates Wife as 16 Years.

He rated his wife's mentality as that of a girl of 16 years of age, though she is 51. Recently she was acquitted of his embezzlement charge that she absconded with over $3,000 in funds of the medical school.

Judge Weaver ordered Dr. McCormick taken back into the custody of Dr. Francis P. Gerty, superintendent of the Psychopathic hospital. Friends of the physician have sued out a writ of habeas corpus which will be heard before Judge Marcus Kavanagh today.

400 AT MILLIKIN VOTE TO KEEP UP THEIR A. W. O. L.

Strike to Last Until Demands Are Met.

Decatur, Ill., May 5.—More than 400 students of James Millikin university today voted to pin their hopes of "academic freedom" on a student strike until their compromise proposal to the board of managers was accepted.

The decision to make permament the walkout which started Saturday came after a lengthy massmeeting in which the plan of compromise was adopted by a 4 to 1 vote.

The compromise proposal calls for selection of a "committee of experts" to "formulate an educational policy" and assurance from the board of managers of the university that recommendations of the committee will be followed.

Four-fifths of Students Out.

In the meanwhile, Acting President A. R. Taylor had classes called this afternoon as usual, and instructors reported to meet their classes. But there was an average attendance of only five students to a class. About 100 of the 525 students enrolled in the university are not joining in the walkout.

Announcement that the board of managers of the university would not meet the students is believed to have precipitated the vote in favor of a strike but a new factor developed at the mass meeting in the reading of a resolution signed by nine members of the faculty, which indorsed the stand taken by Dean Wald.

Backed by Nine of Faculty.

The latter resigned when members of the board of managers declined to reemploy W. C. Casey, professor of political science, and Watson Selvage, professor of education, whose dismissal precipitated the present crisis.

Faculty members who signed the resolution are A. O. Weese, Grace Patten Conant, David McCaslin, E. R. Darling, C. M. Andrist, L. T. Nordle, Emma Bates Robbins, E. C. Kiefer, F. L. Hydinger.

Those opposed to the strike profess to see a break in the ranks of the strikers in the formal announcement of a local women's organization tonight that its members would attend classes regularly tomorrow morning.

The present controversy dates back to 1914, when Dr. George Emory Fellows was dismissed as president by the board of managers because of a difference over educational policies.

Dates Back Ten Years.

He attacked the control of university affairs, which is under the direction of three boards, either directly or indirectly, as "confusing."

The title to university property is vested in the board of trustees. This board is composed of members from the Presbyterian synods of Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa. The principal source of income to the university is vested in the board of managers of Millikin university, which is made up of members appointed by the board of trustees of the university and approved by the trustees of the Millikin estate.

Controversy over the rule against freshmen participating in athletics, which has disturbed the institution during the last winter, is regarded as a contributing factor to the present situation.

VISITING BANDIT TAKES $80.

A lone bandit held up Fred Faeber, manager of a Standard Oil gas filling station at East 60th street and South Michigan avenue early yesterday and took $80. According to Faeber, the bandit visited with him for nearly an hour before he drew his revolver.

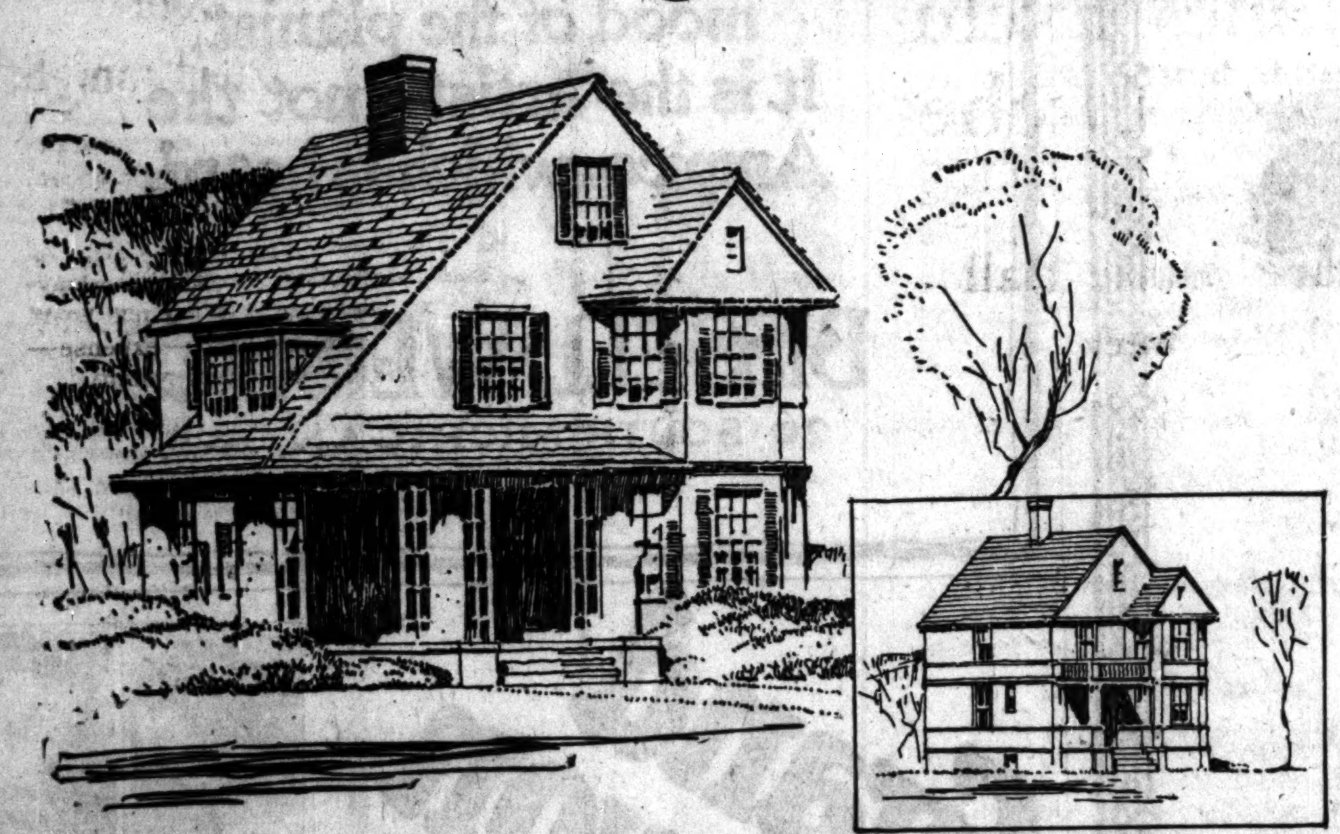
You wouldn't know the house that grandfather built—



What a difference these little changes make

Grandfather said this house he built in 1883 would last a hundred years. And undoubtedly it will — but styles of 1883 are not in style today.

We had wanted to remodel our house for years

We had thought and talked about remodeling the old house for years —but the Barrett Book, "Better Homes from Old Houses" settled the question by showing us how to do it—easily and economically. It is full of suggestions for changes we could really afford. And our local builder did all the work.

The cost was small—but see the result

We simply added the dormer window, built on a new porch and entrance and put shutters on the windows. But just see the difference. And it gave us more light and more room upstairs, too.

Sudden Death

PREMATURE DEATH is a tragedy!

You should not die until you are nearing the century mark.

Death at the right time is inviting—there is nothing unpleasant about it.

When you have lived your life, when your children are grown and married, and have families of their own, when you have ceased to be useful, then the beckoning call of death can be welcomed.

But death when you have a family growing up around you, when you have loved ones to depend upon you; when the warmth of a kiss from a loving wife lingers on your lips; then death scourges the soul of those you have left behind as a red hot iron would sear the living flesh.

Dumb, harrowing misery then comes to those whom you have loved more than life itself.

Are you protecting yourselves and those you love against a heart-rending tragedy of this sort?

Your life depends upon the strength of your heart beat.

It depends upon the vigor of your digestive organs. It depends upon the quality of the blood that is pumped through your body.

Vitality is necessary to life, and vital vigor cannot be acquired and maintained unless one gives his body that particular care necessary to maintain normal strength throughout every part.

Muscular exercise that keeps the body vigorous throughout, that pumps the blood into every minute part of the tissues, insures normal vigor, and when accompanied with a proper amount of wholesome food, bathing and general care, you have life insurance that cannot be financially computed.

It is worth more than money to you. It is worth a thousand times more than ordinary life insurance that pays a few dollars to those you love after you are dead and gone.

It insures you many long years of life. Therefore do not take such a desperate risk.

Sudden and premature death comes to those who have sinned against the laws of life—another name for God's laws or Nature's laws.

Read the PHYSICAL CULTURE magazine and learn your duty to yourself and to those you love.

Remember that death does not come in a moment. It is a gradual process. The vital forces become lower and lower and still lower, and finally the heart ceases to beat.

The power is shut off. The body becomes a weak, soft mass of inert tissue — Death is then inevitable.

THE PHYSICAL CULTURE MAGAZINE will show you the road that leads away from death and towards health of that supreme sort that makes life a blessing to you and yours.

THE SIMPLE SIX—A Perfect Set of Exercises for Busy Men and Women Who Lead Sedentary Lives

Very few people will go through a long series of exercises, conscientiously, month after month, as they must if they are to get the most benefit from them. It isn't human nature to do so, because once the novelty has worn off they become a tremendous task. For that reason Bernarr Macfadden has created "The Simple Six"—a set of exercises so short that they will occupy only about six minutes of your time morning or evening. But short as they are, they contain the basic principles, the living essence of the more elaborate sets that are so long you dread to undertake them. They specialize on spine and intestinal tract because with spine in good condition and intestines free of kinks you can go a long way thru life without coming to serious harm. Their swing, their rhythm, their brevity will appeal to you as no other exercises ever did. Completely illustrated and described in Physical Culture for May, you will be amazed and delighted at the improvement they will make in you.

"Dance Off Your Extra Pounds"

"Fair, fat and forty"—chivalrous, negatively complimentary—and untruthful. Here are the facts. If you are forty and fat you are lucky to be alive. The chances are that at fifty you will be dead and forgotten. (Consult your insurance tables for verification). If you are fat at forty or thirty or twenty or at any other age and want to live long and prosper you'll get rid of that fat. Ned Wayburn who produces the Ziegfeld Follies, prepares hundreds of girls for the stage every year. Some of them are fat when he gets them but they are thin when he gets through with them. His method never fails. Read how he does it in Physical Culture for May.

"I Was Doomed To Be Disfigured"

This woman had a well developed case of goitre which sapped her strength and threatened to disfigure her for life. She made up her mind she would not have an operation performed but that she would get rid of that goitre. And she did get rid of it. The effective and enjoyable treatment she used will bring relief to thousands of men and women, not only from goitre but from dozens of other complaints. Read her story in Physical Culture for May.

"How To Stop Sneezing In the Spring"

Soft breezes—loud sneezes—white roses—red noses—catarrh—Hurrah! Spring is here. Breezes and roses—fine—but how about the sneezes, red noses, coughs, colds, catarrh, hay fever, all those seasonal afflictions that are so prone to settle in your throat and make life miserable? Why not become immune to the whole flock and get all the joy out of Spring there is in it? In "How To Stop Sneezing In Spring" Edmund C. Gray, M. D. tells the simple and natural formula which will enable you to defy them all. Read it in Physical Culture for May.

"What Are the Best Food Fats"?

By Milo Hastings, Director Physical Culture Food Research Laboratory

Mr. Hastings has just completed an exhaustive investigation by means of actual feeding tests, of the relative food values of the various fats that appear upon your table. Butter—lard—mutton tallow—suet—vegetable oils—hydrogenated fats—which are best for you, which are worst, which digest most easily and which can hardly be digested at all? His masterly article in Physical Culture for May will put you in possession of tremendously valuable information that you can use every day in your own kitchen to excellent advantage.

Will Concede Anything but Chicago's Health.

Chicago will swallow her pride and stand ready to make almost any concession for the privilege of withdrawing the amount of water from Lake Michigan necessary to preserve the health of her 3,000,000 inhabitants.

This, briefly, was the comment yesterday of sanitary district officials apropos of the revelation in Washington that the British embassy has actively joined Canada in the fight to prevent withdrawal of further water. The British stand was on the ground that "certain interests" had entered a vigorous protest to the plans of the sanitary district.

Chicago Health the Issue.

"Our sole and only consideration is that we have the health of our people to preserve. This cannot be done without additional facilities of carrying away Chicago's sewage through the drainage canal," declared Edward J. Kelly, chief engineer of the sanitary district.

"The British argument is that we have made no proposition protecting the St. Lawrence river tidewater levels. Well, let them set forth just what they do want done as a recompense for the extra water. I venture to say there will be no opposition to speak of to their proposals, provided they are anywhere at all within the bounds of reason."

The delegation to wage actively a fight in behalf of Chicago's stand in the controversy before the congressional committee on rivers and harbors leaves on Thursday at 1 p. m. for Washington over the Baltimore and Ohio.

BRITAIN ENTERS FIGHT

BY VINCENT SHEEAN.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright: 1924: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 5.—The imperial government assumed the task of presenting Canada's case on the Chicago water diversion from Lake Michigan to the state department at Washington in accordance with the customary procedure in any discussion between any part of the British empire and foreign nations, but the question seems to arouse no interest at the foreign office.

Colonial Office Handles Question.

One official characterized the government's rôle as a "postoffice" for the Canadian case. The procedure was as follows:

The Canadian government prepared detailed memoranda which were given to the colonial ministry at London by the Canadian high commissioner. British colonial experts prepared further memoranda showing Canada's viewpoint which was laid before J. H. Thomas, colonial secretary. This material was transferred to the American department of the foreign office and thence to the British embassy at Washington without ever coming to the attention of Prime Minister MacDonald.

Canada to Step Into Fight.

Ottawa, Ont., May 5.—[Special.]—It was announced tonight that Canada will take an active part in the appeal to be taken to the higher United States court in the question of the right of the sanitary commission of the Chicago district to divert water from the great lakes.

According to an announcement made by Premier King tonight, Canada will be represented when the appeal of the case is heard in the United States Supreme court. Other members of the government announced that the dominion government intends to fight the diversion of water at Chicago to the limit and it was also announced that the matter will shortly be the subject of a parliament debate.

Illinoisans Decry Canadian Notes as Intrusion on Rights

BY DONALD EWING.

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Canada's protests against Chicago's water withdrawals are an "unwarranted intrusion into American rights," Illinois congressmen said today in commenting on the exchange of notes between the state department and the British embassy, made public last night.

They maintain that Canada places money making by its own interests far above the health of millions of Americans by insisting that either its own electric power concerns should get more water or be compensated in other ways. The pleas about injuring shipping were looked on as a pretense.

Says U. S. Has Jurisdiction.

Representative William E. Hull of Peoria pointed out that water rights on this side of the lakes are in the jurisdiction of only the United States alone.

"Chicago has always had the right to divert 10,000 cubic feet of water per second from Lake Michigan into the Illinois river," he said. "It was the intent, without doubt, of the international waterways commission to allow Chicago to continue this diversion, which was in existence as far back as 1895.

"The international waterways commission decided that the Canadian government should have 36,000 cubic feet per second; the Niagara falls should have 20,000 cubic feet per second; and that Chicago should have 10,000 cubic feet per second; and that is proved not only by their statements but, in addition, it is implied in the treaty in the following extracts which I quote. Article 8 of the treaty defines the order of precedence to be observed among the various uses enumerated for boundary waters, which are determined as follows:

"'(1) Uses for domestic and sanitary purposes.

"'(2) Uses for navigation, including the service of canals for the purposes of navigation.

"'(3) Use for power and for irrigation purposes.'

The Treaty Provision.

"Then again the treaty reads: 'The foregoing provisions shall not apply to or disturb any existing uses of boundary waters on either side of the boundary.'"

Congressman Fred Britten said:

"It is very unfortunate that the Canadian government is so interested in water for water power and money making that it loses sight of the health of millions of persons now dependent on the withdrawal of 10,000 cubic feet per second at Chicago.

"If this water for human conservation were to be paid for, with Canada getting the money, she would have a strong lobby here urging passage of the legislation. But this project is not approved by her powerful water power lobby, so she protests, in effect, that either we must not have water or she must be paid for it with more water, though she now gets twice as much as America.

Can Handle Own Affairs.

"I hope our state department will let Canada know, just as Japan now knows, that we can handle our own affairs."

Congressman Martin Madden said that "Canada should realize that this is American water in American boundaries and we do not need her to tell us what to do with it."

Congressman Henry Rainey said: "The international treaty covers every point, and there is no occasion for Canada to try to go beyond that treaty."

FIGHTS MEETING OF TEACHERS ON SCHOOLS' TIME

Abolition of the high and elementary schools' teachers councils, which now meet on school time, and substitution of coöperative councils will be asked of the board of education at its meeting tomorrow by Supt. William McAndrew.

Supt. McAndrew also points out that it costs nearly $400,000 to close the schools at noon to permit the teachers' councils to meet. He proposes a coöperative council in which teachers, supervisors, principals, and board members will be eligible for membership. Under his plan there would be several group councils and one general assembly. Enrollment would be voluntary.

The superintendent has opposed the councils' meeting during school hours and regarded the results as insufficient to justify taking school time. He is quoted as saying that a review of the minutes for several years showed "all they talked about was getting more pay for the teachers and obtaining shorter hours."

The existing councils were established by the board about twenty-six years ago, and meetings were called at regular intervals by the superintendent. Recently Supt. McAndrew failed to call a meeting.

This was looked upon by the teachers as abolition of their power. Through Trustees James Mullenbach they presented a resolution asking the board to fix the time of meetings, thus taking the matter entirely out of the hands of the superintendent. The teachers also asked the board to rule that the meetings be held during school hours. That resolution will be considered at the board meeting tomorrow.

The teachers contend that unless they meet during school hours their proceedings and resolutions are not part of the school system, as they are intended to be.

How would you start tomorrow if your records burned tonight?

YOUR vital records are the heart of your business. If anything happens to them, you are paralyzed.

The work of years wiped out in an hour! Maybe $5,000—$50,000—maybe your business itself! Then, years more of needless effort—expense—to re-create your record system.

But if fire should come, and your records came through safely, you could move right into another office and announce, "Business as usual."

A Shaw-Walker Safety Vault will protect your records from fire, thieves and prying eyes. At a cost of only

This price is so low, through quantity production, that every office, store and home, can afford this big, roomy, steel safe, "Built Like a Skyscraper."

TAKE VOTE FROM SCOFFLAWS, ONE METHODIST'S CRY

But Conference Fails to Back Him Up.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Springfield, Mass., May 5.—[Special.]—A resolution asking for disfranchisement of American born citizens who persistently violate the eighteenth amendment came near being passed at the Methodist general conference today. The arrest of the resolution and recommitment to the author for clarification was made by the Rev. David G. Downey, New York, who disentangled the conference from a mixed up situation that the presiding bishop, W. F. Anderson of Cincinnati, was having difficulty in unraveling.

F. A. Hazeltine, Seattle, Wash., a prohibition official, offered the resolution urging congress not only to defeat the fifty-nine beer bills but to put the prohibition enforcement division under civil service and deport aliens who persist in violating prohibition and narcotic laws.

Saints Would Quit Haynes' Job.

"We have crooks and incompetents appointed for political reasons to the prohibition enforcement work," said Hazeltine. "If some saints had Roy A. Haynes' job as national prohibition commissioner they would have blown up long ago and resigned."

At this point the Rev. Samuel A. Bright of Albuquerque, N. M., offered an amendment to disfranchise American born citizens for similar violations of law.

On every test the measure won a majority, in spite of the opposition of the highest prohibition officials, E. S. Charrington of Westerville, O., and the Rev. Clarence True Wilson of Washington, D. C., who sighted danger ahead in the wording of the resolution, and tried to kill it.

Downey Saves the Day.

The struggle was at this impasse when Dr. Downey leaped into the breach and moved recommitment to Hazeltine for clarification. Hazeltine said he would again bring up the resolution after eliminating the provision to disfranchise American born citizens who violate the laws.

Fundamentalism received another check today when Dr. H. P. Sloan of New Jersey, John G. Wilson, Philadelphia, and others attempted to get the doctrinal part of the Episcopal address, read yesterday afternoon, adopted as the views of the conference. The conference refused to accept the suggestion.

R. D. Ware, Vanderbilt University Theological school, Nashville, Tenn.; Walter A. Mueller, Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston, Ill.; Stanley High and Boston University School of Theology, spoke ten minutes each in presenting the results of the Methodist young people's conference last Easter at Louisville.

"Some criticize us, telling us to wait until we are 50 before expressing ourselves on war and other great questions," High said. "We don't wait in choosing a wife until we learn all the facts or we might not get married, and we don't have to wait until we are old to decide against war. It isn't the old men but the young men who go to war."

BUCKLEY FUND FOR FIRE VICTIMS' KIN PASSES $15,000 MARK

Each day adds to the fund for the families of the firemen who died in the Curran hall disaster. Yesterday Fire Marshal Edward J. Buckley announced that the subscriptions received by his office had passed $15,000.

Many benefits are being arranged, and donations by letter are helping to swell the fund. Even money from crap games was added to the list of donations yesterday.

Twelve men were arraigned before Judge John F. O'Connell of the Chicago avenue court. The defendants were charged with gambling, and the police produced a pair of dice and $18 which had been used by the gamblers. The judge ruled that there was not sufficient evidence to convict the men, discharged them, and sent the $18 to Marshal Buckley.

Yesterday's donations to the fire marshal were:

Strange Sights, Rare Beauties in This Wonderland of Summer

YOU'LL see a rearing peak, snow clad in June. You'll see a gay and colorful watering place.

Here are Spanish missions, centuries old—crumbling, yet inspiring still. They are monuments to saintly Padres who first brought civilization to this land.

A rocky headland at Vista del Mar resembles a stretch of the Riviera. A desert like Sahara provides the unique foliage of the sandy waste. Gardens of rare blossoms are set in velvet lawns.

Giant monarchs of the forest contrast with the green acres of oranges. Vast wildernesses are but a short day's ride from famed hotels and restaurants.

An island playground rises from the sea. A great valley, once a desert, grows the fruits of the tropics.

See rare beauties, hundred-mile views. Motor over mile high mountain boulevards. These sights—a trip abroad, in fact, in your own United States—are yours this summer if you choose.

It's the playground supreme. Your favorite sport is here, better than you've ever known it to be. Choose a mountain trail or a rolling meadow for your bridle path.

Play golf on famous courses. Fish for deep sea fighters or the game trout of mountain brooks. Hike along a mountain range. Camp in a primeval forest. Sail before a fresh ocean breeze. Swim in the surf or loaf on the sunny beach.

Motor over 4,000 miles of paved highways, marked with 80,000 guide signs.

Rest. Relax. The change is what you need. New sights, new surroundings, a new atmosphere, outdoor exercise, constant activity or lazy idleness according to your whim.

Try it this summer. You'll say that it's the finest vacation you have ever had. You'll return to next year's work fresh and eager—revitalized body and mind.

Where is this land? It's in a section you probably never thought of as a place for summer vacations. It's Southern California, where perfect days invite exercise and play, where cool nights mean sound, restful sleep.

It's the ideal summerland. Note this forty-seven year record of the U. S. Weather Bureau which gives the average mean temperature in a central city of this section:

47 Junes	66 degrees	47 Augusts	71 degrees
47 Julys	70 degrees	47 Septembers	69 degrees

Summer is the rainless season. So you do each day just what you plan to do. No day wasted indoors whether you stay two weeks or two months.

FARMER GROANS AND GETS ANGRY AT HIGH TAXES

Watches Congress for Slash in Income Levy.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Rock Island, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—High taxes is the great goat getter among Illinois farmers. Congress is handed the raspberry wherever husbandmen congregate for its delay in revising the income tax law. Even those who have had no direct income tax to pay have an idea, not at all new, of course, that most taxes are passed on and on, growing bigger and bigger in the bill paid by the "ultimate consumer," and even the poorest tenant farmer without one five spot to rub against another bears part of the burden when he goes to the village to buy things.

As one journeys through the countryside and gossips in the hamlets, he learns that the Teapot Dome, the bottlegging and other Washington scandals have apparently become of secondary interest. The farmers opening their newspapers absorb the daily installment of scandal—it's got to be a habit now—and the daily nip has got to be something out of the usual to give them a real jolt.

Don't Read the Details.

Many of them say they no longer read the details; content themselves with the headlines, unless something of double-X quality is in the day's grist of developments. The conviction and imprisonment of Gov. McCray of Indiana, excited intense interest all along the route last week. The impression one gathers is that the countryside is fed up on scandal and has got calloused to the ordinary day by day grind of the slumming expeditions at Washington. They have reached the point where they are now looking for action of some sort.

The disclosures have left them bewildered and disgusted and their attitude is that the exposure must be as full and complete as possible and the house cleaning and fumigating must be thorough. But they do seem to believe congress ought to find leisure time enough to put through some relief measures, and taxation is the item they speak of most particularly. To all appearances there's going to be a day of reckoning in November for some of the boys at Washington, unless they get busy.

Complain of State Taxes.

Congress, however, is not the recipient of all the criticism and complaint about high taxes. Federal taxes, as a matter of fact have been decreasing for the last four or five years, but the state and local taxes have been jumping higher and higher. In Illinois local taxes are now three times more than they were ten years ago. The figures are coming home to roost, and tax reduction will be one issue hammered on in the impending state campaign, especially by the Democrats.

The general property tax levies of local governments in Illinois in 1912 aggregated $84,637,000; at the end of the war the amount had grown to $173,500,000 in 1919. It kept advancing until in 1922 it reached $224,400,000, and it is still going up. These, mind you, are merely the levies for local governments, counties, cities, villages, school and road districts and taxing authorities other than the state government. Add to this the great growth in the state taxes and the farmer is knocked silly by his tax bills.

One hears them saying that taxes are biting a much bigger hunk out of the farmer's dollar than are the middlemen or the railroads, and that heavy taxes are a harder burden on agriculture than the disparity in price levels of what the farmer sells and what he buys.

Central Illinois is in fairly good shape with business and agriculture.

CHINESE DEMAND SAME JUSTICE JAPS ASK OF U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

TOKIO, May 5.—The proposed parade of Chinese associations in Japan before the foreign office here as a protest against the alleged discriminations against Chinese immigration was prevented by the Chinese minister here, who strongly opposed the action. Instead, a delegation of ten waited on Foreign Minister Matsui, demanding that Japan grant the same justice to China as it was asking from America.

The Chinese pointed out the necessity of Asiatics standing together, while the present situation presents the best opportunity for Japan to strengthen the awakening pro-Japanese sentiment in China.

The minister thanked the delegation, promising to investigate the alleged discrimination and assuring the spokesman that Japan did not desire to discriminate anywhere. He assured the delegation that Japan valued the friendship of China above everything.

$300 RAISE FOR POSTAL CLERKS URGED IN BILL

Washington, D. C., May 5.—An increase of $300 a year in salaries of postal clerks and carriers was recommended in a bill favorably reported today by the senate postoffice committee as a substitute for the measure prepared by the joint postal conference.

Salaries of clerks and carriers would range from $1,700 to $2,100 a year under the substitute bill. Five grades within the same limits were provided for clerks in first and second grade postoffices, and rates of $2,200 and $2,300 were set for special clerks. In the railway service seven grades would be established, ranging from $1,900 to $2,700 a year.

The Dividing Line Between Comfort and Discomfort

The heating plant is seldom to blame for cold rooms. It is the walls and roof that permit the heat to leak out that make your home uncomfortable. Every chilly morning your rooms are cold; every change in temperature outside is quickly felt in your living rooms, because the walls and roof do not stop the heat and cold.

There is a sure way to insulate a house so that it will always be comfortable, on less fuel. This way is to put Flax-li-num in the walls and roof.

Flax-li-num is a felt-like material, made from tough flax fibres. It is built in between the outer and inner walls, and as a lining to the roof. It resists the passage of heat. Bottles up the heat in January and shuts it out in August.

Saves ⅓ of fuel

Houses with Flax-li-num require 33⅓ per cent less heat than non-insulated houses. So Flax-li-num usually pays for itself out of fuel savings within three years. It adds only 1 to 3 per cent to house cost.

Keeps you cool in summer, too

Flax-li-num was used in 10,000 new refrigerator cars last year, and in thousands of house refrigerators, such as the Bohn, and others of high grade construction. For it keeps heat out as well as in. Your house will be refreshingly cool in summer if you have Flax-li-num. Even the upstairs, which is always the hottest part.

When you build, buy or rent

If you will call, write or phone, we will give you a copy of "For Comfort and Economy," an interesting book on home comfort. Or put you in touch with Builders and Realtors who sell or rent flats and houses with Flax-li-num insulation. We maintain here a free service of plans, cost estimates and expert advice which is always at your disposal.

CARBIDE PLAN ON FERTILIZER BASIS OF SHOALS OFFER

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—L. H. Davis of the Union Carbide company, said today that it was the exclusive possession of the American rights on the Lidholm patents for an improved process of producing fertilizer from nitrogen taken from the air, that made it possible for that company to offer $120,000,000, spread over a fifty-year period, for the lease of dam number two and the nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals.

The offer of the Union Carbide company and that of Henry Ford are both very complicated, so that it would require accountants to make a fair comparison. On the face, the Union Carbide company appeared to be offering $120,000,000 as against an offer of approximately $66,000,000 by Henry Ford.

Explains New Process.

"Part of our fertilizer proposition," Mr. Davis said, "involves the use of nitrate plant number 2 for the manufacture of a new form of fertilizer which contains nitrogen in higher concentration that in any other nitrogenous fertilizer known. It contains about 42 per cent of nitrogen as compared with 20 per cent nitrogen in ammonium sulphate and 15.65 per cent nitrogen in Chilean nitrate.

"We plan to use the Lidholm process for the conversion of calcium cyanamide into urea or phosphaseote, the latter containing phosphoric acid in addition to urea. This process makes use of the present cyananmide units at nitrate plant number two and will require the addition of a conversion plant which will, in one step, produce the new form of fertilizer at an expense much less than the old method of first converting calcium cyanamide into ammonia and then into ammonium sulphate.

Tribute to Engineer.

"The mistake in thinking the plan obsolescent results from the fact that for a long time cyanamide was intended to be used as a fertilizer, but it has not proved a success. It had acted as a caustic in killing seeds and blighting young fruits. Hence, when the war was over, the belief became current that as a fertilizer plant it was of no value.

"But the brilliant work of this Swedish engineer, Lidholm, has made the cyanamide plant of value through the prodruction of fertilizer in a new form. Calcium cyanamide is obsolete as a fertilizer, but not as a method of fixing nitrogen."

Regarding reports that Chile, by lifting the export tax collected by the Chilean government, might flood the market with Chilean nitrates and wipe out the American industry, Mr. Davis said the new process of manufacture from the air could meet any competition.

Ready for Hearing.

Officials of the Carbide company left for Washington tonight to appear before the senate committee on agriculture, which has fixed Wednesday for a hearing.

A DIXIE SENATOR IS SUSPICIOUS OF FORD AT SHOALS

Ransdell Insists Upon Contract.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Henry Ford's refusal to tell in his bid for Muscle Shoals just what he plans to do with the million electric horsepower that can be developed there was attacked again in the senate agricultural committee today, this time by Senator Ransdell [Dem., La.].

W. G. Waldo, secretary of a southern improvement association which is chief backer of the Ford bid, after two hours of explanation of the great field in the south for electrical development stated that with Mr. Ford in charge of Muscle Shoals the entire south would be benefited by cheap electric power.

"But How Can We Be Sure?"

"But," broke in Mr. Ransdell, "how do we know that he'll distribute this power?"

"He said so in an interview," was the answer.

"Well, interviews aren't contracts and they aren't law," replied Ransdell. "There's nothing to keep Ford, after using 100,000 horsepower for fertilizer manufacture, from taking all the rest of the power and using it just for Ford. I want my people to be benefited by Muscle Shoals as well as Mr. Ford, and when he refuses to put into a contract what he verbally promises I'm going to judge by the contract alone."

Wants Power for South.

Later, in further discussion of this point, the senator remarked:

"Mr. Ford has the whole United States, with thousands of water power sites, at his disposal if he just wants philanthropically to manufacture cheap fertilizer to help the farmer. But Muscle Shoals can help more than the farmer, and we must see that it does."

ROB SHOE STORE.

After locking the manager, Harry Laven, in a closet, three bandits took $300 from the Newark Shoe company store at 836 East 63d street yesterday.

BRITISH DISCUSS INDIAN PEEVE AGAINST YANKS

LONDON, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—The question of discrimination against Americans in India because Indians are refused citizenship in the United States arose in the house of commons this afternoon.

J. W. Baker, laborite member, asked Prof. Robert Richards, the undersecretary for India, whether he was aware that the Lalitpur municipality in northern India had recently refused to give any concessions to an American because the United States had refused to allow the naturalization of Hindus in America.

Mr. Richards replied that he was unaware of discrimination against Americans in India. He explained that the American attitude towards the Indians was based upon the Supreme court's ruling that they were ineligible for citizenship.

The under layers of his tender skin are to blame

Reach them in this simple way and eczema is instantly relieved

THAT constant succession of rashes, chafings, and irritations or roughness on baby's skin! What can the young mother rely on to stop each as it starts, heal it, drive it away?

Ordinary surface remedies are not enough. It is deep down in the under layers of the skin that the real root of the trouble lies. Tiny cells and nerve ends inflamed and irritated, pores clogged with poisonous germs—these are what must be reached and brought back to normal.

To thousands of mothers, careful physicians are today recommending Resinol Ointment as a safe and effective remedy for constant use. Absolutely pure, healing, mildly antiseptic, Resinol will often soothe away in a day or so the most stubborn rash, or the most trifling blemish. Even a light application sinks deep into the pores, attacks the root of the disorder, and starts the skin again acting normally.

If your child has today any spot, rash, or irritation of the skin, apply Resinol. Resinol is absolutely harmless. It cannot irritate the delicate texture of baby skin. You can use it without fear. Its results are surprising. Get a jar at your druggist's today, or send for a free trial sample to Dept. 28, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

RESINOL

Recommended for 28 years by leading physicians

They make housework so easy!

In this charming room which savors of the outdoors, was used a Blabon floor of Inlaid Linoleum, in a light gray tile effect with black lines (pattern 344), and a 6-inch border of Blabon Plain Black Linoleum.

DO you know that now, in this country, where everything is being done to cut down the drudgery of housework and thus afford more time for recreation, thousands of American housewives are turning to Blabon floors of Linoleum to help lessen their daily cares?

Many of the housewives of Europe, who have always had to make their money go much further than their American cousins, long ago learned to use linoleum for all their floors. And not only for its economy, but because it meant such a saving in work.

Of course American housewives wouldn't consent to spare themselves if they had to sacrifice the beauty of their floors. But they don't! Linoleum floors display an artistry nowadays, that is giving them a vogue for every room upstairs and down.

A Blabon floor is sanitary, too. Dust cannot work into it. That does away with hard sweeping and vacuum-cleaning. Liquids spilled upon a Blabon floor are easily wiped up. Regular going over with a damp cloth keeps a Blabon floor clean and fresh-looking. No expensive refinishing is ever necessary.

And with a Blabon floor of Plain or Inlaid Linoleum in a choice of beautiful patterns and color combinations which go clear through to the burlap back, you have a floor that harmonizes with any decorative scheme, and is wonderfully durable, economical, and easy to care for. An occasional waxing and polishing keeps it looking like new after years of wear.

The right way to lay linoleum is to cement it over a layer of builders' deadening felt paper, which should first be pasted to the floor with linoleum paste. This overcomes bulging and stretching, makes the seams watertight and practically invisible, and prolongs the life of the floor.

Look for the Blabon label and ask for Blabon Linoleum by name. It is sold by good furniture and department stores. If your dealer hasn't it, write us his name and we will see that you are supplied.

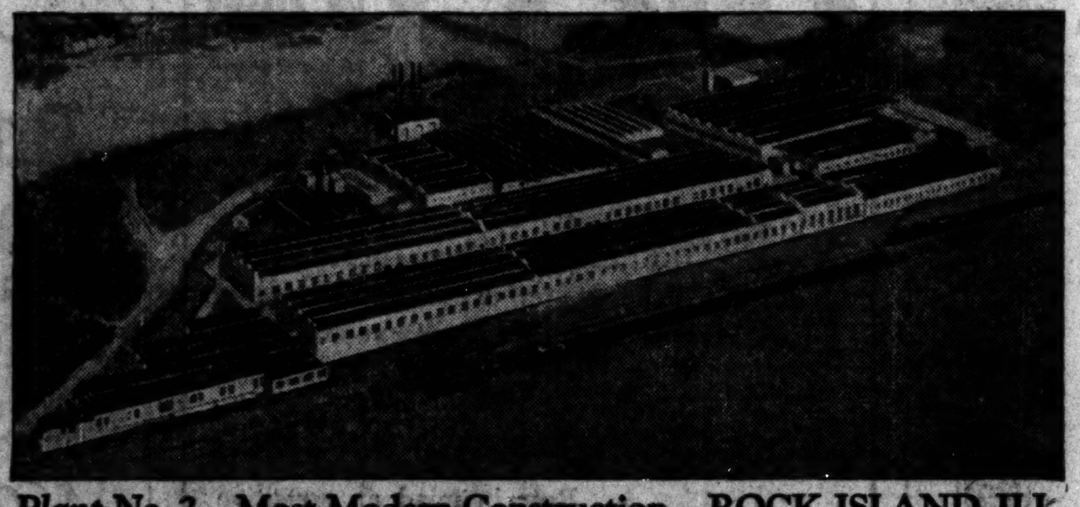
Ideal Locations — Facilities Unexcelled — Best Labor Situations in America

Plant No. 1 — Two Complete Factory Units — FREEPORT, ILL.



Plant No. 2 — Most Modern Construction — ROCK ISLAND, ILL.

Plant No. 3 — On Deep Waterway — POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y.

Business history shows no better opportunity to acquire sites and buildings at such savings. Properties must be sold at once. Prices have been computed on this necessity. They are only a fraction of what it would cost to reproduce them.

All-Purpose Plants — Best Construction — Ready for Immediate Use

These are all-purpose plants. No expense was spared in their construction. There are no better buildings on the market. They are arranged for most modern and economical production methods. Active operations have just been suspended. Plants are in excellent condition, immediately available for manufacture of a score of different products.

Best Labor Conditions in the U. S.

Plants are in settled communities that have grown up about them. The industry in each case has been of such a stable character that generations of the same families have been employed. Workmen own their own homes near the plants. There has been no labor trouble in twenty years. Labor supply is ample and settled and turnover is very small.

Location of Each Plant Unexcelled

Plants are located at railroad centers, with shipping facilities in all directions. Ideal relation to sources of raw material and the best marketing territories in America. Ample power and loading facilities. In each of the vital points of labor, housing, transportation, power, availability to markets and sources of material, there are no better locations. The Poughkeepsie plant, situated on the Hudson River Deep Waterway, is adapted for world shipping.

Space Divided to Suit Purchaser

These plants will be sold as complete units or will be divided into smaller units to suit requirements.

The most critical investigation is invited. Send at once for complete information about these plants. All for immediate sale. Negotiations will be handled in order of receipt, and prices are so favorable that no time should be lost in making your inquiry.

PLANT No. 1—FREEPORT, ILLINOIS

Located 114 miles west of Chicago, 29 miles west of Rockford. Plant contains 750,000 square feet of floor space. Modern brick buildings, three to five stories high. Well lighted and ventilated.

Three switch-track systems enter the plant proper, serving it on both sides and down the center. The town has direct railroad outlets in all directions.

Labor situation is excellent; a settled German-American community having been employed by this plant and its predecessor for two generations. First-class housing facilities; workmen to a great extent, own their own homes. In such a settled community, labor turnover is low and labor difficulties few.

Strategically located in the richest market in the world. This plant available for general purposes. Unlimited possibilities as a profitable investment.

PLANT No. 2—ROCK ISLAND, ILLINOIS

Located in the heart of an industrial community of 165,000 people. This plant is midway between Moline and Rock Island, Illinois, and across the Mississippi River from Davenport, Iowa. Covers 19 acres of ground. Total floor space of 426,000 square feet all on one floor. Brick, concrete and steel, sawtooth construction. Fenestra sash and concrete and creosote wood-block floors.

Main trunk lines of the Rock Island, the Burlington and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul provide ample shipping facilities. Sidings and tracks entire length of the buildings. CAUCUS URGES AID TO FARMERS TO HOLD VOTES

Washington, D. C., May 5.—[Special.]—Grave fears that the Republicans will lose the northwest in the presidential election unless congress passes adequate farm relief legislation were expressed by a number of senators in the caucus of Republican senators today on the legislative program.

As a result of the representations it was decided to rush the tax reduction bill through this week with night sessions held and to take up the farm relief bills immediately thereafter.

Hold Party Responsible.

Senator Norbeck [Rep., S. D.], spoke on the ills of the farmers and the necessity of legislation extending emergency relief such as is proposed in the McNary-Haugen bill to raise the price of wheat through the operation of a government export corporation. He said the farmers will hold the Republican party responsible and will repudiate the party if their interests are ignored.

Senators Gooding [Rep., Idaho], McNary [Rep., Ore.], and several others spoke in similar vein. It was asserted that in a number of northwestern states a fusion of the Democrats and the third party elements is in prospect and that the Republicans will be lucky to carry these states under the most favorable conditions.

Watson Favors Trades.

Senator Watson [Rep., Ind.], said that full consideration would be given the farm relief bills as soon as the tax bill is out of the way. He proposed urging agrarian senators to supoprt the Mellon tax rates with a view to gaining votes for the farm bills. This appeal did not meet with any general response so far as the tax bill was concerned, as was disclosed later in the day when the Mellon tax rates were defeated through a coalition of Democrats and Republicans.

BABY VANISHES, DAD ASKS $200,000 FROM HOSPITAL

Detroit, Mich., May 5.—How much is a baby worth in cold dollars and cents?

William C. Greatrex, who lost his only child in a strange mixup of babies, says $200,000. He asks this amount in a suit filed today against the Evangelical Deaconess hospital.

The suit recalls the strange story of the Greatrex baby last September. From a mere switching of babies it grew into a nation-wide search for the child. A father and his daughter were arrested in connection with its disappearance, and another grief stricken father pleaded, day after day, for the true story of its fate.

The father and daughter around whom the storm swirled were Alphonse Vlemminck and Eva Vlemminck. It was their child Greatrex found when he claimed his own at the hospital. The Greatrex baby had been given to Vlemminck by mistake. Vlemminck swore he had given the baby to a "couple from Pennsylvania." He declared that he did not know their address.

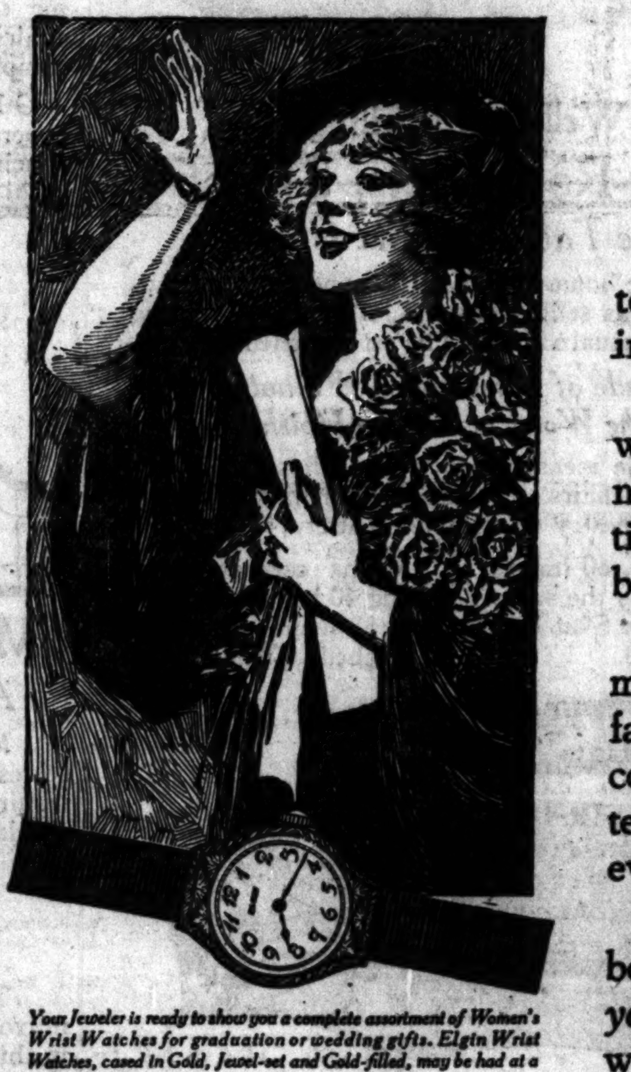
Appreciation of an Elgin Gift Watch will grow as Time Passes



Your Jeweler is ready to show you a complete assortment of Women's Wrist Watches for graduation or wedding gifts. Elgin Wrist Watches, cased in Gold, Jewel-set and Gold-filled, may be had at a wide range of prices.

COMMENCEMENT Day! One of the outstanding days in the lives of young men and young women.

A day for gifts that will be treasured through the years with all the sentiment of the occasion on which they were received.

That is why so many people consider a fine watch such an appropriate gift at graduation time.

Through three generations Elgin Watches have gladdened the hearts of graduates. To many a grown man and woman the joy of school days is recalled by the inscription engraved on the inside of his or her watch case.

Truly, the appreciation of an Elgin Gift Watch grows with the passing of the years.

Here are a few points to bear in mind in selecting a gift watch.

When selecting for a woman, remember that she no longer wants to sacrifice timekeeping accuracy for beauty. She wants both.

When selecting for a man, keep before you the fact that most men wish conservative but rich patterns—and sure time above everything.

In all instances, don't be swayed from a watch you know about to the watch of an unknown maker.

The investment is too important to yield on this point.

One way to be certain about your watch is to select from the Elgins at your Jeweler's.

Yellow Cab

Wants Suggestions for Betterments

Yellow Cab fully realizes the value of public good-will, particularly to systems of transportation, and has kept the fact to the forefront of its efforts every minute since Yellow Cab was born.

Aside from the primary requisites of quick, clean, safe and comfortable service, we have constantly sought to impress upon our employees that this cab company belongs to the people and must be operated to suit them.

Hence the subjects of courtesy, conduct and safety receive just as much attention at our hands as good cabs and good equipment. Yet, we would more nearly attain the perfect service we are striving for if the public would favor us with constructive criticism and suggestions.

There is hardly a man or woman in this city who does not at some time ride in a Yellow Cab, and every one of these is qualified to tell us whether the service is satisfactory or unsatisfactory—whether our employees are courteous or discourteous. And every time they criticize constructively they help themselves, the employees and the company.

We desire that this advertisement be considered a request for your help. Whenever you experience anything that displeases you while using a Yellow Cab, you will help the service by sending specific information direct to us. You are just as deeply interested in Yellow Cab as Yellow Cab is in you. Our interests are identical.

VETS' BUREAU IS RULED BY A RING, SENATOR STATES

Washington, D. C., May 5.—Existence in the veterans' bureau of a "ring" which controls its policies and operation was charged in the senate late today by Senator Oddie [Rep., Nev.], who declared "all the laws in the mind of man" would not make the bureau function properly so long as the present condition obtained.

The Nevada senator asserted that the six assistant directors now in the bureau should be "ousted forthwith" and that similar action should be taken in the cases of "every official brought over from the war risk insurance bureau." He declared appropriations made for veteran relief had been "squandered and misspent" and that the bureau operated under a policy which "presumed a majority of ex-service men to be dishonest."

Gen. O'Ryan Criticized.

Senator Oddie, who is a member of the special senate committee appointed to investigate the administration of Director Charles R. Forbes, criticized the manner in which Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan, the committee counsel, had directed the inquiry. Three months before it began, he said, Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, the present director, was given a complete set of the questions which would be asked.

"Officials were thus able to prepare answers for the committee," he said.

The attack on the bureau came late in the day when few senators remained from the strenuous hours devoted to the revenue bill. Senator Oddie launched into his vigorous denunciation of conditions after several amendments offered by him to a pending bill which proposed the codification of laws affecting the bureau had been defeated.

President for Efficiency.

"The President is anxious that the bureau shall function properly," he said, "but he is advised by the director that everything is proceeding satisfactorily and the director is under the influence of this ring."

Many veterans get no reply at all to their inquiries to the bureau, Senator Caraway [Dem., Ark.] interjected. "Of, when they do, they receive only form letters."

"I seriously doubt whether some officials down there desire to improve conditions," he declared. "If the bureau did the work it was created to perform the work of every senator would be cut in half."

He said he understood that Gen. Hines had issued an order stating that "what he was pleased to call political influence should not be noticed."

Senator Oddie declared that men belonging to the "ring" in most instances had had their salary increased several times since the charges were made and none had been discharged.

SYNOPSIS.

Up to the time Margaret Verity was 12 years old she was a robust outdoor child. She and her widowed mother were poor, but they lived comfortably in a tiny cottage in Sussex by the sea. Mrs. Verity's husband was a sailor who died at sea in the late autumn of 1914.

Just before Margaret's twelfth birthday Mrs. Verity's uncle, Tom Lloyd, sent the child a check for five pounds as a birthday gift. Margaret decided she and her mother would spend the money on a trip to London. They barely made the train and the guard pushed them into a first class compartment occupied by Charles Mount, on his way to Switzerland, hopelessly ill from gas. Margaret's chatter amused him and he asked her to write to him. Six weeks later he died, leaving his fortune to the child. His only relative, a young brother, Archie, away on a destroyer, had his own money, having shared with Charles the gigantic Mount fortune on the death of his father.

Margaret, now 19, is a brusque, blasé, and neurotic young woman. She hasn't an idea in her head but of the hectic chase after amusement from morning till night. She is an annexer of men; a peevish, pallid, rouging, cocktail absorbing, cigaret smoking, all night dancing, mother snubbing modern of the most ungirlish type. Among her suitors is Lord Oddley. His sister Cynthia is the heiress' closest friend. Margaret gives a dinner at the Ritz for her Uncle Tom, who returns to London after an absence of many years, and there she snubs Archie Mount. Margaret becomes ill. On her recovery she goes to the south of France. Archie Mount's yacht is lying in the harbor at Nice and Margaret is invited on board for tea. All the guests but Margaret unobtrusively leave the boat and the yacht sets sail with the spoiled young heiress aboard. She is furious when she discovers the trick; grows violently seasick and loses all idea of the time she's aboard; has a vague recollection of a storm and a wreck, after which she finds herself apparently on an island with Archie Mount as her sole companion.

Tom Lloyd had promised Archie to see the adventure through with him, but he disappears, leaving young Mount to look after Margaret. After several weeks on the island Margaret shows a great improvement, physically and in disposition, and finds herself falling in love with Archie Mount. She wanders out of bounds one day, comes upon a highroad, and realizes she has been tricked.

INSTALLMENT L.

WRANGLING.

"I don't, I assure you. If you mean——"

"I mean your giving out that your yacht had been wrecked and everybody but ourselves drowned."

"I beg your pardon, but did I ever say anybody had been drowned?"

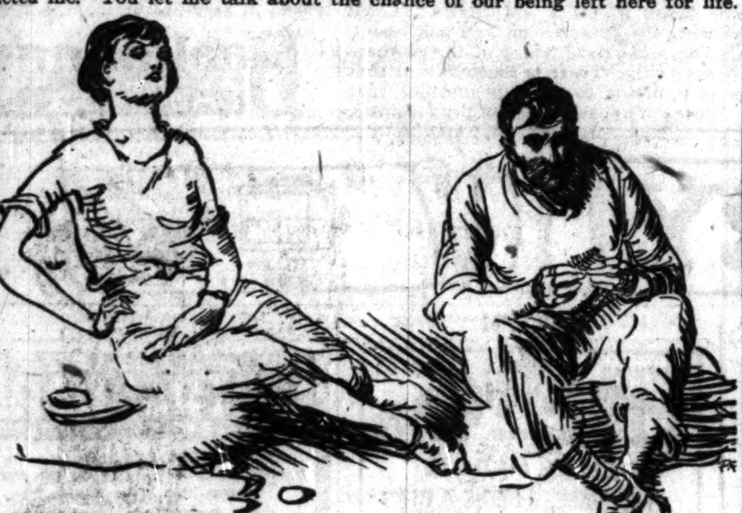
"Pretending that this was a desert island."

"I hope you don't mind my pointing out to you, Miss Verity, that all the time we've been here I have not mentioned the words 'desert island'?"

"I hope you don't mind my pointing out that your last remark is mere hair splitting."

After this rally, another pause. More food eaten.

Then Margaret again: "But when I said desert island you never contradicted me. You let me talk about the chance of our being left here for life.



"I didn't say she was sunk."

You took good care not to let me stray away from this tiny bit of beach. You pretended it was because of the fire or because of my being tired. Don't pretend you didn't know I was being taken in by this gigantic hoax the whole time? Mr. Mount, you can't pretend!"

"I am not attempting to pretend."

"Not now, because you have been found out," the pseudo-castaway said, crushingly. "You admit now you knew all the time what I imagined. Don't you?"

"Yes, Miss Verity, I do. It was what you were meant to imagine."

"And you did your level best to keep me deceived."

"Yes."

"Here we were—not stranded at all! All this time we were within reach of people and towns and telephones and telegraph offices. Utter fool that I've been, letting you persuade me that we were as far away as Crusoe and man Friday. By the way, where are we, Mr. Mount?"

"That I can't tell you, Miss Verity."

She opened her eyes. "Do you mean you don't know yourself?"

"O, I know, obviously. But I've given my word that while we remained here I wouldn't let you know."

"You mean you promised?"

"Just that."

"Promised my uncle, I suppose?"

"Well, since you've guessed, yes."

"Was he with us in that boat, coming off the yacht, that night?"

"He was."

"Anybody else?"

"My man Wallace and two of the crew. They landed us here."

"Then they disappeared and left us?"

"Yes, they rowed back to the yacht."

"Which was not sunk, then?"

"I didn't say she was sunk!"

"No, you didn't say so. And where's my uncle now?"

"I wish to God I knew, Miss Verity," retorted young Mount with convincing fervor. "I don't know where the—I don't know where he is. He ought to have been here all this time. I was given to understand that Mr. Lloyd was going to remain with you during the whole of your—your visit. To tell you the truth—I don't think he is far off."

"He isn't far off," agreed Margaret unexpectedly. "I saw him yesterday."

With a biscuit held half way to his mouth, Mr. Mount stared.

"Saw Mr. Lloyd yesterday? You saw him? What do you mean? Where?"

"I did see him yesterday. At least I thought I saw a man with white hair—I wasn't sure—last night. I thought for a moment I saw somebody following me. Then he vanished. Went off into the darkness. I forgot about that. It was just before the thunder and——"

Here she caught herself up, angry with herself for having brought back, with one word, the whole scene of last night—storm, flight, hours of crash, flash, strange muttered confidences.

Hotly she colored. She dropped her head, bending forward to put up the end of a bough which, burnt through, had dropped, black, on to the paper white ash. She threw it back into the fire's heart.

"Has my uncle gone mad, do you suppose?"

Young Mount was within an inch of answering, "I've often wondered." Instead, he followed the instinct of siding with his own sex when criticized by the other.

"Mr. Lloyd mad? Anything but. An uncommonly clever, shrewd, able man. Nobody could call him——"

"I could. I do," protested the dutiful niece. "If he were not completely insane why should he have taken it into his head to do this incredible thing to me?"

Without answering, Mount turned upon her a fleeting, fluent look. That look said, "Don't talk like a little fool. You know as well as I do that your uncle meant to sweep you out of harm's way. Out of leading the wrong sort of life and getting under the thumb of an utter waster of a girl, a sponger and a wrong 'un. He meant it for your good. You can't say it hasn't been the best thing that ever happened to you?"

With this the look mingled appeal. "Don't be angry with me, anyhow. Haven't I been put into a rotten position? Can I help it, child? Was it my scheme?"

Further, that glance betrayed. "You lovely thing!" it said. "You lovely, innocent, adorable thing! Lovely you always were, even with scarlet grease all over your mouth and bootblacking in your eyelashes. And now—look at you! You're a picture. The most exquisite little face in the world; the body of a young caryatid. Fire and velvet in my arms. I shall not rest until I've got you there again!"

But she had not met his look. They went on with their wrangle, eating hungrily, speaking as disagreeably as possible.

"Do you feel justified, Mr. Mount, in telling me anything more about my uncle's inconceivable plan? How long was I to be left here?"

"Honestly, I don't know. Had I guessed it was to be so long——" Pause, indicating that every second had been purgatory.

"May I ask if my mother knows?"

"Mrs. Verity imagines that you are still cruising in my yacht."

"Ah! Mums was taken in, too? That's one comfort. My own mother did not know about this Island of Spoof. How many people do?"

"Three. Your uncle, your mother's friend, and myself."

"Three people. An infamous way they've behaved. I suppose it's too much to hope that they are ashamed of themselves?"

While she rated him she was admiring him. Looking like a common tramp, but how handsome! Why didn't nature turn out all men like that? Even that fair, short beard which, contradicting the blackness of his hair, blurred the outline of cheek, chin, and neck—even that didn't spoil him. Nor did those clothes that he had lived and slept in since the wreck disguise his build. The most exquisitely turned out Guardee who ever strolled into Piccadilly after spending half the morning under the hands of his man—what would he look beside Archie Mount? Trivial. A boy mannequin.

"Where is your yacht?"

"In harbor."

"Are you going to tell me which harbor?"

"I am sorry, but I am not allowed to tell you any names at all. I gave my word. You understand, Miss Verity?"

"Perfectly. You don't suggest I want a man to break his word? But that you should have been weak minded enough to promise! That I don't forgive."

"I don't forgive myself, Miss Verity," curtly.

"I am glad you have that decency," remarked Miss Verity loftily, controlling her wish to laugh aloud in glee.

Good morning!

"America," the greatest photoplay D. W. Griffith has made since "The Birth of a Nation," had its Chicago premiere last night at the Auditorium theater. Proceeds went to the people of Chicago for the purchase of the Gilbert Stuart portrait of George Washington.

What a picture! The illustrated story of momentous events in our country's history; Our country that has run red with the blood of patriots; that has been an altar of sacrifice on which, for a common good, fair women and brave men have laid their lives and loves with bitter tears, but no regrets. "America" is David Wark Griffith's tribute to George Washington.

Sometime ago—in May, 1923, I believe it was—the Daughters of the American Revolution wrote to members of the film industry asking why a picture having to do with the Revolutionary war wouldn't be something worth while making. Mr. Will Hays promptly asked Mr. Griffith to undertake the direction of such a film. Mr. Griffith instantly responded that he would and got busy in no length of time.

Though a charming love story runs through the stern business of war as portrayed by "America"—"accuracy" as detail has been the producer's watchword. He's visited battlefields. He's burrowed in histories. He's torn his hair selecting "types." The ride of Paul Revere takes up only a few feet of film—but that ride required three weeks to film.

Of course, one could write columns about this masterpiece. Writing about it isn't the thing that matters, however. The making of it and the seeing it are what should concern you. Wave upon wave of applause greeted it last night.

However, "America" is beautifully done. It carries you along on a wave of enthusiasm. Under the stimulus of the great director the players have thrown themselves heart and head into their work. The result is one great, throbbing, singing, sighing, triumphant harmony. THAT is "America"!

See you tomorrow!

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Genevieve O'Leary, 1408 Foster avenue, was awarded $5.

The Question.

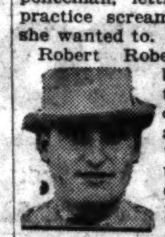
What would you do if a woman approached you on the street, saying she would scream unless you handed over your money?

Where Asked.

At entrance to Union station.

The Answers.

Clarence Brooker, 1681 Milwaukee avenue, blue printer—Well, what would you do in a case like that? I know what I'd do; I wouldn't give her any money at all. If she wasn't too big I'd just drag her to a policeman, letting her practice screaming on the way, if she wanted to.



Robert Robertson, 331 Ashland boulevard, clerk — I think I'd tell her to go on screaming. Chances are a good rebuff like that would shut her up like a clam. Wonder what a clever plain clothes officer would say to her in a case like that? Anyhow, it would be gravy for him.

Allen Kennedy, 3331 Flournoy street, painter—I'd give her the money. She might call her accomplices. A friend indeed is a friend in need, and chances are that a hold-up woman wouldn't be alone. I suppose something would depend upon how much money one was carrying.

Harry Whiteford, 1232 Hall avenue, signal maintainer — I wouldn't pay any attention to her. I'd keep right on going. If she followed she'd find herself in the arms of a policeman; then she'd have free board and sleeping quarters. Cell life might induce her to get a paying position.

Harry L. Rudnick, 3521 West Roosevelt road, student — I don't believe I'd give it to her. That threat to scream was just a stall. The chances are the woman would not fall into a trap that would get her into court if she could help it.

Anonymous Gifts of $15,000 Are Made to Fund for Picture

Three donations of $5,000 each, made anonymously, yesterday swelled the fund that is being collected for the purchase of the Gilbert Stuart portrait of George Washington to $60,000. With the collection of $15,000 more the famous masterpiece will become the property of Chicago.

In addition to the $5,000 donations the response of Chicagoans who attended the first exhibition here of David Wark Griffith's photoplay "America" last night added approximately $2,500 to the fund. This amount, it is hoped will cover the entire expense of the campaign.

The photoplay with its heroic fighting of the Minute Men, the spectacular dash from Boston to Concord of Paul Revere, the signing of the Declaration, the tears of colonial widows and wives brought many cheers from the 2,500 men, women and children who attended the premiere.

Frank Comerford addressed the audience with an explanation of the drive for the fund to purchase the painting.

The boxes of the Auditorium were filled. Mayor Dever and his family sat in one box, Paul Schulze, chairman of the committee of seventy-five, had his family in another and on all sides were the socially prominent, the patriotic, the lovers of art.

The three donations were announced by Mr. Schulze during the intermission in the showing of the picture. Three "Friends of the Art institute" had pledged $5,000 each to the fund, he said.

"These people, who have asked that their names be kept secret, believe that Chicago should have the Gilbert Stuart painting," Mr. Schulze added. "They are firm in this belief, so firm that they have donated $5,000 each, a true symbol of their faith. They know Chicago will not fail in the raising of the remainder of the $75,000 necessary. We are grateful to them."

Cash contributions received by THE TRIBUNE, the Herald and Examiner, and the Art institute yesterday amounted to $161.40.

Methodists Rap Butler for His Rap at Dry Law

New York, May 5.—Characterizing Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's speech before the Missouri society as "beneath the dignity of the president of a great university," the Methodist Ministerial association today resolved to make formal protest to the board of trustees of Columbia university.

The resolution of protest, unanimously favored by 150 ministers attending the association's meeting, described Dr. Butler's attitude as "not the right kind of patriotic example to set before thousands of young men and women training for citizenship at Columbia university."

Dr. Butler's statements, that it was impossible to enforce the prohibition laws, were declared to be "radical, superficial and unfounded."

BEG YOUR PARDON

The bed which Dr. James H. Breasted is shipping from Egypt to Chicago did not come from King Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb, as stated in yesterday's TRIBUNE. The bed dates from the first dynasty of Egypt and was used 2,000 years before Tut-Ankh-Amen lived, Dr. Breasted claims.

Here's a Play of Hill-Folks Down Ca'lina

And How They Took to the Big War.

"SUN-UP":

A play in three acts by Lula Vollmer; made known in Chicago May 5, 1924, in the La Salle Theater, by this cast:

Widow Cagle	Lucille La Verne
Pap Todd	Owen Meech
Emmy	Olga Lane
Bud	Eugene Lockhart
Sheriff Weeks	Edward H. Loeffler
Rufe Cagle	Kevett Allan
Preacher	Charles Macdonald
The Stranger	Glenn Burdette
Bob	C. W. Van Voorhis

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

"Sun-Up" is hereby heartily commended to all who think or who say they think that native plays should survey what is called the American Scene; for it is genuine soil-drama. Also, "Sun-Up" is with equal gusto commended to all theater-goers who favor a mixed and varied diet; for it is a sound and believable little play unlike any other which comes to mind. It is what we learned to call shack-drama when the Irish Players first came among us; and the piece rather vividly suggests some of the items in their répertoire. It is not so economical of time as the best of the longer plays the Abbey actors brought with them; and neither is it so sketchy and casual. . . .

But here it is for what it is—domestic drama of the American peasantry against the vast background of the worst war. The Uhlans cross into Belgium; and in time the echoes of their sinister tramping penetrate the hut in the Carolina mountains where the Widow Cagle smokes her pipe, trims her pot-greens, and looks on grimly at the petty aspects of life and love in the hilly backwoods. . . . Things happen,—things such as were the accepted commonplaces of war's by-products in American homes and in German homes, and in French and Italian and English homes: things of inconsequence save to mothers like Mrs. Cagle, and boys like her son Rufe, and such folk. Nothing in Miss Vollmer's moving and sincere play asks that you give more of credence than you give willingly and eagerly every morning to the authenticated reports of this-and-that in THE TRIBUNE.

Not all the players here with Miss La Verne were her associates through the many weeks in which the play was on exhibition in New-York; but that needn't bother you: there is just one way in which to perform "Sun-Up"; and that is the way the actors in the La Salle do it. . . . Their difficulty last night was not lack of usage to their lines, but neglect to pitch their tones to the spaces of the La Salle, which, although a small theater, is at least twice as large as the one wherein they were performing until Saturday night, the Princess in New-York.

As to Miss La Verne, she is a memorable and striking person in her guise as the laconic and vital old mountain-woman: my boyhood's adventures with Janauschek's acting as Meg Merrilees came rushing back to memory more than once as I looked on and listened. . . . And I'm of a suspicion that Miss La Verne is inclined to make a ritual of her success in the rôle; for the audience was asked to withhold its raptures until after the final curtain, when she gave the longest first-night speech of the season, save only Zangwill's.

News of the Theaters.

"Outward-Bound" is in its final New-York week; and there is talk of its being brought hither.

News of the unionized actors is that the Managers' Protective Association, their friend, has incorporated itself, and that the die-hard impresarii, banded as the Producing Managers' Association, is just sittin' 'round.

Men's Fashions

Cool and Comfortable.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Of all the garments we can think of, the quickest to put on if you happen to be going to a fire, or wish to catch a train, is a one piece bathing suit, the kind that buttons on one shoulder.

You step into it, button the shoulder, and are all ready for the party. This fact seems to have hit an enterprising manufacturer of underwear right plumb between the eyes, because he has put on the market a suit of underwear built on the same efficient plan, and bids you metrically, when you have invested in one of these, to "step through, button two."

As our artist has indicated in his drawing, there's really no trick to it at all. There are two buttons on the left shoulder of the union suit, and once you have buttoned these you're free to attend to the more serious phases of dressing, such as selecting the proper necktie or examining your socks for holes which do not look menacing when you put them on but which by four in the afternoon have assumed the proportions of a nickel or a quarter and which are difficult to explain away.

Certainly, if your wife sees this, make up your mind that from now on you are going to wear 'em, because from the point of view of her who is met with the reproach, "Hmph! No buttons on m'underwear," two buttons are less to sew on than five or six.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

An Old Southern Cook Book.

CHARLESTON, S. C.—[Special Correspondence.]—After having no success at all, comparatively, in Savannah, Ga., in discovering old timers who could give me first hand information about southern cookery in the glorious old days, I jumped right into good fortune here, guided by some strange instinct or other, as I went out to pry about, the first morning I was here. I fell in with one who could give me a fine start, and one thing led to another until on one day I interviewed five native borns, one 82 and the others not many years younger.

The oldest was the wife of Gen. Walker, one of the youngest of young officers in the long ago, and a worshiped husband to this day. And so I got local color about southern cookery such as I have never been able to get from books.

Everywhere I went I heard of Miss Rutledge, and saw battered and interlined and supplemented copies of her famous cook book. Moreover, although in one case it had to be tied up with a string to hold its leaves, it was right at hand where it could be consulted to this day.

Probably for much the same reason that Mrs. Walker, as a child on a Georgetown rice plantation, paid the penalty of having a dish cloth pinned to her if she ventured into the kitchen, Miss Rutledge did not put her name on the title page of her book, which reads:

THE CAREFUL HOUSEWIFE.

By a Lady of Charleston.

The oldest edition I have seen of the book had the date 1851. The copy I found in the Savannah historical rooms was a reprint. It has no end of rice bread recipes, and I copied a large number of them.

Zonite used simply as a mouthwash or gargle does three distinct things.

(1) It destroys the breath odors arising from conditions in the mouth and leaves no odor of its own.

(2) It kills the germs responsible for dread pyorrhea and other gum diseases.

(3) It kills the germs that cause coughs, colds, sore-throat and other more serious respiratory diseases.

Zonite is absolutely non-poisonous. In bottles at your druggist's, fifty cents and one dollar.

English War Widows Wed as Maidens Stay Single

LONDON, May 5.—[United News.]—Three-fifths of Great Britain's war widows have remarried—90,000 out of 150,000 whose names appeared on the pension lists at the end of the war. Yet statisticians say 1,000,000 "surplus women" are doomed to go through life without having any one to battle with at the breakfast table but brothers and perhaps brothers-in-law. The girls say it is because widows know men's ways and how to please their victims.

Wanderlust Alibi Makes Navy Men Perfect Husbands

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Two men went aboard one of the boats of the Pacific fleet recently docked in the Brooklyn navy yard. It was on a visiting day. The officers were entertaining their wives. The two visitors were so impressed by the happy camaraderie evidenced between husbands and wives, that it led to serious conjecture on long absences of husbands from home in relation to married happiness.

Judging from the happy faces of the navy men and their wives, the theory was expounded on the way home that all marriages would be happier if men could leave their wives for a certain period every year. That the naval officers are a lucky lot in that their alibi is stern duty, undoubtedly was injected into the philosophizings of the two male visitors. One of them suggested that the navy life was able to satisfy the inherent wanderlust of the male and still allow him to be happily married.

Inquiry reveals from an unofficial source that there are fewer divorces among navy men than among those who must report to home and mother every blessed evening.

We asked one navy officer just what there was to these legitimate absences and the effect on their domestic lives.

"It's the wonderful wives we have," answered the cavalier. "They have the hardest life in the world, and they are the best sports. My wife has moved three times within the last year to be near the port where the ship is tied up. Trying to get the children educated with so many changes of schools is a task.

The wife of another officer hit upon the real secret, we suspect, in alluding to the fact that you can keep romance alive longer if the man is not around continuously to spoil it. Not, she says, that it would be lost in him, but he doesn't get a chance to see you in your thousand different moods, so disconcerting to romance.

"Then there is the continual sadness of parting. Every time that has to be faced, it draws the couple closer. Fortunately, nowadays, it is only a matter of months, whereas before it was sometimes a separation of years.

"When he is due home, it is like waiting the return of the lover. I, for one, think if you can feed a woman romance, you can keep her happy. When a man is away from home, his wife does not write all the irritating little trials and disappointments of running a home, as she would tell them to him were he to come home every night. And his letters are love letters, and you know what that means to a woman.

From others of whom I made inquiry I learned that life has its romance in the social life of the navy circle. When ships are in port, entertainment is extended the officers and wives, thus providing that occasional high light necessary to relieve the monotony of the woman's life.

But all men cannot produce a good wanderlust alibi like the navy men, and there you are!

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Out With It.

"Miss Doris Blake: I am a fellow nineteen. I have kept company with a girl for the last three years, and she is just one year my senior. We have broken many a time, but always made up again. One week before Christmas I broke off again, as I was downhearted because I could not buy a Christmas present for her, as I needed all the money I had to help to buy a tombstone for my mother. The day before Christmas she came around and said that is why I broke off, because it was Christmas, so I didn't have to buy her a present. I love this girl and would like to know how to regain her again. U. S. S."

Why do you not come out frankly and tell the girl about your money plight. There is nothing gained by trying to conceal it. You simply have put the wrong interpretations on your actions. And I feel that a worthwhile girl would appreciate you for being honest about your finances. The trouble with a lot of young men paying court to girls is that they will try to give the impression they have money to spend when they really have not.

Hard to Say.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been married for a few years and am always quarreling with my husband on the same subject. Do you thing it right for a man to go to a theater or a dance without his wife when there is no reason that would prevent his wife from going? It seems to me that it does no good for me to argue with him, for he will stop for a while and then start all over again. F. C."

I don't think it right for a man to go dashing off to theater and dances when he could take his wife with him. That's pretty selfish to my way of thinking. But what to do about it if argument and pleadings fail? If he feels that way about it, it wouldn't be much fun tagging along, knowing you were not wanted. Why don't you step out to the theater yourself next time he plans to attend one alone.

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

Drama League Holds Annual Convention in Pasadena May 27

The Drama League of America, whose headquarters have been in Chicago for many years, will hold its fourteenth national convention in Pasadena, May 27 to June 2. This will be the organization's first meeting on the Pacific coast. Despite the distance a record attendance is in prospect.

Also for the first time the majority of the forty-five centers of the Drama league will be represented. An attractive program has been prepared by the Pasadena committee.

A special train will leave Chicago over the Rock Island. The first stop is to be at Colorado Springs, where the local center has arranged an interesting program. The Royal Gorge, the Great Salt Lake, and many other points will be visited along the way.

Pasadena Center will play host to the convention, with Miss Eleanor M. Bissell, president, in charge. A session of seven days has been arranged, whereas past conventions have been limited to three.

Many Chicagoans, active in Drama league work, are on the program. Francis Neilson, national president, will respond to the address of welcome. Lorado Taft is scheduled to discuss "Drama League Ideals." Mrs. Thomas G. Winters, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, will talk on "Club Drama Study as a Force in Elevating Standards." Theodore B. Hinckley, editor of Drama, will treat of the league's play-going bulletins. Miss Mary Taft, producer of children's plays, is to take part in the symposium on "Production," while Mrs. A. Starr Best has charge of the roundtable on "Religious Drama."

Another Illustration of the Vogue of Bisque

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Here she is—all bisque dolled up! This model of bisque crepe with two flounces of hand made lace in matching color and a lace edged scarf of self material, is only another illustration of our predilection for beige, sand, bisque, and cocoa shades.

Both in line and shade the costume is exceptionally smart. But it goes without saying that these two style assets demand much of the wearer. For that untrimmed tunic a slim, supple figure is a paramount necessity, and unrelieved bisque is trying to any but the vermilion tinted brunette. If a blonde chose to wear this model, she might work it out in black or exploit the scarf in some becoming color contrast.

Most of us have to be guarded in our use of these tan shades. With indeterminate coloring of our own and without color relief in the frock, we are all too apt to resemble nothing so much as a sand pile.

As a woman said the other day to a clerk who seemed anxious to diminish the number of suits and frocks of beige and bisque in her department, "Take me away from the dunes! I was born with all the beige I can use—sandy hair, sallow skin, and eyes that are often as yellow as a cat's!"

This shopper found ultimate satisfaction, as many another beige colored woman has, in a frock of printed crepe combined with pale crepe. An unusual model of this sort, shown here, exploited the plain crepe as a deep border for the skirt and for a panel in front from the hem up above the waist line. The printed crepe was also used with an effect of coat and vest to oppose sleeves of the plain material.

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decision of Tribune boxing representatives are:

At East Chicago—Warnie Smith beat Barney Adair [10]; Tillie Herman beat Alex Trambitas [10]; Marine Rainerie beat Jack McDonald [8]; Tony Sanders stopped Frankie Covello [1].

At Columbus, O.—Bryan Downey beat Jack Delaney [12].

At Toledo—Joe Packo knocked out Harry Krohn [4].

At Milwaukee—Joey Sangor knocked out Mickey McAdams [8]; Carl Tremaine beat Earl McArthur [10].

At Detroit—Abe Goldste'n beat Clarence Rosen [10].

At New Orleans—Bobby Williams beat Bobby Hinnins [6]; Erbie Moak beat Brooke Stevens [10]; Ashton Donza beat Sam Pizzatolla [10]; Young Griff knocked out Young Barrere [3].

At Kenilworth, Md.—Harry Greb knocked out Jack Clark [2].

Warnie Smith, the Oklahoma cowboy, won a slow, uninteresting fight from Barney Adair of New York last night in the main event of George Oswego's boxing show at East Chicago. Smith was credited with winning five of the ten rounds, while Adair got three and two were even.

The bout was marred by holding and stalling tactics, Adair being the principal offender. Referee Kid Howard spent most of his time trying to keep the men apart.

Fans Near Snoring Stage.

As early as the seventh round the fans lost interest, and many of them went home. The two were 150 pounders.

The spectators got one good fight for their money, however. This was the ten round semi-windup between the 150 pounders, Tillie [Kid] Herman and Alex Trambitas of California.

Manager Fish Active with Laundry.

Marine Rainerie got a slight shade over Jack McDonald in a heavyweight slugging match of eight rounds, while Frankie Covello, the west side Italian, got knocked out in the first round of his lightweight bout with Tony Sanders. Sanders knocked Covello down three times and, to save him further punishment, his manager, Mike Fish, threw in the towel.

H. O. (PAT) PAGE.

ONLY a few years ago Butler university, in athletics, was just "one of the small Indiana colleges." That was before the advent as athletic director, four years ago, of Pat Page, long an assistant to A. A. Stagg at the University of Chicago.

When Page went to Butler, in response to attractive financial inducements, some of his friends shook their heads. Within two years Big Ten opponents which Butler was to meet in football and basketball shook their heads.

Fame first nestled on the Butler banner when it scored a football victory over Illinois in 1922 which was a veritable dope upset. It continued to nestle when Butler that winter defeated every Big Ten basketball five which it met, including Illinois, Purdue, Wisconsin, and Chicago.

Down at Indianapolis they give all the credit to Pat Page. When you meet Pat at an athletic conference meeting he says his athletes are versatile and adaptable. Whatever the cause, here is Butler's record, as furnished by the promotional manager at our request, during Page's régime:

Football—Champions Indiana Collegiate Athletic league in 1920 and 1921. (League included Indiana colleges except Purdue, Indiana, and Notre Dame.) Victory over Illinois in 1922 and Haskell Indians in 1923. Total victories, 28; defeats, 7. Opponents class with Butler or higher.

Basketball—Won I. C. A. L. title in 1920-21 and 1921-22. Beaten only by Franklin in 1922-23. Defeated four Big Ten teams that year. After slow start last winter, defeated Marquette, Chicago, Franklin (latter's only defeat since 1922). Then won National A. A. U. title at Kansas City.

Baseball—Started with nothing in 1920. Built up team. Last year won state title. Ohio State and Chicago fell for two years in succession.

Track—First track in 1920. Page has developed Doolittle, who holds two mile state record; Gray, who did :09 4-5 in century. Mile relay team won its event last year at Kansas and Drake and set new Indiana record at Lafayette.

CURLEY BRINGS NEWS OF GEORGES' ARRIVAL

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Jack Curley, American representative of Georges Carpentier, who is matched to meet Tom Gibbons at Michigan City in a ten round bout May 31, arrived in Chicago yesterday and announced the French boxing idol will sail for America on the Majestic tomorrow. If present plans materialize, Carpenter will arrive in Chicago about May 15 and will train in public for a couple of days at the Mullen-McGoorty gymnasium.

In addition to looking after Carpentier's interests, Curley will assist in the promotional end of the contest. He was in conference yesterday with Matchmaker Floyd Fitzsimmons and Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons. The wheels of promotional machinery will be set in motion at once.

Carp Wants to Learn Arena.

Curley will go to Michigan City either today or tomorrow to arrange for Carpentier's training quarters.

Gibbons will arrive in Chicago today, accompanied by his wife and children. He is due to arrive at the Northwestern depot at noon and will work at the Arcade for the remainder of the week. On Saturday evening he plans to go to Michigan City for two weeks of intensive training. Manager Eddie Kane is engaging boxing partners and completing the staff of cooks and trainers for the camp.

Leonard to Box Walker.

From a reliable source it has been learned that Bennie Leonard, lightweight champion, and Mickey Walker, holder of the welterweight crown, will meet at Jersey City on June 26 for the world's 145 pound championship. The bout will be staged by Tex Rickard, according to the informant.

Pete Sariemento, the Filipino who was matched to meet Bud Taylor of Terre Haute in Milwaukee next Monday night, has been compelled to call off the bout because of sickness.

Ernie Goozeman, the Milwaukee 124 pounder matched to meet Herbie Schaeffer of the south side in the windup of Jim Mullen's boxing show at Aurora on Friday night, will train at the Mullen-McGoorty gym today. Goozeman's wife has been seriously ill and the fighter has not cared up to this time to leave Milwaukee.

Sammy Mandell of Rockford and Charley White of Chicago have been practically matched to meet in a ten round bout at Aurora on June 14. The weight will be 135 pounds, and Promoter Mullen asserted each has insisted a forfeit be posted for appearance and weight as well.

Tom Gibbons will act as referee of part of the amateur bouts at the Arcade tonight. Kid Howard has arranged twelve bouts between boxers of different classes.

Eddie McGoorty, boxing instructor at Mullen's gymnasium, is arranging an attractive card of amateur bouts for Thursday night. Several well known fighters will act as referees.

FARM and GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

CENTRAL ILLINOIS FARMERS PREDICT BIG CROP YEAR.

PEORIA, Ill., May 5.—[Special.]—Central Illinois farmers have had things humming in the fields during the last few days. With a favorable crop outlook, they see a good chance of coming out of the mire and getting back on the hard surfaced road again.

While the season is late here in the heart of the live stock feeding section of the corn belt, the farmers predict a big crop year. Some of them who bought high priced land during the boom, are optimistic enough to believe that they will be able to avoid the tough time they have had paying interest and taxes.

All the talk about low wheat prices, high production costs, and the necessity for a reduction in acreage stimulated a new interest in growing this crop in many of the central counties. Instead of reducing the acreage of the winter wheat crop last fall, farmers down here say that they figured it would be a good time to plant more, and that is just what they did. As a result there is at least a normal number of acres or more of winter wheat here this season.

In some places the wheat was severely damaged during the winter, but in general, the crop has come through with a comparatively slight loss. Only a few fields will be plowed up and put in corn.

Little corn has been planted from St. Louis north. Thousands of acres of ground have been plowed around Springfield, Peoria, Greenview, Mason City, Chillicothe, Henry, Princeton, Geneseo and Moline during the last week. Corn planting will be started in the central section the last of this week if the weather is favorable.

While the farmers are late with their plowing they still have a chance to get their crops in on schedule time, for they do not usually begin planting corn until the second week in May this far north.

Seeding of oats was a little late this spring, much of this crop being sown the 1st of April, but rains have brought things through in fine shape.

Dozens of farmers down here are planning to introduce soy beans into their crop rotation system this year. Around Bath and Manitou, alfalfa is being extensively grown on sandy soil.

In Menard and Mason counties, where cattle and hogs are fed by the thousands, farmers are sticking to clover as a soil builder. They claim they are able to keep their soil at a fairly high standard of fertility by growing clover and feeding the hay along with corn to their cattle, and then hauling all of the manure out to the fields.

A scarcity of good work horses is predicted for Menard and other nearby counties of central Illinois by Frank Marbold, who runs a 3,000 acre farm, and feeds about 300 head of cattle for the market every year. "We have about the usual number of horses in this section, but they are getting old and will soon have to be replaced." he said.

"The trouble is that few colts have been raised during the last two or three seasons, and in about three years we are going to be in great need of drafters in this part of the state. Some of our farmers here are using tractors successfully, but those who own tractors hang on to their horses and keep about as many as they did before. We will still need horses, even if we have tractors."

ZIB WANTS JUST ONE MORE CRACK AT LEWIS

Stanislaus Zbyszko, the veteran Pole, matched to meet Toots Mondt, the Colorado cowboy, in the windup of John "Doc" Krone's wrestling show at the Coliseum tomorrow night, stated in public at the Arcade gymnasium yesterday that he wants just one more chance at the heavyweight title held by Ed "Strangler" Lewis.

The Pole, who held the heavyweight title at one time, worked out at the Arcade with William Demetral. Zbyszko has always been a favorite with boxing and wrestling fans who frequent Kid Howard's resort, and they requested a speech after the workout.

Interest in Pesek Bout.

While the Zbyszko-Mondt struggle is billed as the feature, the finish contest between John Pesek and Joe Dostal, the Bohemian champion, is attracting a lot of attention. Pat McGill and Frank Le Mark, the Canadian, meet in the one fall opener. Bobby Bylund of Minneapolis and Hugh Nichols of Cedar Rapids, Ia., also will meet. This will be a one fall fracas. Emil Thiry will referee all contests.

Hans Steinke and Jack Linow are to lock holds in a finish match at the Broadway armory tonight. They met recently at the Star and Garter, and neither was able to gain a fall.

Martinson and Freberg.

Paul Martinson and John Freberg, local heavyweights, will meet in another struggle, while Johnny Meyers, former middleweight champion, will meet Bobby Bylund of Minneapolis in the other bout on the card. The show will be conducted by the Uptown Chamber of Commerce.

DO YOU KNOW
THAT IT IS THE "UNSEEN HALF" IN TAILORING THAT RECEIVES OUR MOST CAREFUL ATTENTION—THE HIDDEN STITCHES, SEAMS AND BINDINGS THAT MAKE FOR PERFECTION IN CLOTHES?

Where Backbone Counts

A LITTLE moisture or a fair amount of sun will soon make a shapeless mass of a once good-looking "snow-man." He made a good "first impression"—but he didn't last—he wasn't built right—he lacked backbone.

How true is this of the clothes you wear. Unless the backbone is there—built right into the "makings" of the suit—a little moisture is a dangerous thing.

That is why Goodman & Suss Clothes, "23 Point Hand-Tailored," are expertly fashioned by hand to the shape of your body—not pressed into shape like the snow-man. You'll find it in the easy swing of the coat—the set of the shoulders—the complete freedom and graceful conformity to every movement and posture of the body.

23 vital points provide the backbone that is the fundamental of good appearance and lasting satisfaction.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

For about four innings yesterday things moved along pleasingly for the White Sox. After that it was a different story and the Tygers, slightly irritated over five straight defeats, crashed the Evers' gang emphatically in the opener of the series. The count was 8 to 5, and when it was all over, about 7,500 bugs were willing to admit Cobb's toilers are fairly good hitters.

The bottom dropped out of the pastime, so far as the pale hose were concerned, in the sixth, when George Connally ceased to operate effectively. He had a 3 to 3 tie on his hands at that time but folded up suddenly after two were out, and six safe smacks in a row scored four runs to eliminate whatever chance the south siders had to make any progress.

Bill Barrett Pulls Star Play.

Although knocked for the well known goal, the Sox at least had the satisfaction of turning in the star play of the day. They indulged in several of those things—also a couple that weren't so good—but the prize was a catch and throw by Bill Barrett that brought about a double play and robbed the Tygers of a few runs in the fifth inning.

A single by Halloway and double by Blue arranged the setting for Barrett's achievement. With none out Cobb strolled up and socked one to left field. The wind caught it and Barrett lost track of the pill for a moment. He recovered in time to make a stab for it with his gloved hand, and he held it. Halloway immediately darted for the plate, but a peg that was a knockout both for speed and accuracy beat him to the counting station.

Third Is Uproarious for Sox.

The game savored of a White Sox triumph for a few innings because of an assault on Bert [Lefty] Cole in the third. Bert had done fairly well in the first and second chapters, during which his mates had presented him with a two run lead, but in the third four of Evers' men hit in the wake of a pass, three scored and Cole was excused from active duty.

Cole's banishment brought Ken Halloway into the picture. He cast an evil spell over the Sox batters, his first effort resulting in a double play that ended the third inning rally abruptly. From then on he conducted the show to suit himself, not only holding his foes in check, but cutting in on the attack with a single and double, both of which were damaging.

Tygers Score in First.

The Tygers got one run in the opening inning because Connally carelessly punctured Blue's pants, after which Manush doubled. Another tallied in the second, when Bassler, Cole, and Blue connected.

Cole started himself on the slide in the Sox third when he handed a pass to Schalk for a starter. Connally fouled out and Mostil notched a double on a fly that Heilmann lost in the sun. Hooper then handcuffed Pratt with a hot drive, scoring both Schalk and Mostil. Collins scratched a hit past Cole and, when Sheely singled Hooper across, Cole resigned and Halloway terminated the round by inducing Kamm to ground into a double play.

That one run lead didn't last long, however. After Barrett had staged his spectacle for a double play in the fifth, Heilmann slapped a single past short and Blue scooted home with the tying run.

Halloway's Rap Hits Fence.

When the Tyger sixth opened Rigney was dropped on strikes and Collins threw out Jones. Then the fun began. Bassler singled. Halloway drove one against the concrete fence in left and it bounced back so far that Bassler scored and Halloway stopped at second. Blue singled and Cobb drove two home with a double. Ty nicked the pan when Manush singled and Connally departed in favor of Steengrafe.

After that there wasn't much of an exciting nature. Sheely gave the fans something to shout about in the home sixth by banging the ball into the left field seats, but the Tygers grabbed that run back in the eighth, when McWeeny was serving. Then the Sox faded out with a lone run in the ninth, a double by French and single by Schalk promoting it.

POP ANSONS WIN AGAIN.

Pop Anson nine defeated the Washington Park Lion Boosters at Washington park, 11 to 0. Cy Marks twirled good ball for the victors, allowing but one hit. The fielding of the Ansons featured. Score:

Ansons ....003 105 200—11 14 1

Sparky Adams' Terrible Peg Costs Cubs a Tough Game

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

Cincinnati, O., May 5.—[Special.]—One wild heave by Sparky Adams paved the way to two Redleg runs in the fourth inning and tied up the score, and the Cincinnatians walked over the plate with a single run in the ninth to down the Cubs, 3 to 2, here today. It was a tough contest to lose, for had Adams made the peg right the Reds would have been stopped without a run in the fourth, for two gents were out at the time.

Elmer Jacobs, the tall Seattle boy, shouldered the Cub pitching duties and the defeat. Two singles and an intentional pass filled the bases on Elmer in the ninth with the count knotted at 2 all and when "Ump" Sweeney miscalled a ball on Caveney Jake blew higher than the well known kite and dished up a fourth ball to the Cincinnati shortsop, forcing the winning tally across the rubber.

Reds Get Six Hits.

In the nine sessions the Reds were able to muster only six hits off Jacobs' benders, two less than the Bears notched off the veteran tunnel ball pitcher, Carl Mays. Two of the Cincinnati hits came in the terrible fourth in which Adams' error, a pass to Pinelli, and a passed ball by Leo Hartnett all helped to give the Reds two runs which tied the score.

The Cubs started after Mays in the first inning, Grantham and Grimes singling, but Friberg blew the rally with an easy grounder. The second session was more fruitful. Grigsby started off with a double to left center. Heathcote and Hartnett couldn't produce anything but infield outs, but Grigsby moved to third and then Jacobs scored him with a one base smash to center.

In the third the Bears still had a kick in their bats. Grantham peeled off his second single after Adams was out and George went to second when Grimes rolled out. Friberg singled to left, scoring Grantham, and then Barney stole second. It looked fine for another Cub run, but Roush made a brilliant dash to drag down Grigsby's liner in left center.

The Terrible Fourth.

Then came the Reds' outburst in the fourth and the opening of the way to the two tying runs by Adams' wild peg. Roush singled after Daubert had fanned and took second when Hartnett let a pitch go by him. Harper flew out and then Hargrave hit down to Adams, who, with an easy peg for the third out before him, threw wild to first and Roush scored and Hargrave made second. Pinelli walked and Fonseca drove Hargrave home with a single to knot the count.

The Cubs threatened again in the eighth with one of those hitless rallies, but again Friberg popped out to end the inning. Statz opened with a smash to Caveney and the Red shortstop fumbled long enough to let Statz race over first. Adams sacrificed, but Grantham flew out. Then Grimes drew a pass, but Friberg couldn't produce.

"Ump" Miscalls One.

Came the ninth and the winning Cincinnati run. Harper sliced a single past Friberg to start the activities. Hargrave singled to right center and Harper chased to third. Friberg whipped out Pinelli, holding Tarper at third, and Hargrave went to second, and then Jacobs intentionally passed Fonseca to pave the way for a double play. Caveney had two balls called when Jacobs cut the center of the plate with a fast ball, but "Ump" Sweeney called it a ball.

In rushed Jake, and he howled long and loud. Capt. Grimes and Hartnett also joined in the howling, but Sweeney turned his back and then, at a great display of energy, wagged his finger in the faces of the Cubs and threatened banishment for the trio. The next pitch was wide and Caveney walked, forcing Harper over with the winning marker.

TOUGH LUCK, JAKE!

Although the Purple cracked the ball harder and oftener than the Hoosiers, and Doc Bengsten hurled a bit smarter game than did Charlie Rust, the Purple infield played a listless game, and in the third stanza two bungled balls around second base paved the way to a four run lead which cinched the Hoosier victory. MICHIGAN WINS AGAIN

Minneapolis, Minn., May 5.—Loose fielding by Minnesota, plus a timely home run by Blott, gave Michigan the opening contest of a two game series of Western conference baseball with the Gophers here today. The score was 7 to 3. The victory leaves the Wolverines and Illinois tied for first place in the Big Ten standing.

The Michigan catcher's four ply clout in the third brought in two runs, giving the visitors a lead to which they added three more before the game was over, chiefly on errors by the locals. Tucker, pitching for Minnesota, was hit only five times, but he issued seven bases on balls. The teams meet again tomorrow. Score:

BLUE GRASS RACE TO THIN FIELD OF DERBY STARTERS

ST. JAMES MAY NOT RUN

NEW YORK, May 5.—St. James, George D. Widener's crack 3 year old colt, which conquered Zev in the Kansas star's 4 year old debut in the Paumonok handicap at Jamaica a week ago, may not go to the barrier in the Kentucky Lerby, it was learned today.

St. James has ranked with Wise Counsellor and Sarazen as a favorite for the Kentucky classic, but Mr. Widener is said to be disinclined to start him.

The colt has been pointed for the $50,000 Preakness at Pimlico next Monday, and his showing in that race is expected to determine whether he will be shipped to Churchill Downs.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Lexington, Ky., May 5.—[Special.]—Try as one may, he cannot figure the Golden Derby of a week from next Saturday afternoon as anything but an open race. At least this is so until after the Preakness is run in Maryland next Monday.

The Blue Grass stakes here Wednesday may serve to eliminate two or three Kentucky hopes. But, more than anything else, it will cause its winner to stand out with the Preakness victor as a joint Derby favorite.

With the Derby now less than two weeks away, and most of Kentucky trying to determine which of the 150 eligibles will be starters, there are still more than thirty candidates that stand out today as ones that may answer the call on Derby afternoon.

Most of Favorites from East.

Out of this lot twenty are members of the army of eastern stars that will come west seeking the rich prize. The others are from the west and, for the most part, from Kentucky.

It developed here today that Happy Top, a son of the imported Jusqu au Bout and Zelda, is likely to be a Derby starter. He is owned by Woodford and Steele of Lexington, and made the first start of his racing career in the three-quarters mile Paris purse here this afternoon. He ran a fairly good race, finishing second to Delectable. The race was run in the slow time of 1:13 4-5.

Happy Top has been overlooked entirely in the winter book speculation and will be a genuine "sleeper" if he should come to life on Derby day.

There may be others of this kind both east and west whose owners will be willing to pay the $500 starting fee for the right to associate in Derby company.

Dark Horse from the Coast.

Figuring the unknown Happy Top as a possible starter, the rest of the west's representation at this stage seems to consist of Wise Counsellor, Beau Butler, Black Gold, Bourbon Boy, Graeme, Chilhowee, Altawood, Col. Gilmore, Glide or Sanola, and the Pacific coast's dark horse, Cannon Shot, whose owner has said will be a sure starter.

This western band, except for Wise Counsellor and Beau Butler, hardly carries the class that goes with the colts from the east. The easterners that can still be figured as possible starters are Mad Play, Sarazen, St. James, Senator Norris, Ordinance, Revenue Agent, Spic and Span, Nautical, Modest, Apprehension, Faenza, Diogenes, Whiskalong, Transmute, Dazzler, The Vintner, Bracadale, and Tester or Finn Lag.

Block's Horse a Possibility.

The sectional Derby rivalry has never been as great as this year. Kentucky naturally cherishes the hope of keeping most of the golden trophies on native soil. And the east has seldom possessed such a prize lot of 3 year olds.

Peter Maloney, owned by Benjamin Block, may be added to the eastern division as a result of an impressive mile he worked here this morning in 1:40 1-5. The fractional time was :24 2-5, :49 1-5, 1:15 2-5, and 1:40 1-5. A light boy was up.

Thorndale's failure in the east likely means that Peter Maloney will be the long horse under the Block silks. He is being trained here by J. C. Milam.

Another band of Derby eligibles clashed in the fourth race today. J. N. Camden's Dudley won it in the not very impressive time of 1:13. Infinite was second and Corinth third. Neither can hardly be regarded as a possible Derby starter.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 5.—[Special.]—"Yes, we have five more miles of pavement."

Believe it or not, this is the very sign that is the clarion boast of a sovereign state, decorating the Lincoln highway in Iowa, where the new concrete ends west of De Witt.

Yes, sir, and the Lincoln highway through Iowa is 384.6 miles long, and thousands of tourists from every state in the Union have used it every year, and Iowa is one of the wealthiest commonwealths in the west, with more automobiles per capita than any other of the middle western states, and all—but what's the use?

Iowa as a whole still believes in dirt roads passable one short season in the year, draped in a six inch veil of dust when dry and a six inch blanket of mud when wet. Otherwise it is an ideal state to tour in.

Business men of the state foresee the logical conclusion of the patchwork construction policy, which leaves Iowa counties to build the through routes with private bond issues, puts an almost prohibitive tax on automobiles and funds of all the tourist attractions, and nullifies its own advantages in what should be one of the most delightful sections of America for the motor traveler.

They know that Missouri is spending $60,000,000 on a splendid system of through state pavements; that Minnesota is driving ahead with a big pavement program to supersede its generally good gravel roads; and they can see the endless stream of tourists—a golden stream for any merchant—detouring the state in their transcontinental jaunts.

We have found the Iowans combining with good roads associations everywhere in urging a real waterproof state building program, and the pavement plan may be put over this year; not, however, in time to aid the summer tourist, for the roads this season will continue to be alternate stretches of gravel, concrete, and dirt, ranging from fair to rough, and impassable after heavy rains.

GOERIE LEADS 'Y' COLLEGE TANK TEAM TO VICTORY

Rod Goerie of Chicago "Y" college, with three firsts was largely responsible for his swimming team's fifth straight victory last night, when the "Y" mermen defeated Armour Tech, 43 to 25. He copped the 100 and 220 yard free style events, and the 60 yard backstroke. Davenport of the same team was second high point man with 11.

C.'s ten mile handicap run and three mile novice chase have been printed, and may be obtained from the club at 4520 West Grand avenue, or from the Alfred Johnson Skate company. DIRT TRACK RIVALS CLASH HERE SUNDAY

Rivalry of several years standing came to light yesterday with the entry of Paul [Pop] Clancy for the dirt track auto race at Hawthorne Sunday. Clancy holds two world records in dirt track racing.

For several years disputes have arisen in regard to the comparative merits of Cliff Woodbury and Clancy on a one-mile dirt track in a twenty-five mile race. These rivals will now meet at Hawthorne and the dispute may be decided.

Records Not New to Clancy.

Clancy last year set two world marks at various distances and Woodbury is considered by many of the mechanics and others connected with the racing game to be the most consistent driver on dirt tracks in the United States.

Clancy will drive a Betz Special with an airplane motor. This car has been revamped since George Beck broke the Hawthorne record in it last fall in the time trials. DePalma held the record until it was smashed by Cliff Woodbury. Beck clipped a few seconds off Woodbury's record.

Girl to Hop from Airplane.

Clancy will drive for Lillian Boyer, aerial acrobat, who will make the change from the Betz Special to an airplane going 70 miles an hour.

The aerial performance will occur between the third and fourth races.

84 YEAR OLD SHOTGUN STAR PASSES AWAY

John J. Kleinman, for many years one of the famous trapshooters of the country, died yesterday at noon at his Fulton street residence. He was one of five brothers, who started their careers by shooting ducks around the South Chicago marshes. Later he and his brothers were prominent in trapshooting tournaments. John was 84 years of age, and is survived by Abraham and George. Henry and William, the other brothers, are dead.

ILLINOIS STARS SEE BONESETTER

Urbana, Ill., May 5.—Dean Brownell, University of Illinois pole vaulter, who holds the American intercollegiate outdoor and world's indoor records in the vault, went to Youngstown, O., today to consult "Bonesetter" Reese about the injury to his shoulder, which has kept him out of competition since Illinois' victory over the University of California at Berkeley three weeks ago. With Brownell was Art Rehm, low hurdler, who injured a knee in practice for the western meet.

CHICAGO PREP MEET MAY 31

Preliminary events in the Chicago public high school annual outdoor track and field meet will be held at Ogden park May 31, according to announcement of officials of the meet yesterday. The finals will be staged at the same park on June 7.

SCHJOLL, MINNESOTA JAVELIN STAR, GETS OFFER FROM I. A. C.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 5.—Carl Schjoll, star pavelin thrower of the University of Minnesota track team, whose brilliant performances in the spear hurling event has been an outstanding feature of the track season, has been made an offer to compete for the Illinois Athletic club after graduation, it was learned today.

Schjoll's heave of 196 feet at the Drake relays, in which he beat out Angier, the Illinois star, who holds the national record, attracted the attention of Johnnie Behr, I. A. C. track coach, who made the prediction that Schjoll is capable of throwing the spear well over the 200 foot mark.

Since his record breaking throws Schjoll has been talked of as an Olympic possibility, and the offer also intimated that the I. A. C. would sponsor his efforts to land a place on the Olympic team, trials for which will be held in May and June.

Karl Anderson, former Gopher track captain, and John Faricy, swimmer, are two Minnesota athletic products now competing for the I. A. C.

CHATT EXCEEDS WORLD RECORD FOR LONG CAST

The Illinois Casting club in Washington park opened its season in a two day program with George Chatt breaking the club record in the one-half ounce distance bait event, with an average cast of 249 4-5 feet. Chatt also broke the world's record with a single long cast of 291 feet. No remarkable work was done, due mostly to poor weather conditions, such as strong and exceedingly erratic winds, with a decidedly frigid temperature. Scores for the three highest in each event:

Half ounce distance bait—G. Chatt, 249 4-5 average, 291 ft. long cast; W. Stanley, 202 3-5 average, 289 ft. long cast; G. A. Cook, 199 4-5, 214 ft. long cast.

Half ounce accuracy bait—W. A. Eberman, 99.5 per cent; H. Chatt, 99.2; C. H. Bornholt, 99; W. Stanley, 99.

5⅝ accuracy fly—H. Chatt, 99 9-15 average; C. Bornholt, 99 8-15; W. Stanley, 99 7-15.

Half ounce accuracy bait—H. Chatt, 99.2 per cent; George Chatt, 99.1; W. Stanley, 99.8.

⅝ ounce accuracy plug—W. Stanley, 99.5 per cent; George Chatt, 99.4; H. B. Eberman, 99.4; F. Stois, 99.4; C. H. Bornholt, 99.3.

5⅝ ounce accuracy, dry fly—C. Kleinfeldt, 99 7-15 average; G. Chatt, 99 6-15; William McCandless, 99 2-15.

LONDON, May 5. — Fred Dent of Chicago returned to America today, accompanied by England's first prize hackney pony Howland Zorna, which he bought at the Doncaster horse show.

YANKS' OLYMPIC BOSS TURNS DOWN REFEREE

PARIS, May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—Samuel Goodman, manager of the United States Olympic Rugby football team, has refused to accept Admiral Percy Royds of the British navy as referee of the France-United States Olympic Rugby match on May 18.

In place of Admiral Royds he has proposed the names of John Jeffries of England, who refereed the matches at Antwerp in 1920, and James Wyle of the Welsh Rugby union.

Admiral Royds has been chosen by Alan H. Muhr, American international secretary, the French Olympic committee, and Acting Manager Austin of the American team, before Goodman's arrival in Paris and subject to the latter's approval.

Mr. Goodman said he desired to obtain an official who would be generous in his interpretation of the rules and would not call penalties unless violations were flagrant and willful, as the Americans were not acquainted with the fine points of the European rules.

The American team practiced for two hours this afternoon. The players appeared in splendid physical form, but lacked the finesse displayed by the French team against Roumania yesterday.

HO, HUM! THAT CHEERING IS FROM CHECKER MEET

New York, May 5.—Alfred Jordan of Kansas City won his match from Mike Leiber of Toledo in the second prize round of the national checker tournament today. H. O. Newcomb of Middfield, O., defeated S. Gonotsky of Brooklyn.

In other second round prize matches S. S. Bell of Boston won from Ray Gould of Lewiston, Me., and W. A. Roberts of Philadelphia lost to H. G. Reynolds of Philadelphia. Lewis Ginsberg of Brooklyn drew with John F. Horr of Buffalo and E. C. Waterhouse of Boston drew with L. M. Lewis of Indianapolis.

In the afternoon the Chicagoan took a 48 innings victory, 50 to 33, while this evening Copulos came out on top, 50 to 43, in 57 frames. Kieckhefer's afternoon run was 10 and in the evening his cluster of six was again high.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 5.—[Special.]—Clarence Jackson won both National Three Cushion league games from Hugh Heal of Toledo here today, taking the first, 50 to 43, and the second, 50 to 27. Both games ended in 46 innings.

CASTER BREAKS WORLD RECORD IN TOURNAMENT

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—Fred C. Berger of the Long Island Casting club is today being acclaimed as the world's champion caster.

In the tournament of the Dover Fishing club in Fairmount park yesterday he heaved his four ounce sinker 495 4-10 feet by steel tape measurement, breaking the former record of 462 3-10 feet held by Harold Lentz of Philadelphia.

A surveyor is to determine the precise distance for the record book, as part of the course had a slight downward pitch. The record will be accepted, it was stated, as the tournament was sanctioned by the Surf Anglers' association.

U. OF P. ALUMNI BOARD TAKES UP TILDEN'S CASE

Philadelphia, Pa., May 5.—The general alumni board of the University of Pennsylvania, it became known today, has adopted a resolution expressing the sense of the board that it would be well for the University of Pennsylvania Athletic council to "express the hope to the United States Lawn Tennis association that it will reconsider its action in regard to the player-writer rule with reference to William T. Tilden."

Tilden is an alumnus of the University of Pennsylvania, and the athletic council is a member of the Lawn Tennis association.

PURPLE GATHERS 12-8 GOLF WIN OVER WISCONSIN

HOLE-IN-ONE CLUB

MOLINE, Ill., May 5.—Herman W. Nelson of this city showed the Rock Island golfers some expert gunnery when he holed his tee shot at the fourteenth hole of the Rock Island course. The distance is 135 yards. He was playing with G. S. Shalberg, Rufus Walker, and Harry Ainsworth.

Northwestern opened its Big Ten golf season auspiciously yesterday, defeating Wisconsin, 12 to 8, at Westmoreland Country club. The Purple quartet won the single matches in the morning, 6 to 4, and took the doubles in the afternoon by a similar count. A strong westerly breeze militated against low scores, the course being fully five shots harder than normally.

Dick Skaer of Northwestern had the best individual card of the day, getting an 81 in the afternoon. Par for the course is 73. His card was as follows:

OUT ....455 347 445—41
In ....554 536 444—40—81

H. A. Spear of Wisconsin, a son of Harry Spear, the La Grange veteran, had an 82 in the morning and an 83 in the afternoon. Don Heppes of Northwestern had 83 in the morning. Summary:

PRESS ON THE LINKS

John Connell of the Herald and Examiner yesterday led members of the Press Golf club in the opening tournament at Westmoreland with a score of 46—43—89, topping the field by several strokes over the heavy and difficult links. Arthur T. Packard of the Post, not relishing the sirrocco that swept the course as the temperature rose rapidly from 50 to 85, was second with 47—53—100, one stroke better than Charles Slattery of the Herald and Examiner.

O. G. Lundberg of THE TRIBUNE was fourth with 102, while Fred A. Smith of the Herald and Examiner and Basil G. Wyrick of the Associated Press tied for fifth gross at 104, two strokes ahead of E. Heitkamp of the American.

Don Chamberlain of THE TRIBUNE, more persistent than experienced, won the tail-end prize with 89—98—187.

The Chicago Musicians' Golf club will open its competitive season today with a handicap at the Green Valley club at Wheaton.

Sunday will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Jackson park golf course.

Members of the Maroon golf team practiced yesterday at Olympia Fields, Kenneth Hisert leading with rounds of 84 and 83 over the No. 2 course. Windett had 87 and 83.

MAY IS BROADCASTING MONTH IN BIRDLAND.

HAVE you taken a hike through the country lately? There's music in the air these days, as the birds are tuning in with their spring songs, so a stroll through woods and fields is a cheerful stunt to perform.

It sure did listen like spring the other morning when we were rambling along Lake Michigan near the village of Lake Bluff, Ill. It seemed as if all the songbirds in the country were trying to outdo each other in a singing contest. Close at hand we noticed that handsome entertainer, the brown thrasher.

How this bird can sing! We can still remember one day last spring when one of them perched in a tree in Jackson park and attracted bird fans from far and wide by his entertainment.

The wrens are filling the air with their bubbling songs as they jerk about inspecting nesting sites. They're a ciritical although happy bunch when flat hunting. However, we do wish that a couple of 'em would quit fussin' around and either take one of our nesting boxes or once and for all refuse it. The suspense is getting to be quite a strain, as they fly back and forth, first looking over our type of wren apartment and then into our neighbor's yard to inspect his style.

Now is the time to get outdoors if you want to get acquainted with and hear the spring songs of many kinds of birds. They're tellin' the world how glad they are that Miss Spring is here.

Sharply higher prices featured the general cattle trade yesterday, twenty-four head of 1510 lb. steers selling to a Boston firm at $12.50, being 50c above last week's top for the same class and within 10c of high point of the year. Most of the desirable beef steers sold 15@25c above last week's close at $10.00@12.00. Some 1221 lb. long yearling reached $12.00. Better grades of butcher stock ruled strong to 15c higher. Calves and feeding steers steady to strong. Receipts at 18,000 were short of expectations.

The expected happened in the hog trade. Receipts totaled 58,000 and prices declined 5@10c. After a weak start, however, the market strengthened with part of the decline recovered. Quality improved materially, compared with late last week. Good to choice 260@300 lb butchers, mostly from Iowa, were plentiful and competition for this class brisk, with big packers in the trade earlier than usual. Both packers and shippers paid up to $7.55, being within 5c of Saturday. The top stood 15c higher and likewise the average, at $7.40, that much above a week ago. Comparatively few hogs sold below $7.25, offerings being more uniform than usual. Few of the 13,000 estimated left over were in first hands.

Sheep Receipts Larger.

Sheep receipts at 21,000, including 9,700 direct, were largest since March 10 and second largest since January, showing an increase of 5,000 compared with the previous Monday. Although more than 45 per cent of the day's arrivals were forwarded to packers from outside markets, eastern order buyers met brisk local competition, resulting in an early clearance at steady to strong prices.

Top wool lambs reached $17.00, with shorn at $15.25. Stock without fleece comprised practically 60 per cent of offerings on sale. Aged sheep were scarce at little change in value. Good wool ewes sold at $8.50 and shorn at $7.75. Choice fall shorn wethers stopped at $9.50.

Seven western markets received 55,000 cattle, 142,000 hogs, and 40,000 sheep, against 62,000 cattle, 125,000 hogs, and 54,000 sheep the previous Monday, and 51,000 cattle, 155,000 hogs, and 42,000 sheep a year ago.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs, and 12,000 sheep, against 10,768 cattle, 32,300 hogs, and 12,782 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a yea rago.

United Power & Light (of Kansas).

L. A. R.—The United Power and Light corporation (of Kansas) is issuing $1,350,000 first mortgage twenty year 6 per cent bonds, series A. On completion of this financing the company will own and operate long established electric power and light properties in central Kansas, serving without competition 128 cities and towns, the estimated population served being over 130,000. Including the present bond issue, there are $4,600,000 first mortgage 6s now outstanding. These are secured by a first mortgage on the entire property, subject to the lien of $2,755,600 underlying closed mortgage bonds which are secured on recently acquired properties. Net earnings for the year ended Feb. 29, 1924, were $928,384, or over 2.2 times the annual interest requirements on the company's entire mortgage debt of $7,355,600. The company's property represents an investment largely in excess of its total bonded debt. These first mortgage bonds are followed by $1,750,000 debentures, $3,734,700 preferred stock, and $2,440,550 common stock. These bonds are a sound investment.

Libby, McNeill & Libby.

W. J. C.—Libby, McNeill & Libby reported improvement in earnings for the year ended March 1, 1924, over those for the previous fiscal year. Earnings were at the rate of $5.26 a share on its $18,000,000 preferred stock, compared with $1.01 a share on the preferred in the previous year. These earnings were added to surplus. The profit and loss surplus on March 1, 1924, stood at $2,017,170, compared with $1,069,401 on March 3, 1923. Net tangible assets on March 1, 1924, applicable to the 675,00 shares of $10 par value common stock, after allowing for about 11 2-3 per cent accumulated unpaid preferred dividends, amounted to about $5,951,786, or $8.82 per share. The common stock is a speculation. We cannot predict the future business or the course of the market for its stock.

BASES SURVEY OF INDUSTRY ON MATHEMATICS

BY SCRUTATOR.

Mr. L. Kotany of Washington university, St. Louis, has developed an ingenious mathematical analysis of industries and public services, according to which it is possible to determine by simple arithmetic whether any industry should be committed to private or public operation.

His mathematical survey, as given in a paper published in the American Economic Review, lands him exactly where common sense and historical experience had previously arrived, but his paper affords a sound theoretical basis, which would clear away much of the prevailing confusion as to the border line of public and private enterprise if it were widely read.

The "operating ratios" of industries and services are the tool with which Mr. Kotany works.

All industries which have an "operating ratio" of more than 62 per cent of the price of the goods or services delivered should be retained in private enterprise, he concludes. All with operating ratios less than 45 ought to be socialized, and those in the intermediate zone are natural subjects for legal limitation of profits, he concludes.

Mr. Kotany's analysis, too extensive for this space, assumes $1,000,000 capital, fixed and liquid, invested in enterprises of varying operating ratios, which is to earn 12 per cent, or $120,000, in every case.

He then traces the relations, under such conditions, of the operating ratios to the number of cents per dollar of sales to give the assumed profit, the volume of sales, the cost of the goods or services, the maximum and minimum fixed assets required, and the ratio of profit to cost.

Operating ratios for various enterprises he gives as follows: Packing, 98; sugar refining, 97; farming, some wholesaling, and much manufacturing, 85 to 95; railroads, 70; Washington university, 50; city government, 44; waterworks, 30; public library, 23; streets, 22; art museum, 15; sewers, 6.

The earning ratio is the larger as the operating ratio decreases—for instance, it takes 2 cents profit of every $1 of sales to give a profit of $120,000 on $1,000,000 invested in packing, but if the capital invested in the streets of St. Louis were required to return a normal profit it would take 78 cents of every dollar of the general taxes.

The volume of sales is smaller as the operating ratio decreases, and it decreases more rapidly.

While the profit, $120,000, is the same for every $1,000,000 of capital, expressed as a per cent of the cost of the goods or services sold it is not the same. The burden of profit increases with the decrease in the operating ratio. But it is in precisely such things as sewage, where profit would be many hundreds of per cent of cost of operations, that society must encourage consumption and has no resource but to abolish profit and rely on taxes.

In industries where the operating ratio is high little or no decrease in price can be obtained by abolishing profit—in fact, there is a point at which the abolition of profit would increase the price of the goods and services.

Mr. Kotany finds this point to be the operating ratio of 62 per cent.

From analysis of St. Louis public services, publicly operated, he finds that the inevitable loss from "socialization" of any activity, due to the loss of the competitive compulsion upon the human element of the problem, is 60 per cent of the cost of the product, and, therefore, a reduction of the sales price can only take place through eliminating profit, when profit, measured as a percentage of the cost, is more than 60 per cent of the cost.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1924: Fairchild News Service.]

NEW YORK.—Trading in the gray goods market was light, with little interest expressed by any buyers. There were no changes in prices.

NEW YORK.—There was a strong inquiry in the burlap market, but the actual trading was much lighter, due to the fact that buyers were demanding price concessions, while holders refused to do any shading. Spot 8s were offered at 5.65 to 5.75 cents and 10½s at 7½ to 7.55 cents without stirring any buying activity. Holders asked the same prices for goods 30 days away. Calcutta was reported unchanged at 5.55 for 8s and 7.35 for 10½s, May-June shipments.

The semi-annual moving fever is with us again. Within the next few days hundreds of families will find new homes. The Tribune offers you the opportunity to tell most of these people about your apartment through a single medium, and therefore at comparatively low cost.

Mrs. J. R. Carleton, 5712 Race Ave., used this Want Ad twice:

SHE SAID LATER: "I rented the apartment the first day I advertised it. The people changed their minds, however, and left the apartment on my hands again. I used a Tribune Want Ad again, and this time, too, I rented the first day I advertised. I had about forty answers."

Such results do not come twice in succession as the result of luck. Only the medium recognized as the leader in Want Advertising can produce such a response to offers carried in its columns. You will benefit by using the same medium.

COSTS OF LIVING SHOW DECREASE FOR THIRD MONTH

BY O. A. MATHER.

The common enemy, old "High Cost of Living," is on the retreat. Commodity prices show a gradual decline for the third consecutive month, according to the monthly "index numbers." The average now stands at the lowest level since November, 1922, and is 53 per cent above the pre-war level of 1913.

But the decline in prices has been moderate. Dun's "index" shows a fall of 1½ per cent in April and of 4 per cent since May 1, 1923. Bradstreet's "index" makes last month's decline less than 1 per cent. Both indices show the April decline was only about half as large as that of March. The current decline occurred principally in manufactured commodities. Fisher's "index" puts the present average at about 45 per cent above pre-war level.

Supports Old Demand Law.

The decline in prices would appear to support again the law of supply and demand and to nullify the "inflation" theories of some economists. Industrial production has expanded in the last year, while business has slackened of late. Credit rates have eased, bank reserves have risen, and gold imports in the last year have totaled $350,000,000.

On this basis, the "quantity theorist" would argue that commodity prices must rise. But the practical business man would reply that prices cannot advance when consumers are not bidding and competition is keen among sellers, while easier money rates under such circumstances are quite as likely to influence merchants and manufacturers to reduce prices as to advance them. Further reductions in prices of sugar and lead occurred yesterday.

Weather Important Factor.

What sort of weather will prevail this summer means more than usual to the oil and automobile industries. Both have been handicapped by the inclement spring. Gasoline production set a new record in March with 743,248,232 gallons, an increase of 48,000,000 gallons over the previous top mark. Refinery stocks on April 1 totaled 1,571,404,667 gallons, also a high mark and an increase of 90,000,000 over March 1. Domestic sales for March were 462,020,385 gallons.

This situation, coupled with the fact that crude oil production is showing no decline, has led to some curtailment of refining and also in pipe line movement. But the trade optimists assert summer weather will boost consumption of gasoline to an extent that not only will exceed output but will deplete present storage stocks. Stocks have been drawn on for the last three weeks.

Slackening in Auto Industry.

Slackening in the automobile industry was confirmed by the reports for April made by two large factors. Preliminary figures of the General Motors corporation placed April sales at more than 57,000 units, compared with 73,756 in March, and 75,822 in April, 1923. It was, moreover, the smallest month's business yet this year. The Willys-Overland company produced about 20,000 cars in April, compared with 24,891 in March, and 18,648 in April last year.

BUSINESS WAITS NEW U. S. CREDO, BARNES ASSERTS

Cleveland, O., May 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—American business is faltering, awaiting a renewed expression of governmental policies, Julius H. Barnes of Duluth, Minn., president of the United States Chamber of Commerce and spokesman for three-quarters of a million affiliated members, said tonight in outlining the aims and ideals of the organization on the eve of the first general session of the twelfth annual convention.

At the preliminary session the national council, composed of representatives of some 1,300 affiliated commercial organizations, expressed almost unanimous opposition to the pending soldier bonus bill and approved the program for the general sessions, to begin tomorrow morning. Taxation, transportation, immigration, foreign trade as influenced by the Dawes report, and various problems of industry are scheduled for consideration in group meetings during the next four days.

Moir Tells of Plans to Enlarge Morrison

Plans to build two additions to the Morrison hotel, making it the largest Chicago hostelry, were told to the stockholders of the Moir Hotel company by President Harry C. Moir yesterday.

"The unit built first probably will be on Clark street," Mr. Moir stated. "Negotiations are on foot for financing this unit and if we are successful, construction will be under way before our next meeting. The second unit will be on Madison street."

Net earnings for 1923 were more than double those of 1922, being $294,262, compared with $110,383. The outstanding capitalization consists of $693,800 preferred and $5,554,650 common stock. Surplus is $111,957. Fixed assets and liabilities are $5,127,323 and $2,580,500, respectively. Current assets are $1,794,764 and current liabilities $693,022.

SUGAR MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 5.—SUGAR—Raw declined 1-16 cent with spot quotations at 5.90c duty paid. Sales included 7,000 bags Philippines in port and 15,000 bags of Cuban for second half May shipment all to local refiners. Raw futures were irregular. After declining 5@6 points on the active positions under scattered liquidation due to the decline in spot prices rallied. The close was net 3 points higher to 1 lower. Refined sugar also declined with fine granulated quoted from 7.60@7.70c. Refined futures were nominal. Raw sugar prices follow:

FINANCIAL NOTES

Publication of government statistics showing a large increase in gasoline stocks in April was followed by heavy selling of the oil shares. Atlantic Refining broke three points to 107¾ and losses of a point or so were made by Marland, Pan-American B, Cosden, Houston, Phillips Petroleum and Pacific, but all made good recovery from their low prices of the day.

◆

Heavy buying of Studebaker [old stock], which closed 1½ points higher at 85½, was attributed to be for the account of a trader long prominent in the motor industry. Further confirmation of a slackening in the motor industry was furnished by the preliminary report of General Motors April sales, which showed a substantial reduction below the same month of last year.

◆

Colorado Fuel was again active and strong, touching a new 1924 high at 42¾, but slipping back later to 40¾, where it was up 1½ points on the day. Reports were again circulated that the United States Steel corporation had acquired control of the western property. The head of the Steel corporation said there is no truth to the story, and added that the company was not looking to acquire any additional steel making properties. Davison Chemical closed nearly 3 points higher at 53 and Congoleum showed a net gain of 2¾ at 41¾.

◆

Bond trading activities slackened perceptibly, with prices drifting irregularly lower. Selling pressure was reapplied to the Wilson & Co. issues, reflecting continued uneasiness over the company's refinancing plans. New low prices for the year were established by all issues, the convertible 6s dropping 2 points to 51 and the 7½'s 1½ to 53¾. Rogers-Brown 7s broke 5 points to 70, and Virginia Carolina 7½'s, with warrants, dipped to a new minimum figure at 30½c. Liberty bonds were firm in quiet trading with the third 4¼'s reaching a new high price for the year at 100 22-32nds. French issues also gained moderately.

◆

Indications that leaders of the tobacco industry were working on the constructive side of the market were seen in the activity and strength of the tobacco shares. Schulte Retail Stores touched 106 and then dropped back to 104¼ up 3¾, and Tobacco Products closed about a point higher.

◆

Establishment of a new 1924 high at 48¾ by Pere Marquette in the face of official denials that any change in dividend was contemplated, revived rumors, previously denied, that Henry Ford was seeking control of the property. Atlantic Coast Line closed two points higher at 119 and Texas and Pacific moved up 1¼.

◆

Contrary price movements characterized the curb market. Prarie Oil and Gas broke six points to 219 and then rallied to 220. Ohio Oil closed nearly 1½ points lower at 63¾ and most of the other oil shares showed fractional recessions. A six point jump in Grand Stores followed publication of the favorable report for the first four months. Glen Alden Coal and Gillette Safety Razor each gained about two points, while Lehigh Power Securities, Universal Pipe and Radiator, United Bakeries and Commonwealth Power gained a point or so.

◆

New Cornelia company's copper output in April was 5,472,542 pounds, and Calumet and Arizona produced 3,330,000 pounds.

◆

Stockholders of the Penn Seaboard Steel corporation have authorized an increase of 300,000 shares of common stock to 1,500,000 shares of no-par value, the additional issue to be sold at the discretion of the directors. A reduction in the number of directors from fifteen to eleven also was authorized.

◆

An issue of $2,500,000 Gillican-Chipley company 7 per cent first mortgage and collateral trust gold bonds, due January, 1924, will be offered today at par by a syndicate composed of Caldwell & Co., S. S. Aagaard & Co., and Watson, Williams & Co.

◆

Since the Chesapeake & Ohio recently placed its order for several thousand cars and 100 locomotives, there has been a marked decline in the demand for steel, from the railroads. The largest outstanding inquiry for rolling stock is from Swift & Co. for 1,000 steel underframes.

Chicago stocks were generally dull in the week's opening session yesterday. There was some interest in Union Carbide which was strong at the opening on the strength of reports that the company had increased its bid for Muscle Shoals. It failed to hold all of the gain, closing with a net gain of ⅝. Stewart-Warner advanced ⅝ and Yellow Cab was up ⅝. Yellow Manufacturing was steady. Boone Woolen Mills gained ¼. On small sales, U. S. Gypsum declined 1⅝ and National Carbon preferred lost a point.

CONSIDERATION

The Lure of "Easy Money"

FOR the vast majority of people, getting rich quickly is impossible. But in spite of this fact almost everyone seems to cherish the secret hope of some day making a fortune through luck rather than hard work.

With chances overwhelmingly against them, people persist in this hope and in their costly ventures. Desire for easy money is strong, and man's inborn optimism feeds on stories of success, not of failure. Sunday supplements show pictures of the half dozen who become wealthy overnight in speculative enterprises; they do not mention the thousands whose worry and privation bring them nothing but bitter disappointment.

"But," asks the average man, "How can I get anywhere without taking chances? Is there any sure way to financial success?" Yes, there is,—through careful investment.

There is nothing spectacular about safe investment, but success is certain, provided the investor is persistent enough to carry out his plans over a reasonable length of time. It is sure because his funds are safeguarded at every turn; it is sure because safe investments can be depended upon to earn money every hour and every month and every year.

People who think sound investment too slow a process for them do not understand how it works. The power of money to multiply itself, when safely invested over a term of years, is one of the most surprising facts in the science of economics.

The magic of compound interest turns hundreds of dollars into thousands with amazing swiftness and without effort on the owner's part. This is really the "easy money" after all, and the only easy money it is possible for every one to share.

GRAINS HIGHER, BUT STAY WITHIN NARROW RANGE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

As long as the situation is clouded by legislative possibilities the grain markets are expected to continue to hold within relatively narrow limits and make a poor response to news developments. Wheat held within a range of ⅞@1c, showing a moderately firm undertone, especially for the May, which went to 2c under the July at the last, and closed ½c higher for the day, while the deferred deliveries were unchanged. Corn was ⅜c higher to ⅛c lower, oats unchanged to ⅛c higher, and rye ⅜c lower.

Foreign Statistics Bearish.

Liverpool wheat closed ½@⅝d lower on the world's exports of 19,413,000 bu or nearly 6,000,000 bu in excess of the previous week, while supplies on ocean passage gained 4,032,000 bu. Export demand at the seaboard was somewhat restricted with sales of 300,000 bu, largely Manitobas. Crop reports from the southwest remain favorable, while in the Canadian northwest there was rain or snow which will delay seeding. May here closed at $1.04@1.04⅛, July at $1.06⅜, and September at $1.07⅛.

May oats were easily influenced by any good buying or selling, and while declining ½c at one time, closed within a fraction of the top with the market showing a firm undertone. May closed at 46⅝c. Crop reports are favorable. A decrease of 1,093,000 bu in the visible brought the total down to 10,656,000 bu, against 20,540,000 bu last year.

Rye Lacks Support.

There was a noticeable lack of aggressive support in rye, and while messages from the seaboard held out hope of a much larger German demand there was no export business of consequence, and the undertone was heavy.

Provisions were dull and easier with trade mainly local. Lard closed 2½@5c and bellies 2½c lower, while ribs were unchanged to 2½c lower. Deliveries on May contracts were 400,000 lbs. lard. Prices follow:

Foreign demand was somewhat less active. There were 30,000 bu corn sold at the gulf at 13c over Chicago May, with small inquiries for additional lots in the market. Manitoba wheat premiums were somewhat firmer due to a slight advance in lake rates.

Charters were for 350,000 bu corn to Buffalo. Deliveries on May contracts aggregated 509,000 bu wheat, 15,000 bu corn, 93,000 bu oats and 56,000 bu rye.

Offerings of cash wheat at Chicago were only fair with the basis unchanged at 2@8c over May for No. 2 hard winter. Receipts, 54 cars. St. Louis was unchanged to 1c higher, with a better milling demand, while Kansas City was unchanged to 1c lower and Omaha unchanged to 1c higher.

NEWS OF THE CROPS

A decrease of 6.4 per cent in the spring wheat acreage in the three Canadian northwestern provinces is suggested by Murray's May report to Clement, Curtis & Co. Estimated acreage is 20,200,000, compared with 21,581,000 acres last year. Oats acreage is 9,322,000, an increase of 3.2 per cent, and rye 1,189,000 acres, a decrease of 8.8 per cent.

"From Columbus here lots of poor, thin, patchy wheat, but crop improves in this territory," wired George M. Le Count to Stein, Alstrin & Co., from Dayton, O. "Much of the crop is in splendid condition. The worst feature of this partly winter killed wheat is that plant lacks vitality and does not respond to growing conditions. Corn scarce."

Northwestern spring wheat seeding is practically completed, according to returns to C. E. Lewis & Co. of Minneapolis. Reports are generally favorable, but there is a noticeable lack of subsoil moisture all over the northwest, with the exception of sections of the Red river valley.

Winter wheat has an average stand of 90 per cent from Chillicothe to Columbus, O., according to Crop Expert Kinyon's report to Jackson Bros. & Co. from Wilmington, O. From Columbus to Washington Courthouse nearly all fields are spotted. Some fields are partially or entirely reseeded. A few poor fields left with stand of 10 to 40 per cent. Fields left average 70 per cent.

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

While the uncertainty exists as regards the action of congress on the numerous anti-exchange bills, there is no disposition on the part of grain interests to extend their lines, and the trades are closely evened up daily. Under such conditions a drastic change in prices in either direction might come unexpectedly. It is costly to the farmers and the grain trade alike.

Cash interests, who last week were the largest buyers of May and sellers of July wheat, were reversing their operations yesterday at 2⅝ to 2½c, there being a small profit in the trades.

With the taking over of the Capital National bank at St. Paul by stronger interests an element of uncertainty has been removed.

It is claimed by cash interests that corn is on a delivery basis. Purchases of No. 2 corn to arrive were made yesterday at prices permitting such operations.

There is nothing in the report of the Ladd investigators of the wheat decline last year to show there was any great excess of pressure from the short interest above normal. During part of the period the long interest predominated.

Contract stocks of wheat in public elevators in Chicago aggregate 4,547,000 bu, corn 1,626,000 bu and oats 2,014,000 bu. For the week wheat increased 115,000 bu, while corn decreased 203,000 bu and oats 8,000 bu.

"Possibility of credit to Germany of $5,000,000 by the International Acceptance bank being sanctioned and sponsored by the Federal reserve bank should stimulate a much better demand for grain, especially rye," said G. Walter Beaven of J. S. Bache & Co. "This, coupled with the decrease in wheat acreage abroad and increased consumptive demand, is the foundation for much higher prices later on."

It is estimated that on the basis of the private returns that the total winter and spring wheat acreage of the United States and Canada this season will be around 6,000,000 acres less than harvested last year.

Light receipts of wheat in the northwest, only 151 cars for two days, was called to the attention of the wheat trade by C. E. Lewis of Minneapolis. The flour trade is light, he says, but even so stocks at Minneapolis decreased 250,000 bu in two days.

Lamborn, Hutchings & Co. have opened their commission office for stocks, grains, coffee, cotton, and sugar at 231 South La Salle street. Clarence G. Troup is resident partner. Stanley Morrill is associated with them.

THE CHEMICAL NATIONAL BANK OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE

Mr. W. B. Gillican, President of the Gillican-Chipley Company, summarizes as follows his letter to the bankers:

Business: The Gillican-Chipley Company is by far the largest producer of turpentine and rosin in the world. These basic products are essential to a number of important industries. Turpentine is largely used in the manufacture of paints and varnishes, and rosin is an important component of soap, paper, varnish, waterproofing and roofing compositions, electrical insulation and many other products of wide usage.

The business of the Gillican-Chipley Company was founded in 1902 and the present corporation is a consolidation of the principal subsidiaries previously affiliated under the general direction of the Gillican-Chipley interests. The Company combines in its operations every step in the production and distribution of turpentine and rosin, from gathering crude gum to retail marketing of the finished products in every principal market in the world. An adequate supply of raw material for an indefinite period is assured by extensive turpentining rights throughout the Southern Pine Belt, including the largest tract of long leaf yellow pine now standing, containing 2,750,000,000 board feet, and is further strengthened by control of one of the largest existing plants for recovering turpentine and rosin by the distillation of resinous wood.

Security: These bonds are a direct obligation of the Gillican-Chipley Company, and are additionally secured by:

(a) Direct closed first mortgage on the entire property of the Gillican-Chipley Company, now owned or hereafter acquired, including land, buildings and machinery, having an appraised value after depreciation of $1,143,053
(b) Pledge (with Trustee) of the entire issue of first mortgage bonds of the Acme Products Company (a subsidiary), in the amount of 810,000
(c) Pledge (with Trustee) of all the stocks and partnership interests owned by the Company in subsidiaries—valued at 4,466,844
Total $6,419,897

The consolidated balance sheet of the Gillican-Chipley Company, as of September 30, 1923, after giving effect to the merger and to this financing, shows net tangible assets of $6,864,171, or $2,745 for each $1,000 bond.

Earnings: Consolidated net earnings (after Federal Taxes at present rates) for the six years ending December 31, 1923, averaged $530,752 annually, or over 3 times the interest requirements of this issue.

Sinking Fund: The indenture provides for an annual sinking fund, commencing January 1, 1927, to be applied to the purchase or redemption of these bonds, at not exceeding 103½ and accrued interest, which shall be equal to either of the following amounts, whichever is the greater: (a) $250,000 or (b) 75 per cent of the amount received by the Company from the Florida Industrial Company, a subsidiary.

The minimum operation of the sinking fund will retire nearly 70% of the issue prior to maturity.

On the basis of contracts already made for the sale of 1,750,000,000 feet of timber and the turpentine operations therefrom, it is estimated that the Gillican-Chipley Company will receive through its half ownership in the Florida Industrial Company a net cash income of $3,429,000 during the next ten years, or $929,000 in excess of the entire issue of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Gold Bonds.

Purpose of Issue: Proceeds from the sale of these bonds will be used to retire outstanding indebtedness of the Company and to provide additional working capital.

Stock Purchase Warrants: Each bond carries a stock purchase warrant entitling the holder to purchase from the Company at $25 per share, at any time within five years of issue date of bonds, twenty full-paid and non-assessable shares of the capital stock of the Company for every $1,000 bond, and ten shares for every $500 bond.

All legal matters pertaining to this issue are under the supervision of Spencer, Gidiere, Phelps and Dunbar, Attorneys, New Orleans, Louisiana, for the Company; and Dufour, Goldberg and Kammer, Attorneys, New Orleans, Louisiana, for the Bankers. Audits made by R. V. Whittaker & Company, New Orleans, Louisiana. Appraisals made by Sanderson & Porter, Chicago, Illinois.

Price 100 and accrued interest to yield 7%.

How to Start a Fortune With $1,000

A recent analysis of the customers list of S. W. Straus & Co. showed that a large proportion of wealthy investors, holding tens of thousand of dollars in bonds to their credit, started with a single investment of $1,000.

The important thing in building a fortune is to start. Invest $1,000 at the best interest rate you can get with safety, and the rest is not difficult. Every six months your interest coupons will bring in cash to add to your savings, and the second thousand will be piled up much more easily than the first.

Straus Bonds provide the ideal medium for persistent fortune-builders. They can be purchased in convenient amounts—$100, $500 and $1,000, and the small investor receives from this House the same courtesy and consideration as the man who invests tens of thousands.

And these bonds now pay 6½% interest—$65 a year on each $1,000 invested. This is a higher rate than can usually be obtained with real, proved safety such as Straus Bonds offer.

Invest your money now at this attractive interest rate, in long term bonds, and you will be receiving a good income in years to come, when interest rates are lower.

Today is the time to start. Put your $1,000 to work in safe Straus Bonds, and you will have taken the big first step that leads to success and fortune.

Our booklet, "42 Years Without Loss to Any Investor," tells why these bonds are the best and safest investment for fortune-builders. It will be sent free on request—no obligation. Write, telephone or call at our office today for

INERTIA OF LAST WEEK CONTINUES IN ALL MARKETS

The New York Times.

New York, May 5.—[Special.]—The spirit of apathy which descended on all the markets towards the close of last week was equally in evidence today. Foreign exchange rates were all but motionless; prices on the stock exchange swung idly within a narrow range. A decline in the cotton market was recovered before the close.

Such periods of speculative inertia are not uncommon in years when influences bearing on the markets were so far balanced as to occasion only a routine business by the general public. They invariably follow a spell of professional activity in which action and reaction have offset one another and created a stalemate for the speculative game.

All that need be said of the day's stock market is that a few scattered industrial shares were bid up by "floor traders" early in the day, while a few others were offered down; but that few even of these movements lasted long, and that the general list moved little all day. As a whole, the day's changes were wholly unimportant.

The total volume of sales aggregated 624,000 shares, a third of which was in seven separate stocks, including Baldwin, Colorado Fuel, Congoleum, Davison Chemical, Studebaker, Tobacco Products, and United States Steel. Those stocks which recorded gains of a point or more were specialties in which pools are believed to be interested in on the long side.

American Trust Company, Trustee.

The following information was furnished to us by Mr. David Tishman, President of the Pennsylvania Operating Corporation:

LOCATION

"The Pennsylvania Building, a twenty-two story office-loft building, is to be erected opposite the north entrance to the Long Island Railroad Station in the Pennsylvania Terminal in New York City. This Terminal, according to figures furnished by the New York City Transit Commission, serves a larger number of incoming and outgoing railroad passengers than the Grand Central Terminal. In addition to the Pennsylvania, Long Island, Baltimore and Ohio and Lehigh Valley Railroads using the Pennsylvania Terminal, this locality is served by the Seventh Avenue Subway, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Subway, Hudson Tubes, Sixth Avenue and Ninth Avenue Elevated Lines and Fifth Avenue busses. Collectively, these transportation facilities serve all the boroughs of Greater New York, Long Island, Hoboken and Jersey City; through the latter points the New Jersey transportation facilities terminating therein; and the passenger traffic entering the city from the west, south and north over the various railroad lines terminating in the Pennsylvania Terminal. The concentration and stability of the large and growing traffic in this district and in the Grand Central Terminal zone have caused the rapid development in recent years of these two districts and have created the increasing demand for central office space which this building will help to supply.

DESCRIPTION

The building will be of high grade design and construction and will occupy a plot of ground having a frontage of 154 feet on 34th Street and extending through to 35th Street with a frontage of 75 feet thereon. It will contain approximately 5,850,000 cubic feet, with floor space of approximately 400,000 square feet. The building will provide to an unusual extent the combination of large floor units, light and adequate transportation with consequent convenient accessibility to both employees and the public—all of major importance in the leasing of office space.

SECURITY

These bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a closed first mortgage on the fee simple title to the land and building. The appraised value of the land and completed building, based on the average of appraisals made by Messrs. Joseph P. Day, Inc., and Messrs. Fenimore C. Goode Company, Incorporated, is in excess of $6,250,000. The proceeds of these bonds are to be deposited with the Trustee, and advanced from time to time against the cost of the land and for construction of the building on certificates of construction, completed to specified stages, all as certified to the Trustee by Dwight P. Robinson & Company, Incorporated, representing the bankers. Julius Tishman & Sons, Inc., with a net worth, according to recent financial statements, in excess of averaged appraised value of land and completed building, will guarantee completion of the building according to plans and specifications and to secure such guarantee will deposit with the Trustee mortgages on improved New York City real estate, which mortgages have been appraised by Messrs. Brown, Wheelock: Harris, Vought & Co., Inc. as having a sound market value of $1,500,000. The New York Title and Mortgage Company is to insure title of the property, guaranteeing the mortgage to be a first lien.

EARNINGS

Annual net earnings from the completed building, available for interest on these bonds, have been estimated by Messrs. Brown, Wheelock: Harris, Vought & Co., Inc., and by Messrs. Fenimore C. Goode Company, Incorporated, rental agents, at more than $750,000, equal to over 3 times maximum annual interest charges on these bonds.

SINKING FUND

The mortgage securing these bonds will provide for an annual Sinking Fund, beginning May 1, 1926, sufficient to retire $1,500,000 bonds by maturity by purchase at or below the current redemption price or by call by lot at that price."

These bonds are offered if, as and when issued and accepted by us, subject to approval by our counsel of all legal details. Deliveries will be made on or about May 27, 1924, in the form of Dillon, Read & Co. Interim Receipts or Temporary Bonds of the company exchangeable for Definitive Bonds.
